CURTIS TRIAL PROSECUTION TIGHTENS NET

Motion by Defense for Mistrial Is Denied by Court.

NEW FACTS OF HUNT BARED IN TESTIMONY

Counsel for Shipbuilder to Plead His Good Faith in Negotiations Today.

Flemington, N. J., June 30 (A.P.).—With a stocky, booming-voiced policeman, Capt. John J. Lamb, on the stand most of the court day, the State hammered away today at John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk shipbuilder, on the fourth day of his trial for obstructing justice in the Lindbergh case.

Their case was nearly complete when court adjourned, and prosecution lawyers seemed certain they had built a tight case, whatever tack the defense might take.

Whether the jury should agree with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh—the prestige of this key witness is a conceded element in the outcome—that Curtis never had contact with the kidnapers of his infant son, or agree with other witnesses that he did have such contact, the State pointed out, it is all one.

All they must prove—have proved in their contention—is that police activities in the search for the kidnapers were hindered by Curtis' part in the tragedy, and that he led them astray with false statements.

Defense Is Hopeful.

But the defense was not downcast, despite defeat today of a hotly argued motion for withdrawal of a juror and declaration of a mistrial. They asked it because of the quoted statement of Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, jr., in a local paper that Curtis was "as good as convicted already."

The defense attack to begin tomorrow, as indicated sketchily by snatches of cross-examination of State witnesses, will rest on the contention that Curtis acted in good faith in his protracted "negotiations," that he was no more to blame for their failure than was Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, Bronx educator, avowedly trusted by Col. Lindbergh, for paying out $50,000 of the flier's money in futile ransom after the baby was already dead.

And the State police, they are expected to claim, expended efforts on "breaking down" Curtis to obtain a false hoax confession from him instead of following his clews in a search for the kidnapers.

Digs at the State police have been made repeatedly by defense lawyers in their questions. This afternoon acrid criticisms flamed out when lawyers were arguing about whether Capt. Lamb could be questioned on his testimony before the grand jury.

Flier Appears Aloof.

The audience missed no word of the two lengthy Curtis statements Capt. Lamb read loudly on the stand, a recital which brought out in new clarity the amazing extent of the alleged negotiations and their complicated details.

Now and then spectators strained forward at some hitherto unpublished scrap of information Curtis said the kidnapers had related to him about the slain baby.

Col. Lindbergh himself, seated at the prosecution counsel table, appeared gravely aloof from courtroom gasps or titters.

Once, Lamb read, Curtis had related he told the kidnapers Col. Lindbergh wanted more definite proof of their identity.

"To hell with the colonel," he said they replied. "We have his money."

Once Proud Los Angeles Shorn of All Apparatus

Lakehurst, N. J., June 30 (A.P.).—The Los Angeles, once proud training ship of countless fliers of the Navy, tonight rests in its old berth in the hanger, shorn of its engines, precious helium gas, even its name.

Capt. Harry E. Shoemaker, commandant of the naval training station, read the orders decommissioning the huge ship today, while its officers and crew stood at attention. The craft was decommissioned because of old age and economy.

7 Killed and 5 Injured In Ohio Railroad Crash

Hamilton, Ohio, June 30 (A.P.).—Seven persons were killed and five injured in a head-on collision of a fast electric passenger car and a heavily-loaded freight car of the Cincinnati & Lake Erie Railroad today.

The two cars met only 100 feet from a siding where they were supposed to pass near Trenton, three miles north of Hamilton. The freight car, southbound, crashed through to the middle of the lighter car, crushing the motorman and passengers.

Kidnapers Threaten To Slay Rich Youth

Death to Son of Minnesota Manufacturer Unless $35,000 Ransom Is Paid, Is Warning of Captors.

St. Paul, Minn., June 30 (A.P.).—The 20-year-old son of a wealthy manufacturer tonight was held by kidnapers who threatened death unless $35,000 ransom money was paid.

Seized as he left home for work in his father's refrigerator factory this morning, Haskell Bohn was abducted in an automobile by two men who threatened a chauffeur and then gave him a note to the youth's father.

The father, G. C. Bohn, said the note warned him not to notify police, "if you want to see your boy alive again." It also said: "Remember what happened in the Lindbergh case."

The youth had stepped into an alley from the garage at his parents' home here. Nearby a chauffeur, D. E. Meyers, 31, washed a car.

Meyers told police the men covered Bohn and him with pistols, bandaged the former's eyes, forced him into a nearby car and drove away.

The ransom note, scribbled in pencil on cheap paper, told the elder Bohn he would be communicated with tonight and directed him to have $35,000 on hand in currency of certain denominations. It also told him to drive one of his automobiles in carrying on negotiations. License numbers of this car were given.

Bohn said he knew of no motive except to extort money. Police attempted to identify the kidnapers through the handwriting and descriptions furnished by Meyers. The car used was stolen here yesterday, they said.

It was the third kidnaping here since September. Two men were seized last fall and later freed. Seven are serving prison terms for these crimes.

LONDON IS FRAMING TARIFF AGAINST ERIN

Retaliation for Failure to Pay Land Annuities Moves Up in Commons.

London, June 30 (A.P.).—Great Britain made ready today to raise a special $11,000,000 annual tariff barrier against the Irish Free State in retaliation for that dominion's failure to pay land annuities.

This was announced in the House of Commons today by Secretary J. H. Thomas for dominions, who told his hearers that the payment due today had not been remitted.

It was learned in parliamentary circles tonight that the rate of the proposed new duties on Irish goods would be made up to 100 per cent ad valorem.

Dublin dispatches carried an official Free State communique to the effect that the land annuities installment of more than $5,000,000 will not be paid in accordance with President Eamon de Valera's campaign pledge to keep the annuities in the Free State.

Land annuities of £3,000,000 are based on acts of parliament to facilitate the purchase of land by Irish tenants from their mostly English landlords. Stock was issued to cover the landlords and its interest was guaranteed by the British treasury. The Anglo-Irish treaty of 1921 included the point and in England is considered a basis for the Free State's liability.

The government will introduce on Monday a special measure styled "the Irish Free State special duties act" that will give England the right to collect new duties on Free State imports roughly in the amount of the annuities.

Dublin, June 30 (A.P.).—Although the British government's likely retaliation by higher duties against the Free State on account of the virtually certain default of land annuities is not altogether unexpected, it has caused consternation in some quarters in Dublin.

Hoover to Get Cowles Confirmation at Once

(Associated Press.)

To permit Gardner Cowles, sr., of Des Moines, Iowa, to begin his duties as a director of the Reconstruction Corporation without delay, the Senate yesterday agreed to notify President Hoover of his confirmation immediately, waiving the rule that two executive sessions must intervene.

DISEASE FEAR GRIPS BONUS ARMY AGAIN

Tests Being Made to Decide If Quarantine Must Be Imposed.

In the test tubes and under the microscope of John E. Noble, bacteriologist of the Health Department will rest the destiny of the Bonus Expeditionary Forces, the ranks of which are thought to have been gripped by its most dreaded enemy—communicable disease.

Within 48 hours, the thousands of veterans will know whether the ailment which has broken out among the men is epidemic dysentery, a highly contagious disease, which sanitary experts say would spread rapidly in the camps and perhaps cause imposition of quarantine.

What is thought to be whooping cough has broken out among the children quartered at Camp Bartlett. Two of the children of bonus army veterans, who have been stricken with an ailment bearing all the symptoms of whooping cough, have been isolated from the others while doctors are laboring to complete the diagnosis.

Vested with absolute domination of the bonus army, Walter W. Waters laid the groundwork of a national organization of World War veterans, to be militarily drilled and subject to call in any national emergency.

After a convention of the army, Waters announced, recruiting officers will be sent throughout the country to organize veterans groups in each town.

Drill for the 12,000 or more veterans will start at 8 a. m. today in the Anacostia camp, and Waters repeated his determination to make the men drill even if he has to enforce his edict through military police. His order arrived at the camps too late for drill yesterday.

Waters was vague as to what sort of a "national emergency" might bring a call to action. Primarily, he said, the veterans will continue their fight for the $2,400,000,000 bonus bill.

"These men would be subject to call, for use in maintaining law and

8 U. S. Departments Begin Fiscal Year Without Funds

4 Big Appropriation Bills Are Caught in Legislative Jam; Government Work Will Go On, However.

(Associated Press.)

Four big appropriation bills got caught in an unprecedented legislative jam in Congress yesterday with the result that eight Government departments will open the new fiscal year today without operating funds.

The eight departments that will open the new year penniless are State, Justice, Commerce, Labor, War, Treasury, Postoffice and Agriculture.

Chairman Jones, of the Senate appropriations committee, predicted that all of the measures except the War Department bill would be approved today. On that there is a hopeless deadlock over the House provision requiring the retirement of 2,600 officers.

All of the bills, except the War Department measure, were held up by minor conflicts between the House and Senate.

The appropriations for the State, Justice, Commerce and Labor Departments were delayed by a dispute over an appropriation for an air mail line from Minneapolis to Puget Sound.

Financial authorities said the departments would not be embarrassed seriously by a lack of funds until tomorrow, when it will be necessary for them to pay workers.

It was considered quite possible that the War Department bill would not be enacted even by then.

The Chief Executive completed action upon two financial bills, one, the economy measure, estimated to save $150,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

The $319,000,000 Navy Department supply bill also was signed.

HOOVER WARDS OFF RIGORS OF ECONOMY LAW

President Signs Measure and Saves Jobs for 2,391 Workers.

WHITE HOUSE JOINS FIGHT ON INJUSTICES

Bingham, Robinson Renew Efforts to Repeal Parts Imposing Hardships.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Fresh efforts to soften personnel "hardships" in the Federal economy bill were pledged yesterday at White House and Capitol.

Signed by the President, "with limited satisfaction," the measure today will become operative throughout the Government service.

Promise of administrative alleviation of some personnel burdens was forthcoming at once from Mr. Hoover, while Republican and Democratic leaders echoed his wish that Congress attempt to lighten the load.

President Softens Provisions.

After signing the bill the President issued five executive orders. They exempted 49 workers from forced retirement for age, temporarily extended the service of 39 others, continued in effect all sick leave provisions and placed in operation new travel-subsistence regulations.

The fifth order, granted temporary extensions to 2,300 employes of the postal service and three employes in the Treasury Department, "to afford time in which to appoint successors to the present incumbents of these positions."

At about the same time Senator Hiram Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, unsuccessfully attempted to repeal the section requiring dismissal of husband or wife, where both are in Government employ. Senator McNary (Republican), Oregon, blocked his motion. He will renew it before the close of the session.

President Hoover said he was not completely satisfied with the economy bill, first because it fell short of his hopes for economy, and second because it works "unnecessary hardships" on employes. His statement drew immediate reaction from Capitol Hill.

Cabinet Officers Assailed.

Senator Robinson (Arkansas), Democratic leader, directed his fire principally at Cabinet officers whose savings recommendations the President said Congress failed to accept.

"The important point is," he said, "that the President, his Cabinet and other officers under his control, are largely responsible for the results he says are disappointing."

He charged Cabinet members interfered with economy efforts by sending out propaganda against the bill, and declared Mr. Hoover had failed to respond to a Senate resolution asking him to make specific economy recommendations.

Statement by President.

He read the President's following reference to the bill: "It imposes unnecessary hardships on Government employes in minor matters of little consequence economically. Some of

Capital Attorney Gets Three Years

Harold W. Van Riper Is Sentenced in Alien Conspiracy.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Harold W. Van Riper, Washington, D. C., attorney, with offices in New York, today was sentenced to three years in the Atlanta Penitentiary on his plea of guilty two weeks ago to an indictment charging he aided aliens to obtain naturalization papers by fraudulent means, for subornation of perjury and for conspiracy.

Federal Judge John C. Knox imposed the three-year term on the first charge, elaborated in eight counts. He also was sentenced to two years, the sentence to run concurrently with the threg-year term, on the conspiracy count. A sentence of five years, suspended during good behavior, was pronounced on eight counts charging subornation of perjury.

Kreuger Got Large Loan Without Security

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Ivar Kreuger, Swedish financier, borrowed $15,000,000 from Lee, Higginson & Co. in 1930 without putting up security or furnishing a financial statement, Donald Durant, a partner in the firm, testified today.

Examined at a hearing before Special Master Henry K. Davis, on the appointment of a bankruptcy receiver for Kreuger & Toll, Mr. Durant said the loan was for six months, discounted in advance at 4 per cent, and has since been repaid.

DEMOCRATS ARE IN UPROAR AS BALLOTING DRAWS NEAR; PLATFORM WINS APPROVAL

Plea on Bonus Is Howled Down

DEPOSIT PLAN ALSO REFUSED

District Move for Representation Rejected

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Howling down in rapid order a succession of minority planks, including one favoring full cash payment of the soldiers' bonus, the Democratic national convention today completed approval of the party's 1932 platform.

Delegates, worn by the long debate over prohibition which culminated in an overwhelming vote for a party repeal commitment, were in no mood to see the majority program amended. Except for assenting to the addition of one brief declaration of interest in child welfare, they kept the platform as reported from committee intact.

With roaring shouts of dissent, the convention refused to write into the campaign document a plank proposed by William G. McAdoo to make safe against loss the deposits in Federal Reserve member bank, the "Scotch Bank" and bimetallism proposals of Gov. William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, and a declaration for congressional representation for the District of Columbia.

Roll Calls Demanded.

Roll calls were demanded on the bonus plank, also suggested by Murray, and on the McAdoo and several other proposals, but sufficient seconds were lacking and a chorus of "noes" swept them all to defeat.

A proposal for home rule for Hawaii and Alaska was not even put to a vote.

Representative Connery, of Massachusetts, ardent bonus advocate, demanded a division on the viva voce vote on this proposition, but Chairman Walsh announced the amendment rejected.

McAdoo's bank deposit plan stirred the only real argument. He and Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, both Secretaries of the Treasury under President Wilson, fought it out in oratory that at times sent deafening cheers throughout the huge stadium.

Glass and McAdoo Debate.

The Californian declared it was imperative that the party take a definite stand to protect by legislation "the safety of people who place their money in banks."

He said the "very foundations of our banking system" had been shaken by bank failures and irreparable losses to millions had resulted.

Glass, one of the authors of the Federal Reserve law, declared the plank inevitably would have been construed by the banking community as a guarantee of bank deposits "and that being so, it will create a spirit of unrest and distrust of the Democratic party."

"It will be termed dangerous to banking," Glass said, adding strong banks always had contended they should not be compelled to pay a premium to weaker ones.

Caroline O'Day, of Rye, N. Y., proposed the only amendment adopted. It said the Government should continuously concern itself with human welfare, "particularly the welfare of children."

Outlook Magazine Sold At Auction in New York

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—The Outlook and Independent Magazine, which went into bankruptcy, was sold at auction today for $12,500 to Frank A. Tichenor, publisher of the Aero Digest, Spur and other magazines.

He received the physical property of the publication, a subscription list of 200,000 readers and the name and good will. He said he would continue to publish it and would give preference to present employes in organizing a staff.

Borah Boomed to Lead Ticket of Dry Party

Kansas City, June 30 (A.P.).—Julius C. Hughes, presiding today at the Missouri convention of the Prohibition party, said efforts were being made to persuade Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, to become the party's presidential candidate.

"With Borah at the head of the ticket, the party could go down the line and make a great fight," said Hughes. The national convention of the party will be held in Indianapolis July 5 and 6.

Gov. Roosevelt to Fly To Parley if He Wins

Chicago Stadium, June 30 (A.P.). Definite information that Gov. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt plan to come here by airplane if he receives the Democratic presidential nomination was forthcoming today from close friends of the New Yorker.

The plan is for the governor to come before the convention to formally accept notification of his nomination. Details were not made public, but it was learned Roosevelt desires to make a personal appearance before the delegates not only to address them but to meet as many as possible.

Would Favor Vote on Liquor If Primary in Texas Indorses It.

(Associated Press.)

The coauthor of the eighteenth amendment, Senator Sheppard, of Texas, announced yesterday he would vote to submit a repeal amendment under certain conditions.

Sheppard's statement followed adoption by his party of a platform favoring repeal of the amendment he sponsored.

It came as some opponents of prohibition, encouraged by the Democratic stand, were organizing a drive for modification of the Volstead act to permit beer before Congress adjourns.

The Texas Democrat created a stir by his announcement, which was made in a formal statement handed to newspapermen.

Sheppard said he was opposed to repeal, recommended by his party, but would vote to submit a repeal amendment unless the Democratic primary in Texas next month should decide against it.

Sheppard's statement followed by only one day the suggestion from Senator Norris, of Nebraska, one of the leading drys on the Republican side, that the Volstead act should be modified.

The Texan announced, however, he would oppose modification of the enforcement law as long as the eighteenth amendment stands because it would be "either a direct violation of the Constitution or a destruction of enforcement."

"I shall vote for the submission of the question of repeal unless the referendum in the Democratic party primary in Texas on this subject in July results unfavorably to submission," Sheppard said.

"Another qualification, so far as my vote is concerned, is that the pendency of the amendment involving the question of repeal must be limited to a definite number of years as was the case with the eighteenth amendment.

"If the question of repeal is sub-

Boy Struck by Taxi Dies; Driver Is Held

Child of Former U.S. Clerk Killed in London Fall, Dies in Hospital.

Gene DeMaret, 8, died in Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon, a few hours after he had been struck by a taxicab near his home in Virginia Highlands. The cab was operated by Lemuel Northern, who lives a few blocks away. He was booked on a charge of reckless driving and released on bond of $2,000.

The child's mother, Mrs. Pearl L. DeMaret, was killed on March 5, 1930, when she fell six stories from a hotel window in London, where she was a stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson at the Arms Conference.

After Northern took the boy to the hospital he returned to Virginia Highlands and surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Mrs. Pauline A. Smith. On learning of the child's death, Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas said the charge would be changed to involuntary manslaughter. The boy lived with his father, Seth DeMaret.

CHIEFS OF OPPOSING FORCES ARE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Delegates Cheer Themselves Hoarse And Wild Demonstrations Follow Nominations.

Chicago Stadium, Friday, July 1 (A.P.).—Hour after hour of speechmaking, interrupted as often as any of the party spellbinders put in the name of one of the nine candidates for the presidential nomination, kept the Democratic convention in a wearisome session until the early hours of today—with the Roosevelt organization in command and determined to stay at it until balloting time is reached.

Rollicking demonstrations had reverberated in the afternoon session, when the names of the present New York governor and his predecessor at Albany, Alfred E. Smith, and that of Speaker John N. Garner were placed formally on the lists. At the night session were nominated former Gov. Harry F. Byrd, Melvin Traylor, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, and former Senator James A. Reed.

But the delegates were getting tired and impatient as midnight passed and responded with lesser volumes of enthusiasm as the candidates with not as much delegate strength as those leaders were put up.

Ready to Stay Till Breakfast.

James A. Farley, between busy conferences at this or that point on the restless floor and in the seclusion of a headquarters in the wings of the crowded stadium, declared the Roosevelt ranks were ready "to stay here to breakfast" if necessary to get the voting started.

Time and again speakers seconding the nomination of Roosevelt were interrupted momentarily by boos and catcalls from gallery sectors favoring Smith. And every time the taunts were answered by applause from Roosevelt sections of the floor.

Farley stuck by his prediction of a first ballot choice, saying he expected up to 700 votes on the call of the roll and switches before a final tally is made, to swing the balance over the 770 that is required to win.

Running Mate Speculation.

Speculation centered on the vice presidential nominee, in the event Roosevelt goes across, with Speaker Garner and Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland getting a lot of attention. It was all very intangible, however, and the political wiseacres weren't placing any bets.

When Ritchie's name was put in for the presidential nomination Marylanders did a good job at bringing the tiring delegates back to life in a postmidnight parade, after a succession of seconding speeches had gone along in an unexciting manner.

The Virginians and the delegation from Illinois led the way for fairly noisy marches to hail the praises of Harry F. Byrd and Malvin Traylor, too, but the freshness of the convention in the afternoon as compared with the early morning hours went a long way to make the hour ovation for Smith, the 43-minute tumult for Roosevelt and the 22-minute show led by California and Texas for Garner, the high spots of the session so far as enthusiasm was concerned.

Seconded by Moonan.

Ray Moonan, member of the Minnesota delegation, seconded the nomination of Alfred E. Smith last night, asserting he "is

ANTISALOON BACKING IS URGED FOR HOOVER

New York Leader Assails Wet Plank of Democrats; Sees President as Dry.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Fred A. Victor, superintendent of the New York Antisaloon League, announced today that in view of the Democratic repeal plank he would advise his organization to support President Hoover for reelection.

"Herbert Hoover's good enough for me," he said. "He was dry before and he hasn't said he's changed. As a matter of fact, the Republican platform is against nullification and calls for enforcing the law, while the issue is submitted to the people.

"As far as I am concerned, I don't favor any independent candidate for President, though the Antisaloon League would normally be affiliated with the prohibition party if it had a candidate in the field. I will advise my organization to spend their time, energy and money to elect a Congress favorable to retention of the amendment."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, took a different view of President Hoover's attitude toward prohibition, but declined to say what stand her organization would adopt.

She charged that the President had forsaken the prohibitionists in favoring the Republican resubmission

Bishop Cannon Sees Third Party Movement

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Bishop James Cannon, jr., who led a 1928 Southrn revolt against Alfred E. Smith, said today that if the Southern Democracy is not to be hopelessly disintegrated, "the moral forces of the South must find expression under another leadership which will not betray them as in 1928 and 1932."

Discussing the prohibition repeal plank adopted by the Democratic convention, the bishop said: "Representatives of a large majority of the people of the Nation who believe and insist that the eighteenth amendment remain unchanged willl shortly meet in conference and will determine what they consider to be the best method of procedure."

Drane and Yon Defeated For Congress in Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., June 30 (A.P.).—Complete returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary completed today gave J. Hardin Peterson, Lakeland attorney, majority of 281 votes over Representative Herbert J. Drane in their race for the nomination in the Third Congressional District. Peterson polled 37,498 votes and Drane 37,217.

In two other congressional districts, W. J. Sears defeated Mayor John T. Alsop, of Jacksonville, for the nomination from the State at large, and Millard Caldwell won over Representative Tom Yon in the Third District.

WILD PARADES FOLLOW NOMINATION SPEECHES

'ROOSEVELT IS MAN NEEDED,' SAYS MACK

Favored by Greatest Total of States in History of Party, He Asserts.

Chicago, June 29 (A.P.).—Nominating Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Presidency today, his old friend, John E. Mack, told the Democratic convention the New Yorker filled the "crying need for a practical American with a clear perspective and a knowledge of the entire Nation as our Chief Executive."

One of the most tumultuous outbursts of a vociferous convention came as Mack, the man who persuaded Roosevelt to run for his first public office more than twenty years ago, placed his name before the 1,154 delegates.

Mack said: "Roosevelt comes to this convention with the greatest number of States behind him in the history of the Democratic party: the North, the East, the South and the West—the great Central States of the Midwest unite.

Backed in up-State New York.

"He has captured the heretofore impregnable enemy stronghold of up-State New York, the territory which in all the history of the Democratic party never gave its gubernatorial candidate a majority."

"Why ths sudden change in the votes of up-State New York?" Mack asked. "It was brought about, in the first place, because he insisted on knowing his own State first. He knew every public institution and county in the State, every public institution and county in the State knew him. It was a repetition of his record as Assistant Secretary of the Navy when because of his characteristic thoroughness, he knew every port of this country and every port, likewise, knew him."

A marked characteristic of Roosevelt, Mack said, was his ability to get things done through knowing his subject.

He instanced his delving into the subject of marketing farm produce, which resulted in a measure that "protected the farm from rapacious and dishonest middlemen." He cited Roosevelt's success as a business executive and his record as Assistant Secretray of the Navy and as of Governor of New York.

Savings Are Pointed Out.

"He has put into effect more savings and brought about such efficient administration that the credit of the State of New York is on a higher basis than that of the Federal Government," Mack asserted.

"He has first hand information," Mack added, "of the demands and needs of every State in the Union because he has been in every one of them."

"Gentlemen of the convention," he said, "our party presents to the country no claim for immediate relief from all our present ills.

"We make no reiteration of the glowing but unfilled promises of our opposing candidates of four years ago nor present assurances of recovery within 24 hours from the depression which exists, but we do promise an earnest, sincere and determined effort under the leadership of a man whose courage is unquestioned and whose word is as good as gold to so conduct our United States by policies as to bring a recovery from the ills accentuated and increased by Republican uncertainty and instability."

Platform Won't Change Morrison's Rum Views

North Wilkesboro, N. C., June 30 (A.P.).—The repeal platform adopted by the Democratic national convention in Chicago will have effect neither on his political nor personal attitude toward prohibition, Senator Cameron Morrison, until recently Democratic national committeeman, indicated here tonight in a campaign address.

Morrison, ardent dry, is running in a second primary against Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville antiprohibitionist, for the Democratic senatorial nomination. The voting will be Saturday. Reynolds led by 15,000 votes in the five-cornered first primary.

mitted to the States I shall oppose repeal when my State takes up the matter of determining its attitude. While I shall vote to submit, I am opposed to repeal."

Senator Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, led the move for immediate modification of the Volstead act, announcing he would seek a vote on his 4 per cent beer bill, now on the Senate calendar, as soon as the Democrats return from Chicago.

He said he also would seek action on a resolution to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

The move for immediate modification was backed also by the Crusaders, antiprohibition organization.

Hailing what he called the cyclonic change of sentiment against prohibition, Rufus S. Lusk, legislative officer of the organization, issued a statement after conferring with members of Congress saying, "A beer bill should be passed before this session of Congress adjourns."

Congressional leaders scoffed at the idea of immediate action, however.

Not a Chance, Says Watson.

"There's not a chance this season," Senator Watson, Republican leader of the Senate, said. "We're going to the country on it in the campaign. Why should we legislate on it now?".

House leaders held no hope for another vote on prohibition on their side this session, unless some legislation were sent over from the Senate.

Representative Snell, Republican leader, said prohibition could not be submitted "too soon to suit me," but expressed doubt whether there could be action this session.

Representative Black (Democrat), New York, predicted that beer and wines would be legal by the end of next March, provided a Democratic President is elected and he calls a special session of Congress to consider the question.

Representative De Priest (Republican), Illinois, the only Negro member of the House, later joined in urging the Democratic majority to modify the Volstead act and submit repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"If you're on the square and not trying to fool the public, you will do it," De Priest said. "There are enough votes on this side to join in and help."

Sidelights on Activities At Democratic Convention

(Associated Press.)

A. C. Pagenkopf, of Dickinson, N. Dak., rather expected a demonstration when he prepared to come to Chicago. Before leaving home he supplied himself with a mechanical noise maker. He tested the contraption on the North Dakota prairies, and his neighbors discovered it could be heard 3 miles on a quiet day.

In the noise of the Roosevelt demonstration today he tried it again. The noise that came from it, however, had dwindled down to a mere whisper when it came into contact with the roaring volume of sound that swept across the convention floor and it could be heard barely 10 feet away.

Young "Jimmie" Roosevelt grabbed one of New York State's banners and marched in the big parade when his father was placed in nomination, while a big husky delegate from down-State held the other fast.

A bodyguard of about a dozen men surrounded the tall son of the New York Governor to prevent any of the delegates from taking it away from him.

Two of the only three Democrats who have held the office of Secretary of the Treasury since the Cleveland administration were oratorical enemies today and then made up with a warm and prolonged hand shake.

They were William G. McAdoo, of California, and Carter Glass, now senator from Virginia. McAdoo espoused and Glass opposed a plank urging that the Government guarantee deposits in member banks of the Federal Reserve system.

One of the busiest men of the convention is William Bullett Fitzhugh, of Machipongo, Va., sergeant at arms of the Virginia House of Delegates. Mr. Fitzhugh, an honorary assistant sergeant at arms of the convention, distinctive with white hair brushed straight back, long drooping white mustache, immaculate white linen suit and heavy cane, aids in keeping the main aisle clear. He has been an honorary assistant sergeant at arms at the last three Democratic conventions.

Says Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana: "I've never seen a nominating demonstration change a single vote on the convention floor." The Southern Kingfish expressed the opinion the Smith demonstration had "a good band and a good organ."

The policemen inside the huge stadium rested during the dinner intermission stretched out on the delegates' seats, awaiting the evening rush. When the convention is in session they have no opportunity to sit down.

BYRD'S RECORD CITED BEFORE CONVENTION

Glass Nominates Virginian Stressing Leadership as Governor.

Chicago, June 29 (A.P.).—Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, was offered to the Democratic party tonight as a candidate for the Presidency, who, as Governor of Virginia, made a record "never surpassed in the entire history of the State."

"What Byrd did for Virginia he would do for the country if nominated by this convention and elected by the people," said Senator Carter Glass in placing Byrd in nomination before the convention. He reminded that Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry were once Virginia senators.

"A confirmed expert in business methods, tested in the problems of public taxation, he would inaugurate at Washington a wise and provident and honest pay-as-you-go administration, of which the Democratic party would be proud and from which the entire Nation would derive the blessings of a better hope and the contentment of permanent recovery," Glass asserted.

Hits G. O. P. Regime.

Assailing the Republican administration and declaring the Nation is confronted with economic problems demanding a sane solution to escape a choice between insolvency and unendurable taxation of the people, Glass praised Byrd as possessing the thought, purpose and courage necessary to lead.

He said Byrd was a farmer with an acute appreciation of the needs of agriculture; a business man who increased his State highway system by 3,000 miles, at a cost of $75,000,000, without issuing a bond; a governor who consolidated a hundred agencies into twelve compact departments, at a saving of $800,000 a year, and an executive who survived 1931 with a surplus, followed the following year by land tax reductions in excess of $4,000,000.

"Even in this desperate depression the State ends this fiscal year with a cash balance of $6,000,000 and with her bonds at a premium in the markets of the world," the Virginia senator said.

Called Great Democrat.

"Like Thomas Jefferson, this young Virginian for whom we ask your favor was born an aristocrat, but from choice became a great Democrat. With the gracious manners of a gentleman he unites the fine virtues of the yeoman. With the intellectual graces of a superior mind he unites the warmth and the kindly emotions of a tender heart. He is honest, he is courageous, he is fit.

"Nominate Harry Byrd as your candidate and the Democratic party of the Nation will preserve the unbroken record of always achieving victory at a presidential election when its banners were placed in the hands of a son of Virginia."

Col. Henry Breckenridge, seconding Byrd, said he would consider he had rendered high service to the Nation and civilization if he could persuade the convention to give serious consideration to the "supreme fitness and availability of Harry Byrd."

"Man of Destiny."

"He is your man of destiny. I ask you to recognize him," Breckenridge said.

"In the day of the Nation's weakness he stands as an incarnation of strength. He radiates the spirit of hope. For doubt he substitutes faith. For hesitancy he exchanges leadership of constructive action. Against cowardice he marshals courage. His candor defeats hypocrisy. His cheerfulness disarms despair."

Breckenridge asserted Byrd is no professional friend of the farmer, but a farmer himself who had marched behind plow handles and taken a livelihood from the soil of the Shenandoah Valley. He praised Byrd for the financial position of Virginia and said Byrd, in the full tide of strong manhood, was prepared to lead the Nation in the way of progress.

2 Parties' Platforms Criticized by Women

As far as women are concerned the Democratic platform is no better than the Republican platform, according to Miss Maud Younger, congressional chairman of the National Woman's Party, in a statement issued yesterday.

Miss Younger declared that both parties have learned not to link women with children, but neither is willing to treat women as adults by giving them an equal status before the law with other adult persons.

Baltimore Runaway Found.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Benny Prostic, 15, who said he "just got the wanderlust" and ran away from his home in Baltimore yesterday, landed in children's court today when a policeman found him with a broken, rusty pistol in his possession.

REED HAILED AS ONE RICH IN EXPERIENCE

Former Missouri Senator Nominated as Statesman With Unmarred Record.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—The name of James A. Reed, the silver-haired former senator from Missouri, was placed in nomination for the Presidency today by Samuel W. Fordyce, St. Louis attorney.

"If you wish vagueness or vacillation," Fordyce told the Democratic convention, "do not choose Senator Reed."

Fordyce said the party must convince the American people that the possessor of property would be protected in his honest rights; he warned against Communism and Socialism and said the times demanded a man who would do these things.

Endeared to People.

"I present to you such a man," he said. "Throughout his long and useful life he has endeared himself to the great masses of the people. This man's unceasing battle for humanity has brought to him the admiration, the devotion, the love of every class."

Fordyce said one great battle alone in Reed's career "entitles him to an everlasting place in the hall of fame—his relentless, his successful fight to keep this country from ignoring Washington's warning to avoid all foreign entanglements."

"Let us analyze," Fordyce said, "what you delegates and the people who sent you here desire in a candidate.

"Do you wish demonstrated experience in the art and science of Federal Government?

"Some have theories. Senator Reed has actual knowledge. Some tell us what they would do if elected.

Record Proves Him.

"Senator Reed's record shows you what he actually has done.

"Do you want devotion to personal liberty as well as property rights?

"Search his record as prosecuting attorney, as Mayor of Kansas City—as senator of the United States.

"You will find not one act of his—not one vote of his—to mar that record.

"They say Reed has made enemies. What strong man has not made them? Reed has been criticized, vilified, but time has proved him right."

Fox Put Brother Aside Illegally, Is Complaint

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Charges that William Fox, motion picture magnate, had his brother Aaron illegally incarcerated in a sanitarium are contained in a petition filed in supreme court today by Mrs. Aaron Fox.

Mrs. Fox charges in the petition that her husband was incarcerated for the double purpose of keeping him from entering the motion picture business and to prevent him from testifying before the Senate committee investigating the stock market.

Arrangements Unit Is Chosen by Club

L. E. Rubel Will Prepare Cosmopolitan Group's Night Session.

L. E. Rubel was named chairman of the committee to have charge of this month's night meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club. He was appointed by President William L. King at yesterday's luncheon at the Carlton Hotel.

Others named to the committee were Edward Rule, Jerome Saks, Stokes Sammons, Michael Schaefer, Dr. Edwin H. Silver, Dr. J. Albert Smith, Harold Smith, Charles Watson and R. P. Whitty.

Thomas P. Littlepage told the club of plans for the Fourth of July celebration at the Sylvan Theater.

G. O. P. Liquor Straddle Is Doomed, Says Butler

Paris, June 30 (A.P.).—Commenting on the wetness of the Democratic platform, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, leader of the repeal fight at the Republican national convention, declared today, "The Hoover straddle plank is doomed to the fate it deserves."

Church Plans Picnic in Park.

A picnic will be held this afternoon at Glen Echo Park by the Zion Lutheran Church. A chartered car will leave the Soldiers Home gate at 1 o'clock. The following committees will have charge of all arrangements: Mrs. Harry Souder, Mrs. Spencer Zimmerman, jr., Mrs. G. Bageiman and Louis Dorsch. Games and races of various kinds have been arranged.

GOV. RITCHIE HAILED AS MAN OF DESTINY

Tydings, in Nominating Him, Says Nation Yearns for Leader of His Type.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Nominating Gov. Albert Cabell Ritchie, of Maryland, for President tonight, Senator Millard E. Tydings called the governor "the man of destiny."

"This man," said the Maryland senator, "embodies, as does no other, the qualities for which the Nation yearns. He is now 55 years of age, in the rich prime of his life, in the full vigor of his manhood, rich in executive experience, with a record of demonstrated accomplishment, the repetition of which in the national sphere is the demand of the day."

"With him you can attract the support of millions of Republicans who are weary of Republican misrule and at the same time arouse a militant Democracy to carry our standard to victory," Senator Tydings said.

Assails the Present Government.

He assailed bitterly the present Federal administration, asserting that "everywhere, people are praying for freedom from paralyzing bewilderments and fears, for they are sick unto death of the spineless leadership which has marked these troubled times."

The four horsemen of the Apocalypse—poverty, fear, chaos and despair—"ride grimly and ominously" over the land, Senator Tydings asserted, but "the present administration at Washington has proven itself powerless to bring these dreaded riders down."

Ritchie's record as Governor of Maryland was cited, his fight against "bureaucracy and the overexpansion of the Federal Government" lauded, and his early battle against the eighteenth amendment referred to.

Senator Tydings said:

"His administration has caused disinterested observers by the thousands to pronounce him as the best governor in America and his State as the best governed State in the Union."

Did Not Plead for Liquor.

Ritchie did not "plead for liquor," the senator said, but rather he attacked the eighteenth amendment because with him it was "not a question of liquor or no liquor, but a question of whether the Federal or the State governments are best equipped to deal with this problem in the interest of true temperance and good government.

"He predicted the abuses which would follow this experiment, that lack of law observance, crime, graft and hypocrisy."

Gov. Ritchie was termed by Senator Tydings a man who symbolizes the South's Democratic ideals.

"But the North knows him, too, and loves him deeply. * * * He stands for the principles to which it seeks return. It sees in him a leader whom it can follow with wholehearted enthusiasm."

Seconding the nomination of Ritchie tonight, Richard F. Cleveland, of Baltimore, said if one word could characterize the Maryland Governor it would be "straightforward."

"It is well said," Cleveland, son of Grover Cleveland, added, "that no one ever voted for Ritchie by mistake."

Ten years ago, Cleveland said, when advocacy of repeal of the eighteenth amendment was regarded as political suicide, Gov. Ritchie urged it.

"Yesterday," he said, "this convention adopted a statement of party relief which might well carry a footnote saying: "Ritchie was right."

West Virginians Back Roosevelt

Enter in Demonstration at Chicago; Byrd Talk Is Still Heard.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—With Judge C. W. Ferguson, of Wayne County, carrying the banner, the entire West Virginia delegation to the Democratic convention fell into line in the Roosevelt demonstration parade today. Miss Anna M. Stevens, of Parkersburg, carried the standard.

A poll on the McAdoo bank deposits guarantee resolution in expectation of a roll call showed nine delegates favorable and seven against. Several "ayes" were heard in the West Virginia section when the soldiers' bonus resolution came to a vote. No poll was made.

Byrd-for-Vice-President talk continued among the delegates, although supporters of the former Virginia governor refused to predict exactly how many West Virginians would join a fight for him. John W. Davis, a native of Clarksburg and Democratic candidate for President in 1924, sat with the West Virginians throughout most of today's sessions.

Party of "Upstaters," West and South Seen

Boston, June 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. William Tilton, of the National Board of Strategy of Forces Opposing Repeal of Prohibition, said today, commenting on the Democratic prohibition plank, "It can only be a question of time when the South, the West and 'Upstate' voters form into a new party which will represent the open spaces as against the city sidewalks."

Damage Is $200,000 In 3 Boston Blasts

Several Slightly Injured; Film Firm Employes Escape Unhurt.

Boston, June 30 (A.P.).—The interiors of nine houses were wrecked and a dozen other houses slightly damaged by an explosion of 25 sticks of dynamite in the Edgemere road section of West Roxbury late today. The damage was estimated at $100,000.

The explosion followed a gasoline fire which spread to a contractor's tool box in which the dynamite was stored. Several persons were slightly injured, none requiring hospital attention.

Six employes of the Hollywood Films, a film booking concern, escaped serious injury by fleeing from the company's building just before the second of two explosions that started a fire and shattered the windows in several buildings in the South End. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Garner in Senate Parley As His Name Is Put Up

(United Press.)

Speaker John N. Garner was too busy conferring with Senate leaders yesterday to hear his name placed in nomination for the Presidency by Senator Tom Connally at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Mrs. Garner, however, slipped away from her secretarial duties to join a group in the Speaker's anteroom, where a radio set had been installed. When the demonstration reached its peak, one of the group said:

"They seem to think pretty well of Mr. Garner."

"One Texan generally thinks pretty well of another," Mrs. Garner answered and hurried back to her office.

GARNER NOMINATED AS STRONG LEADER

Connally and McAdoo Praise Texan in Hot Assault on Administration.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—John N. Garner, of Uvalde, Tex., was nominated for the Presidency today with the assertion that he would take courageous, experienced and capable leadership to the White House.

There was a prolonged shout from the Texas and California delegations and applause elsewhere over the wide floor as Senator Tom Connally, from Garner's home State, presented the name of the Speaker of the House to the Democratic convention.

"This supreme hour calls for a man," Senator Connally told the delegates.

"Weak and wavering vacillation must give way to a leader with a sense of direction and determination to reach his destination," Connally said. "We want neither a superman nor a miracle man. Charms and incantations have lost their force.

"Militant Leader."

"In answer to that call, Texas presents to this convention a superb Democrat, a militant leader, a man of the people."

Connally blamed the present administration for "the wreckage of business and industry and agriculture wrought by blundering policies and groping and befuddled Republican leadership."

In such a desperate hour, America turns to Democracy, he said, attributing to Speaker Garner a monumental grasp of national affairs and necessities evolved from his 30 years in the House.

Garner stood as the most aggressive opponent of the policies of Andrew Mellon in three administrations, the Texan said.

Joining in the nomination of Garner, William Gibbs McAdoo told the convention it had to nominate one whose life was a guarantee that as President he would bring courage, honesty and high ability to bear upon the pressing problems of an unhappy day.

And, he added, the nomination must be made in true Democratic fashion.

Thirty Years of Service.

Garner, he said, lacked no single element of appeal either to the intellect or to the imagination. McAdoo recalled his candidate's frontier forbears and 30 years of public service. He maintained the fact that Garner has not been an outstanding figure in the business world should be hailed not as a weakness, but as one of his chief recommendations.

A myth, he said, has been developed that mere ability to make money carries with it every capacity and every virtue.

"The 'miracle man' of 1928, that great executive genius, who, with one tap of a Moses' wand, was to lift the country to new and undreamed heights of prosperity, now sits among the ruins of his and the party's proud but shattered pretensions like a Lazarus in his ashes. The mightiest financial mind of Republican savor since Alexander Hamilton, hastily exiled from the scene of his blunders, now licks his wounds in the quiet of the Court of St. James.

"Not only inefficiency, but downright dereliction has been disclosed. The various Senate investigations have made a nudist colony out of Wall street. They have stripped the mask from great financial houses and have exposed international banking practices shocking in their bold disregard of the law and common honesty. Greedy peddlers, for profit, of billions of dollars of tinsel securities, have brought want and woe to millions of American homes.

"Because of these, and a multitude of other abuses which cry aloud for correction, I thank God that John N. Garner is not a captain of industry or a giant of finance, but a statesman with grasp and brain to deal with this great crisis."

Some of Drastic Indian Laws to Be Lifted Soon

Simla, India, June 30 (A.P.).—Improvement in the situation in India was indicated tonight by announcement that certain provisions of the drastic ordinances promulgated last winter will be dropped on renewal of the government's special powers next week.

The government of India, however, warned that if there is any renewal of the widespread disturbances that broke out coincidentally with the Nationalist congress' civil disobedience campaign in January all emergency powers will again be applied.

Man Accused as "Stoplight" Bandit.

Two indictments charging him with robbery were returned against Arthur G. Brock, alleged "stoplight" bandit by the grand jury yesterday. Brock is charged with having robbed George Kerr on Wisconsin avenue and Louis F. Lucas at Wisconsin avenue and R street. Both robberies occurred the same night.

Two Men Indicted on Murder Charge.

Two colored men were indicted for first degree murder by the District grand jury yesterday. James M. Ross is alleged to have shot his wife, Ida May Ross, May 7, so that she died almost immediately, and Bennie Montague is charged with having shot to death Clara Williams, also colored.

SMITH IS PUT FORTH AS MAN WHO DARES

Gov. Ely Hints at Republican Indorsement in Vigorous Nomination Speech.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Shouting "Give us a man who dares," Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts placed today in nomination for President at the Democratic national convention Alfred E. Smith, the "happy warrior" candidate of 1928.

"A modern Andrew Jackson, positive, virile, straight-speaking, plain-thinking statesman," Smith was called by his nominator. "Even his enemies recognize the comparison. Every editorial writer in the United States acclaims the sterling quality of his personality. The great constitutional lawyers of his day acknowledge his divine gift of government."

Smith alone, of all the candidates offered to the party, maintained Ely, has been "so utterly bold" as to disregard his political future in proposing a clean-cut, definite program for the Government to follow in attaining the country's economic recovery. Smith alone, he held, has the spirit which must be offered "in contrast with the wavering, doubtful, disheartening conduct of the Republican administration."

Record Is Reviewed.

He reviewed the distinguished record of Smith in public service, four times Governor of New York, recalled how in 1928 as Democratic choice for President he polled 15,000,000 votes, a total unsurpassed by any candidate but Herbert Hoover.

"In 1928, riding the crest of the wave, the Republican party was unbeatable," Ely said.

"With the tide of prosperity against him, 200,000 votes properly placed would have changed the election. What would happen today in the tide of depression? Sure victory."

Ely suggested it would be better for the Democratic party to indorse the Republican nominee if it was unable to show a clear advantage would derive from election of its own leader.

Uses Roosevelt Phrases.

"Wavering and doubtful as that (Republican) leadership has been; fruitless as have proved its efforts feebly executed; we as Democrats will find it difficult to impress a nation with the advisability of a change unless our nominee is a man of action, virile and rugged personality, capable of moulding public opinion to a common purpose.

Ely, taking over the nominating job twice held by Franklin D. Roosevelt, employed the phrase first used by the man now opposing Smith for the nomination. Smith, he said, was still the "happy warrior" after coming through a storm of propaganda and personal attack.

Employing yet another phrase borrowed from Roosevelt, Ely said there was no reason for Smith to speak of the "forgotten man."

Religious Intolerance.

Ely swung into vigorous attack on religious intolerance, maintaining that though the question should have no place in American politics, it was necessary to mention "any subject that might affect your decision," including Smith's Catholic church affiliation.

He maintained that Massachusetts had spoken out clearly and that he believed the entire industrial East joined in discarding "the prejudices of our Protestant ancestors" against entrusting the Government to one of another faith.

Representative Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey, seconding the nomination of Smith, praised the fight he made for the presidency four years ago and asked, "Who is there in all this country who will not admit that he was greater in defeat than most men would have been in victory?"

Prisoner Will Be Tried Fourth Time in Slaying

Richmond, Va., June 30 (A.P.).—The fourth trial of Garland Smith, young North Carolinian, for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Bernard Puryear, will begin at Danville, July 11, Defense Attorney Gordon Ambler, of Richmond, announced today.

Smith is now serving twenty years in the penitentiary for the ambush murder of Chief of Police Mack Tuck, of Clarksville, who was slain with Puryear. In this case the Commonwealth refused to set the verdict aside, although Smith's first conviction for the slaying of Puryear was set aside.

plank and said, "We can't go before our members and ask them to vote Republican again after the party has deserted us."

(Copyright, 1932, by the United Press.)

Chicago, June 30 (U.P.).—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, suspicious even of its allies in the present wet-dry chaos, is playing a lone political hand and is holding out against both the Republicans and the Democrats, it was learned tonight.

Representatives of the militant women will attend a conference of drys at the Morrison Hotel at the conclusion of the Democratic convention, but they will go as irreconcilables.

"The W. C. T. U. lost faith in President Hoover after the Republican party adopted a compromise plank," a spokesman for the women said. "They believe he did not keep faith with them.

"Now that the Democrats have come out for a dripping wet plank, they fear that the Antisaloon League and other dry organizations will flock to the Hoover camp."

The campaign position of the drys is scheduled to be determined at the Morrison Hotel conference. The W. C. T. U. did not know tonight what its position would be but it was indicated they would bolt the dry standard and raise an ultra-dry one if Mr. Hoover is the choice.

Most other drys, it was reported, are unanimous in favoring Mr. Hoover in view of the repeal plank in the Democratic platform.

Reports have reached W. C. T. U. headquarters at Evanston that Mr. Hoover is perturbed over the defection from his camp of the dry women and that he is planning to take a position in his speech of acceptance reiterating his dry policies. Possibility that this might mollify the W. C. T. U. malcontents was seen.

TRAYLOR IS CALLED NEW TYPE OF MAN

Igoe, Nominator, Says Old-Fashioned Party Labels No Longer Attract.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Melvin A. Traylor, of Illinois, was described as a new type of candidate by Michael L. Igoe, of Chicago, in placing the business man and banker in nomination before the Democratic convention.

"We must name a new type of man, one who will change the national psychology—one who will point this Nation once more toward assured prosperity," Igoe said.

"We accordingly propose to you as our nominee for President one to whom the American people would turn with infinite relief as against the weakness, the indecision, the lack of vision, the ineptitude, and the incompetence of Herbert Hoover."

Describes His Rise.

Igoe told of the birth of Traylor in the Kentucky hills and reviewed his career, beginning as a small-town banker in southwest Texas, later at Fort Worth, then in East St. Louis and later in Chicago. He told of Traylor's stumping Kentucky for William Jennings Bryan in 1896 and the assistance he gave Anton Cermak in cleaning out "the Republican mare's nest in Chicago."

"The people are not thinking in terms of ordinary politics and party lines," Igoe declared. "New modes of thought possess our people and the old-fashioned party labels, old-fashioned party names no longer exercise magic power. The people who will decide the next election will be those who, exercising their independent judgment, will abandon the Republican party and vote for the candidate named by this convention. * * *

Competence to Deal.

"Do not let us forget this country, indeed the whole world, is enmeshed in a financial and economic crisis such as has never been before known. Accordingly, in the man we name here we must have above all else a competence by both intelligence and experience to deal with these fundamental problems that affect our very opportunity to live.

"We need a man who can view these problems in their international aspects; a man who knows the interrelations of world-wide commerce; a man expert in the problems of business, of trade, of finance. This is no time for ballyhoo or pollyanna. It is a time for the exercise of the soundest wisdom.

"I nominate a man who will win, a man who will lead the Nation back again to prosperity and happiness. A son of the Southland, an adopted son of Illinois, for President—Melvin A. Traylor."

Tax Rate Cut to $1.20 Per $100 in Frederick

Special to The Washington Post.

Frederick, Md., June 30.—Drastic curtailment in expenses enabled the county commissioners today to reduce the tax rate from $1.30 to $1.20 on the $100. The new budget, from which the tax rate was fixed, is $837,353.56, against $932,795.65 last year, a saving to taxpayers of $115,442.07.

Approximately $100,000 was cut from the road and $37,000 from the school fund. Smaller amounts were lopped off in other appropriations. Reduction in the rate was made in spite of a loss of $5,487,527 in the taxable basis of real estate, $29,000 on deposits of the closed Central Trust Co. and its eleven branches, and $17,000 for the recent primary election and the November election, which amount did not figure in last year's budget.

Fredericksburg to Vote Aug. 9 on Highway Plan

Fredericksburg, Va., June 30 (A.P.).—Circuit Court Judge Frederick W. Coleman today ordered a special election, August 9, to determine whether the county shall exempt itself from the provisions of the Byrd road plan.

The petition asking a county election was signed by 420.

GOV. WHITE OF OHIO IS URGED AS CHOICE

Wet Stand Is Stressed as Name Is Put Before Convention.

Chicago, June 29 (A.P.).—Heralded as a man unsurpassed in merit, Gov. George White of Ohio was nominated for the Presidency today by former Senator Atlee Pomerene.

Pomerene stressed to the assembled delegates at the Democratic national convention Gov. White's stand on prohibition, advocacy of submission of a repeal amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead law. Pomerene said: "No American will ever have occasion to say to Gov. White, 'be even and direct with me.'"

He recounted the State executive's dry stand in the Ohio Legislature and in Congress, always taking the position that "the people decide for themselves."

"Name him as our candidate for the Presidency and Democracy will not be on the defensive," Pomerene said. "He will make an aggressive fight from the day the campaign opens until its close."

Gov. White's record as governor was outlined by the speaker, emphasis being laid on his economy program in which a saving of more than $9,000,000 was claimed for his first year, and particularly his relief program which was enacted by two special legislative sessions.

On national questions, White was described as opposing high domestic tariffs which bring retaliation from foreign countries and cancellation of war debts until we can "be assured by deed and not by word that thereby international peace will be preserved."

MacDougall Retires At Norfolk Today

Rear Admiral Quits Post With Long and Noted Service Record.

(Associated Press.)

Rear Admiral William D. MacDougall, of Auburn, N. Y., relinquished his command of the Fifth Naval district at Norfolk, Va., and duties as commandant of the naval operating base, Hampton Roads, yesterday and the Navy Department announced he would retire from active service today.

Admiral MacDougall was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1885 and became a rear admiral in 1928. During the Spanish War he served aboard ships of the north Atlantic squadron along the Cuban and Puerto Rican Coasts. He commanded the presidential yacht Mayflower in 1913 and was naval attache at London in 1918. For "distinguished service" during the World War in escorting troop ships to European ports, he was awarded the Navy cross and a special letter of recommendation from the War Department.

Judge John F. D. Meighen, of Albert Lea, then took the floor to deny that the "release" had any legal effect.

Pounds Repeatedly.

Determined to get going at once, although numbers of delegates were late in coming, Chairman Walsh pounded repeatedly for order as 9:20 passed.

At 9:30, Walsh ordered the roll call to proceed and Pat Haltigan, the reading clerk, shouted "Georgia."

Gov. Richard B. Russell, jr., of that State, promptly seconded Roosevelt. He told of the affection Georgia has for Roosevelt because it has come to know him personally—through his visits to Warm Springs there.

Idaho, which favors Roosevelt, yielded to Virginia, and at once Byrd—its former governor—was put up by Senator Carter Glass. He promised that if sent to the White House, Byrd would do for the country what he did to help the State.

Quickly Brings Cheers.

Glass quickly brought cheers, answering the afternoon statement made by Gov. Ely of Massachusetts, who—in nominating Smith—said he was surprised that in the last election Virginia went Republican.

"Once in 60 years Virginia went wrong," said the senator, "while only once in 70 years has Massachusetts voted right."

The reference was to Ely's State going for Al Smith in '28 while Virginia went for Hoover.

As soon as Glass concluded, in marched the famous Richmond Blues Band. Again the great political show was on, one of the eager participants being the celebrated brother of the former governor—Admiral Richard E. Byrd of exploration fame—and another being the present State executive, John Garland Pollard.

Huge Byrd signs proclaimed: "Byrd, the Governor, Gave Virginia a Model State Government.

"No New Taxes.

"No Taxes Raised.

"No Deficit in Depression."

The galleries, so uproarious especially in the Smith outbreak of the afternoon, were more restrained last night. Here and there, for the first time in two days, empty red seats showed.

Side by side, Admiral Byrd and Gov. Pollard were at the head of the marching Virginians who lined up behind the impressively-garbed band as it played "Yankee Doodle" and headed away down the front aisle.

The organ joined in, while Miss Marguerite Penfield, of Chicago, who was born in Winchester, Va., waved the State flag enthusiastically from the speaker's stand.

Pigeons Are Released.

Numbers of white carrier pigeons were released from the flag-laden crevices of the roofs.

Came "Dixie" again from the organ, and the customary loud cheers swept across the stadium, especially from the sections for Georgia and the other strong Roosevelt States.

Boldly bearing a huge banner, Admiral Byrd laughingly remarked as he passed the speakers' stand: "This is worse than anything I ever saw in the Antarctic, but I'm proud to carry a banner for my brother."

By this time the Georgia pennant was being carried the rounds in tribute to the Southern candidate, and the District of Columbia, where both Byrd and Pollard have numbers of friends, placed its standard in line.

The boom of the Blues' bass drum and the rat-a-tat of the smaller drums beat the time to which the gay troup kept going, the Texas standard finally joining.

Gov. Pollard went to the speakers' stand, there to wave his very own placard with the governor's likeness on both sides.

Confusion among the delegates delayed proceedings, Walsh having to ask time and again for people to be seated.

It turned out that the Melvin Traylor cause had the next call, and Michael L. Igoe lost no time in citing him as "a new type of man."

Traylor Sign Displayed.

Ignoring the stuffiness, the Traylorites jumped at their chance to do the marching. One after another of them bore a medium-sized sign saying:

"Traylor for President" in tones of light blue.

The organist stopped on it for more lively tunes. A Texas delegate and a New Jerseyite, ambled along with those standards. As in every parade to date, a long, strung-out pennant saying "Repeal! Repeal Repeal! The Crusaders Are for Repeal," went along.

The roll call proceeded, and when Iowa was called, F. D. Gilloon, a delegate from Dubuque, announced from the floor he wanted to second the nomination of Alfred E. Smith. The Smith sympathizers on the floor and galleries roared their applause, for Iowa is pledged to Roosevelt.

T. E. Diamond, of Sheldon, Iowa, shouted up a protest and the Smithites in the gallery booed. But there were cheers from the Rooseveltians on the floor.

Retaliate With Boos.

Chairman Walsh ruled that there was "no reason to sustain the objection" and stated the rule that the delegates could second whatever candidates they pleased.

The galleries gave Gilloon a big hand when he took the speaker's stand, but the Roosevelt followers retaliated with boos for him, which kept up as he spoke. He had to stop when his time expired, although he had not yet reached the name of Smith.

Gov. Woodridge of Kansas, seconded Roosevelt, denouncing the Republican administration and calling for the New York governor as the man who can help the farmer as well as the rest of the people.

Kentucky's governor, Ruby Lafoon, followed with another brief seconding speech for the leading candidate.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt, Kentucky is here!" he exclaimed, raising his right arm in a gesture of determination.

When Louisiana was called, Senator Huey Long shouted that the seconding speeches should be stopped. He yielded to North Carolina, whereupon Josephus Daniels—under whom Gov. Roosevelt served as Assistant Secretary of the Navy in war time—said:

"In order that this convention may ratify the will of the people without further delay I call upon all the supporters of Gov. Roosevelt to omit all further seconding speeches and hasten a vote."

When Maryland was called, another uproar of whistling and shouts went up as Senator Millard Tydings put in the name of Gov. Ritchie.

"The only and most important business before this convention," he said, "is the immediate and unconditional repeal of Herbert Hoover.

"The cry goes up from millions of voters—democracy in heaven's name, give us a leader."

"Man of Destiny," was the title he gave Ritchie.

Ritchie Parade Begins.

When Tydings finished the Ritchie parade began. With pictures of their favorite, and banners inscribed with his praises, the Marylanders started a shouting march, as the pipe organ played "Maryland, My Maryland."

It was at once apparent that the governor had many friends in other delegations, and in the gallery. They whooped it up, and many State standards were waved in salute. Many delegates pledged to other candidates clapped their hands and several took their State standards into the line of march behind that of Maryland.

The Richmond Blues, which had marched for Byrd, also helped out the Ritchie parade, falling into the line.

The standard of the District of Columbia, Maryland's neighbor, was the first to fall in line. Virginia followed. So did Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Indiana and Hawaii.

Band Is Drowned Out.

The organ was making most of the noise, as usual, drowning out the marching band and the plaudits of the demonstrators.

Recruits were added as the parade wound on, raising its cheers whenever the organist took a breathing spell. Delegates from Mississippi, Iowa and Illinois took their State markers along behind Maryland's.

Several Iowans, marching past the speakers platform, shouted up a demand for "Out Where the Tall Corn Grows." The request was relayed to the organist, who obliged. He had been playing "My Maryland" with all the known variations, and some never known before, and mixing in a lot of lively jazz.

After 40 minutes, the Ritchie outburst petered out and Walsh ordered the roll call to proceed despite the confusion in every quarter of the floor.

Seconded by Cleveland.

Richard F. Cleveland, son of President Grover Cleveland, brought about another spasm of Ritchie cheers in seconding him for the nomination as a "straightforward" man.

It seemed that humanity itself made up each of the screeching and shoving parades that pounded through the aisles in the afternoon. There was no telling whence every one came. In each case the delegate chairs appeared almost filled with standing cheerers, but around and around went a crowd just the same.

Starting it off, for 43 minutes the Roosevelt enthusiasts staged a prancing, song-filled procession behind the numbers of standards of the States pledged to him—as well as those of some States that were not. His praise was emblazoned on pennants, his picture was carried high.

California and Texas joined arms jubilantly in the 22-minute welcome for Garner's nomination.

The quiet-mannered John E. Mack, of New York, put up the leading candidate—Franklin D. Roosevelt—as one who comes "with the greatest number of States behind him in party history," one with "that rare gift for holding friends," and of "unsullied character."

Recalls Roosevelt's Deeds.

The jubilant Rooseveltians seconded his praise with applause, as Mack's soft phrases recounted the record of the man he first pushed into politics more than two decades ago. He recalled Roosevelt's deeds as Assistant Secretary of the Navy in war time, "the way in which he has captured the heretofore impregnable enemy stronghold of up-State New York," and his performances as Governor of the Empire State.

"I call on you," Mack cried, with his arms outstretched and eyes alight, "to here and now testify the determination you have already expressed that the candidate of this convention shall be, must be and will be Franklin Delano Roosevelt!"

Whoops roared out, leaders of that cause jumped to carry the standards of Roosevelt States held high in the boisterous march. Franklin, jr., and James—the young Roosevelt sons—together carried the New York standard. Even as they jostled along laughingly, and the organ pealed away with tune after tune of naval tradition, word spread around that Tammany had decided to split the State delegation vote, 47 for the governor and 47 for his rival, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

The Texans and Californians put on a Garner show rivaling the tremendous Roosevelt outburst in volume, mainly due to the blarings and poundings of an energetic band from the Lone Star State. Hundreds of Garner enthusiasts who were not delegates, many of them having come all the way from Texas, joined the peppy pell-mell swing through the aisles.

Senator Tom Connally, the husky, black-maned orator from the plains, had eulogized his fellow Texan as one possessing the "courageous and capable leadership" needed in the White House instead of "indecision and delay." Cowboy whoops and Rebel yells were Connally's first reward.

McAdoo Carries Flag.

Then started that parade with McAdoo carrying a Texas flag at his shoulder and a huge California bear flag coming behind him. But there were so many Texans with Garner banners and big blue standards with the Speaker's likeness, holding an upraised gavel of large size, that it looked like the whole convention was at it.

They formed a wiggling, singing, cheering, shouting line clear around the hall and kept McAdoo and the Californians waiting minutes to let the Texans wander by, led by the lusty band doing "The Old Gray Mare," the Texas College song to "Working on d' Railroad" and "Dixie" until ears ached.

Third in order, Al Smith entered the lists through the deliberate voice of Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, who said he gave "the sentiments of the industrial East" in praising Smith as "a man who dares" and "a modern Andrew Jackson."

"Fifteen million people were drawn to him in 1928," he reminded, "unswerving in their devotion in spite of all the political propaganda and personal attack directed against him. That storm has spent its fury."

The governor's conclusion was the signal for another tumultuous display. Applause and cheers broke into his words even before he could complete his text. Another piercing band and legions of Smith signs added fervor to the outpouring of loyalty that a substantial block of delegates gave him.

High up in the balconies, one middle-aged woman snatched a straw hat off the head of the man next to her, rammed her arm through it and sailed the crown to the floor.

Later, in the Ritchie-pledged Maryland delegation, E. Brooke Lee, of Silver Spring, stood on a chair and waved the State standard in salute.

Roosevelt Keenly Follows Nominating Proceedings

Denies Deal Has Been Made or Invitations Extended; Part of Family and Guest Read Newspapers and Cling to Radio at Governor's Mansion.

Executive Mansion, Albany, N. Y., June 30 (A.P.).—As cheers heralding the nominating speech for John N. Garner filled the study in which Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt sat listening with his family to the radio broadcast from the Chicago Stadium, the governor said today he still had no choice for a running mate should he receive the Democratic presidential nomination.

"No deal has been made," he said. "No invitations have been extended."

For nearly 45 minutes Roosevelt had sat, rapidly smoking cigarettes, while the loud speaker roared out the cheers, the bands and organ music, and the description of the demonstration that followed his own nominating speech.

His mother and his wife sat nearby, quietly knitting. In the room also were his sons, Elliott and John, Elliott's bride, his friend, Samuel I. Roseman, who has been a guest at the executive mansion all week, and several members of his staff.

For the most part while the din from the Chicago Stadium filled the room, the group was silent.

Occasionally the governor would laugh and make some comment. His blue eyes sparkled. An afternoon paper was brought in, great black headlines announcing his name was now before the convention. Roosevelt glanced at it for a moment and smiled.

Roosevelt listened attentively to the argument that developed before Homer Cummings began his seconding speech.

"That's a good point," was his comment on the protest of the Connecticut Smith leaders that Cummings was ineligible to second Roosevelt's nomination because he was pledged to vote for Al Smith.

The governor was telling about how in 1924 the head of the gavel flew off while Senator Thomas J. Walsh was pounding for order and hit one of the paraders in the head. As he spoke a thump came from the loud speaker and some one remarked that Walsh had dropped his gavel. The governor threw back his head and joined in the laughter.

As this demonstration drew to a close, the governor wrote out on a pad a telegram which was sent to John Mack, his nominator.

The telegram read:

"My affectionate thanks to you, my old friend, for that fine speech. No matter what the result today, you and I will always go on together."

SMITH HEARS SELF NAMED OVER RADIO

Declares Gov. Ely's Speech Nominating Him Best in Dozen Years.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Alfred E. Smith joined a radio audience today to hear his name placed in nomination for the Presidency at the Democratic convention.

Smith had attended all other convention sessions and went out to the stadium for the start of today's, but when they began the nominating address he returned to his hotel room. He listened with a group of friends and appeared to enjoy the proceedings as he heard them over the air.

"It's the best speech I've heard delivered in a convention since the days of Bourke Cockran," Smith said as Gov. Joseph B. Ely, of Massachusetts, concluded. Cockran nominated Smith in the 1920 convention at San Francisco. Franklin D. Roosevelt took over the job in 1924 and 1928.

He went to the stadium, however, in the midst of the uproarious demonstration that followed the speech.

Army Balloonists Victors, Officially

Lieuts. Paul and Bishop Will Be on U. S. Team Entered at Basel.

(Associated Press.)

Lieuts. Wilfred J. Paul and John H. Bishop yesterday were named official winners of the 1932 national balloon race by the National Aeronautic Association after scaling of distances and calibration of barographs.

The men, representing the Army Air Corps, were credited with floating 901.4 miles from Omaha, where the race started May 30. Second place went to Roland J. Blair and Frank A. Trotter, of Akron, Ohio, with a distance of 709.9 miles.

Lieuts. Paul and Bishop by their victory earned a place on the team which will represent the United States in the international James Gordon Bennett balloon race, to start September 25 from Basel, Switzerland. The other team members are Ward T. Van Orman and Alan MacCracken, of Akron, who won the international meet in 1930, and Lieuts. T. G. W. Settle and Wilfred Bushnell, Navy men, who won the 1931 national race.

TREND FOR WETTER CANDIDATE MOUNTS

Victorious Women Antidrys Divide on Strongest Man for Repeal Plank.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—The surge of woman wet sentiment, which found first unhampered expression in victory on the Democratic wet plank, was a definite undercurrent today in a session that centered on candidates.

The nominations were on, and every wet woman, jubilant at the platform success, was marshalling her arguments for the candidate she thought had best chance to win on repeal.

Both of the women scheduled to second Roosevelt, Mrs. Carroll Miller, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. Isabella Greenway, of Arizona, stood squarely for the wet cause and Roosevelt as its champion.

But some women wets, disregarding their organizers' edict that campaigning here must be on platform, not candidate, were openly advocating as nominee some man longer and more outspokenly a foe of the eighteenth amendment—"Smith or Ritchie," some specified.

Young Roosevelts Attend.

The platform voice of this anti-Roosevelt sentiment was that veteran woman antiprohibition worker, Representative Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey, Al Smith seconder.

To the galleries early came the young Roosevelts, two handsome sons, a blonde athletic daughter, a daughter-in-law, that they might miss no minute of the nomination struggle focusing on their father, Franklin Roosevelt, New York Governor, bitterly opposed by his former friend and predecessor in office, Al Smith.

"Today the Democratic party faces a new era and a new leadership," Mrs. Carroll Miller contended, explaining why, a Smith seconder four years ago, she appeared today in the Roosevelt seconder role.

Of the wet plank she said, "We got it over with a bang last night!"

Ritchie Strength Grows.

But Representative Mary T. Norton, equally jubilant at the wet plank, had her arguments all marshaled to answer those of Mrs. Miller as soon as the long-drawn-out convention procedure gave her a chance. Women delegates who agreed with her were stressing that ovation that Al Smith got when he talked for the plank.

Down in the Maryland section the delegates combined the keynotes of the other two camps. "New times, new leaders," they said, pointing to Ritchie, and adding that Ritchie also got a grand ovation as a wet-plank champion.

Mrs. Jesse Nicholson, of Maryland, Democrat and member of the national committee in 1924, predicted: "That wet plank is paving the way for the Democratic party to alienate 12,000,000 women. The people are not speaking here; the gangsters and the underworld are speaking through delegates handpicked."

Adm. Coffman's Funeral Conducted in Annapolis

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 30.—The body of Vice Admiral Dewitt Coffman, U. S. N. (retired), who died at his home in Jamestown, R. I., a few days ago, was brought to Annapolis today and buried in the Naval Cemetery with full military honors.

Many officers on duty at the local station attended the rites. The escort consisted of a detachment of the Naval Academy Band and a company of bluejackets from the station ship Reina Mercedes, under the command of Capt. John W. Wilcox, jr. Admiral Coffman, who was 77 years old, was a native of Shenandoah County, Va. He was graduated from the Naval Academy in the class of 1876.

Collections of Revenue Show Gain in Virginia

Richmond, Va., June 30 (A.P.).—Internal revenue collections for Virginia for the fiscal year were $113,761,587.34.

For the previous year they were $96,694,138.88.

Child Dies After Eating Garbage.

Oakland, Calif., June 30 (A.P.).—Four-year-old Narciaso Sandoval died today of what his parents said was poisoning from eating garbage. His 12-year-old sister, Anna, similarly stricken, was not expected to live. The father, Fidel Sandoval, unemployed laborer, told authorities charity organizations had been helping them with occasional grocery orders, but that they had not had enough to eat.

Former Dry Agent Jailed.

Muskogee, Okla., June 30 (A.P.).—Jake Lane, former Tennessee prohibition agent, received a 90-day jail sentence and a lecture from Federal Judge Robert L. Williams today on a plea of guilty to possession and manufacture of liquor and possession of materials.

Chile Nitrate Company Asks Credit Extensions

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Representatives of the $300,000,000 Nitrate Corporation of Chile, known as Cosach, conferred with bankers today in an effort to arrange an extension of short-term credits which mature tomorrow. Similar conferences were reported under way with London bankers.

The Cosach credits are secured by nitrate as collateral and are in the form of short-term bills. Plans for a reorganization of the combine's financial structure, providing for long-term bonds as well as early short-term maturities, were also under discussion. Bankers here said "progress had been made."

Lackawanna Road Takes Action on '32 Dividends

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Directors of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co. announced that they had taken no action on dividends at their meeting today.

When they met last December 31, the board stated that 1932 dividend payments would not be considered prior to today's meeting, and that first half-year operating results would decide the question. The road had paid dividends every year since 1880. Its last payment was 50 cents a share paid on October 20, 1931.

CONGRESS TO STAY UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Relief Conferees Unable to Finish by Saturday; Broader Bill Is Aim.

(Associated Press.)

All plans for adjournment of Congress were thrown into the discard yesterday as conferees on the unemployment relief bill announced they would not complete their work until next week.

This development not only washed away the last slim hopes for winding up the session this week, but threw the entire adjournment question into the field of speculation.

The relief conferees reported they were near an agreement but were working over plans which would materially broaden the scope of the bill and allow the Reconstruction Corporation to aid struggling private industry.

In between appropriation bills the Senate devoted the day to the Philippine independence measure and adopted a conference report on the bill to turn 45,000,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bales of cotton over to the Red Cross for distribution to the destitute.

Conferees on the relief bill apparently were seeking to make their measure as acceptable to President Hoover as possible, but they retained the public works provisions of the Senate bill to which he objected.

They did not reach a decision, however, on the bond issue provision, and called Secretary Mills into conference for advice on the best method of financing the program.

The Senate bill called for a $500,000,000 long-term bond issue for public works, but the Treasury has proposed that it be allowed to choose the best method of financing.

Aside from this, the only major dispute remaining was the authority to be given to the Reconstruction Corporation in the making of loans.

Late in the day Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, told the Senate he would move today to bring up the Glass substitute for the Goldsborough dollar stabilization bill.

The Idahoan said the Glass substitute proposes a "very limited, narrow expansion of the currency."

"Unless it goes to conference shortly," he said, "there will be no legislation along this line this session."

Reed contended the bill would be "wholely devastating" in its effect upon the currency.

Insanity Urged in Death By Widow and Admirer

Oakland, Calif., June 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Bessie Nelson, club woman, and Claude Forbes, her admirer, appeared in court today to answer indictments charging the murder of Harry A. Nelson, the woman's husband.

Mrs. Nelson pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, although the court pointed out the single plea was a tacit admission of complicity and should the jury find she was sane at the time of the slaying she would automatically stand guilty. Forbes, who confessed administering a beating from which Mr. Nelson died, entered the customary dual plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity.

12 Named to Council Of Bankers Society

Richmond, Va., June 30 (A.P.).—Appointments to the executive council of the Virginia Bankers Association were announced today by President S. W. Keys, of Glade Springs, president of the association.

The twelve bankers named to the council are: T. A. Bain, Norfolk; W. C. Roberts, Nassawadox; Julian H. Hill, Richmond; Alexander F. Ryland, Richmond; L. W. H. Peyton, Staunton; C. L. Robey, Purcellville; W. W. Dickerson, Lynchburg; D. E. Mountcastle, Covington; O. P. Jordan, jr., Pulaski; J. C. Greer, Martinsville; T. Edward Hall, Heathville, and W. G. Waring, Westpoint.

Mrs. Caraway Faces Suit for Foreclosure

Foreclosure proceedings to satisfy a mortgage against a number of Riverdale, Md., building lots have been filed in Prince George County Circuit Court against Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, widow of the former senator from Arkansas.

The suit was filed by Attorney J. Ridley Shields, of Hyattsville, as representative of a Washington bank. It is understood that there are 29 lots, located near the former Caraway home in Riverdale. This place, originally the Calvert estate, was recently sold to satisfy another mortgage.

Billfold and Money Stolen.

A billfold containing $15 was stolen from Ralph Berman, of 1444 Parkwood place northwest, yesterday while he was playing tennis at the George Washington University.

Public to Peruse Planks Until Frost Falls in Fall

By JOHN J. DALY

PLANKS and platforms,
Platforms and planks,
Lean forms and fat forms
Shaped for the ranks;
See that no drivel edges
Into the fights:
No special privileges,
All equal rights.

You pays you' money and you takes you' choice.

You cast your votes and you wait for the count.

Now that the planks have been placed in the platforms and the platforms fashioned for public service, convenience and consideration, the great American public will stand by for awhile till the campaign gets under way, and study the platforms and the planks.

The first requisite, of course, is the reading of the platforms with their several planks. This takes anywhere from five to ten minutes. The next step is hearing the platforms discussed, and cussed, by the politicians, the innocent bystanders, and the active campaigners. That takes all summer and well into the winter. So that the public, hearing only about the platforms, knows less about the planks and having decided and divided definitely on the planks cares less about the platforms.

* * * *

ALONG around November, when the frost is on the pumpkin, and the kettle on the hob, the great American public has forgotten all it ever heard about the planks and the platforms and is ready to march to the polls, en masse, there to turn thumbs down or up on a candidate standing on one plank in one platform or the other.

What that platform is, nobody seems to care, nobody stops to consider—for it is now a question of personality, and may the best man win:

Planks and platforms,
Platforms and planks,
Lean forms and fat forms
Fit for the ranks.
All is forgotten
Of pledges remote:
Sober or sotten,
Men, get out the vote.

New Trial for Tom Mix In Civil Suit Is Upheld

Philadelphia, June 30 (A.P.).—A new trial for Tom Mix in connection with a $90,000 verdict for alleged breach of contract won from him by the Western Show Co. was upheld by the State Supreme Court today.

The company, owner of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, charged that the actor agreed to appear with his famous horse, Tony, for 20 weeks at $10,000 a week and that instead he went with the Sells-Floto circus.

NONPARTISAN G. O. P. MEN WIN IN DAKOTA

Nye, Insurgent Republican, Is Leading Gov. Shafer Five to Three.

Fargo, N. Dak., June 30 (A.P.).—Republican candidates supported by the Nonpartisan League, on the basis of today's returns, won every nomination for national and State office in North Dakota's primary election yesterday.

For a decade the Nonpartisan Leaguers have shared office with members of the "real" or "regular" Republican faction.

Seeking renomination, Senator Gerald P. Nye, insurgent Republican who led the league ticket, had a five-to-three margin over Gov. George F. Shafer, supporter of the national administration.

Tabulation of Democratic votes was slow, but it appeared the total would be about one-third of that cast in the party's presidential preference primary in March. Many voters apparently had switched back to the Republican ticket in naming congressional and State candidates. Gov. Roosevelt of New York carried the Democratic presidential balloting.

Representative J. H. Sinclair and William Lemke, aligned with Nye, led the five-sided race for the two Republican nominations to the House. Thomas Hall and O. B. Burtness, incumbents, trailed them. Usher L. Burdick, advocate of prohibition repeal, was a poor fifth.

Returns from 1,636 precincts of 2,235 gave Nye, 100,005; Shafer, 49,739.

Returns from 1,581 precincts gave for Republican nomination for Representatives Burdick, 29,723; Burtness, 47,060; Hall, 50,444; Lemke, 62,502; Sinclair, 68,650.

Returns were not conclusive on initiated measures, but proposals for a partial five-year moratorium on private debts and to outlaw crop mortgages had margins against adoption.

Farm Allotment Bill Introduced in Senate

(Associated Press.)

A revised allotment plan of supplying domestic needs for wheat, cotton and hogs, to be in force one year as an emergency farm relief measure, was called for yesterday in a bill introduced by Senator Norbeck (Republican), South Dakota.

Norbeck and other members of the farm bloc will fight for consideration of the bill before adjournment. It was referred to the agriculture committee for consideration. A similar measure has been approved by the House agriculture committee.

Yesterday in Congress

SENATE.

Sent Treasury-Postoffice and State, Justice, Commerce and Labor appropriations bills back to conference.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 6:25 p. m. until noon Friday.

Approved bill authorizing purchase of New York postoffice for not more than $14,500,000.

Conferees on relief bill announced agreement would not be reached before next week.

Adopted conference report on Treasury-Postoffice appropriation bill.

Conferees on second deficiency bill agreed to Senate amendment adding $5,000,000 to $2,000,000 House figure for Hoover Dam.

NET OF PROSECUTION TIGHTENED ON CURTIS

That's identification enough. If they don't believe you they can go to hell."

The flier testified earlier that he never saw the ransom bills Curtis told him the kidnapers had flourished.

There were murmurs when Lamb read Curtis' statement that the kidnapers told him the baby had become ill after being snatched from his crib.

A doctor was called in, the story ran, attended the child and after its recovery was permitted to leave, on threat of being killed unless he maintained absolute secrecy.

Nurse Is Indignant.

Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, who appeared in court wearing a chic white shantung dress, with polka-dotted coat, white turban, gloves and shoes, stiffened in her chair when Lamb quoted the kidnapers as saying, "The baby is all right, except it won't pay attention when called."

Her lips parted in an inadvertent breath of apparent indignation, but she quickly regained composure.

A barrage of defense questions about the method of examination failed to elicit any admission of hardships for Curtis, although the latter was kept constantly in company of the police after the baby was found dead.

Lamb was followed late in the afternoon by Detective Frank J. Carr, who testified about the police check-up of Curtis "clews." He said Curtis once picked out a picture in the Newark rogues' gallery of a man who looked like "John." The man was an inmate of an insane asylum at the time.

Eugene Haussling, a State trooper who also accompanied Curtis on some of the trips, was on the stand when court adjourned at 4:50 p. m. (E. S. T.). He will be recalled tomorrow, when the State hopes to conclude its case by noon.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A CONVENTION ORATOR WRITES HOME TO HIS WIFE.

DEAR EMMA: Well, Emma, than whom there is no more splendid specimen of American womanhood, no finer wife, no more courageous mother in these glorious United States, it is my proud privilege to take my pen in hand to write you a few lines.

I yield to no man in my admiration for the splendid metropolis of Chicago, but I say to you without fear of contradiction that my devotion and loyalty to my home city remain as unmovable as the Rock of Gibraltar, and despite the unchallenged beauty of the women of the Middle West, my deepest admiration continues to be allotted unsparingly to the little woman who is the most inspiring character in the pages of history—my own peerless wife.

* * * * *

As I sit here amid the splendors of this modern hotel my thoughts are swept back to the humble cottage over which, to my great good fortune, you so efficiently preside. In it there dwells the spirit upon which rest the foundations of the Republic.

* * * * *

I arrived here safe and sound, thanks to the unparalleled efficiency of the railroads with which this great Nation is blessed, and I am now ensconced in a room of simple but impressive beauty. Immediately upon arriving I ordered a steak, and I am but paying an honest tribute to those unconquerable captains of industry, the American meat packers, when I state, as a free-born American citizen, that from the sparkling waters of the Golden Gate to the windswept coasts of Maine no better beef ever appeased the appetite of mortal man. A few more words and I am done.

* * * *

I then attended a caucus of the boys and came back to the hotel, but could not resign myself to the arms of Morpheus with a sense of duty done until I had written a letter to one of God's noblewomen and the flower of my native State. I refer to none other than the little lady whose husband it is my proud distinction to be. And I stand by that statement. Bear with me for a few more moments.

* * * *

Do not worry, peerless creature, I am ever with you, and neither time nor tide, storm nor gale, shall interfere with my speedy return to your arms, which are second to none in all the broad reaches of this grand country.

I extend to you again assurances of a husbandly affection unsurpassed by that of Washington or Jefferson, by Jackson or Cleveland, by Grant or Woodrow Wilson.

ABNER P. SWAMPSCOTT.

* * * *

P. S.—I can't send you the $4 for which you ask, but I have the matter under advisement, and you may be assured of such action as the dictates of my conscience inspire in this troubled hour in American history.

HOOVER WARDS OFF RIGORS OF NEW ECONOMY MEASURE

these hardships should be remedied at the next session of Congress."

"I agree with that," Senator Robinson said. "There particularly is one such provision I now have in mind, and it ought to be corrected as soon as is practicable."

He referred to the Bingham resolution for repeal of the section calling for discharge of married workers. Senator Copeland (Democrat), interposed that he too favored the resolution and suggested that Mr. Bingham call it up. He did, and it was here that McNary objected.

Hoover's Move Indorsed.

Senator Bingham got the floor to indorse the President's stand on economy personnel restrictions.

"I am very glad to see that the President agrees with the Senator from Arkansas and myself, that there are some features of the so-called economy bill which will cause hardships, and I hope that we may in the near future provide some means of alleviating that condition."

He denied that the President had failed to make "specific" economy suggestions, citing the President's proposal of an administration of public works, consolidating public construction projects. The proposal was thrown out by the Senate economy committee.

Senator Wesley L. Jones, chairman of the Senate economy conferees, made known that he too is sympathetic with Bingham's married workers' resolution. He said he will vote for it if and when it comes to a test.

Officials Are Retained.

The first list of 49 so-called "superannuated" employes exempted by President Hoover from provisions of the economy bill requiring them to retire, included Federal and District officials of some prominence.

The executive exemption was issued under a clause in the bill giving the President power to determine which workers need be retained in the public interest.

Among those named were Prof. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau; Director of the Census William M. Steuart, Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation; Morris M. Barnard, superintendent of District penal institutions, and William H. Blackburne, head keeper at the Washington Zoo.

Francis A. Sebring, clerk of Police Court, was one of the 39 temporarily exempted "to afford the time necessary to determine whether the public interest requires that permanent exemptions be granted."

McCarl's Move Awaited.

Meanwhile heads of Government departments continued to wait for Comptroller General J. R. McCarl's interpretation of various confusing provisions of the bill, including the married workers' section, the so-called impounding clause turning furlough savings back into the Treasury, and the 15-day permanent restriction on annual leave with pay.

At a conference of Labor Department heads yesterday, a five-day week for employes of that branch of the Government was seriously considered as one means of executing the furlough plan. Although no final decision was reached, it was said that some 700 workers otherwise would be dismissed from the department.

At the Federal Trade Commission it was said that 100 workers must be released today. Senator George H. Moses (Republican), New Hampshire, chairman of the rules committee, took action looking to the retention of Senate office building employes, despite reduced appropriation. He said cuts will be made outside of personnel.

List of Workers Retained.

Following is the list of 49 so-called superannuated workers retained in the service on presidential order. They represent but a few of many applications for service extensions filed at the White House.

Prof. Marvin, Dr. William J. Humphreys, Dr. Isaac M. Cline, Mr. Steuart, John Wyer, C. David White, Dr. Mead, Abraham L. Houk, Charles C. Kellogg, James M. Carr, John W. McGee, George W. Hendrickson, George E. Danforth, James McD. Reid, William M. Phillco, Charles C. Shaffer, Leonard T. Cool, Alfred C. Hooker, Robert P. Skinner, Edwin V. Morgan, James J. Britt, Clair A. Webster, George C. Haydon, Robert J. Mawhinney, Franklin G. Wixson, Frank Bond.

Following is the list of 39 "temporary" extensions authorized:

Millard J. Moore, Frank C. Skinner, Joseph A. Hill, Jasper S. Bilby, Stephen J. Kubel, John M. Nickles, Charles J. Groseclose, James H. H. Hewett, William Bertrand Acker, Timothy W. Stanton, Mrs. Carrie B. Allen, Horace M. Sanford, William A. Newcome, Frank H. Larned, Miles M. Shand, Sydney Y. Smith, George O. Von Nerta, Clarence A. Miller, Ernest K. Wilkins, Joseph O. Ranno, Frank H. Cole, Coates W. Shoemaker, Joseph Michaelson, George W. Littlehales, Thomas F. Flanagan, Oliver P. Murry, William McLean, Edgar Wommack.

Statement by Hoover On Signing Saving Bill

The text of the President's statement, on signing the economy bill, follows:

I have signed the economy bill, but with limited satisfaction.

First, it falls far short of the economies proposed by the Cabinet and other executive officers of the Government; many items of their proposals, which were in turn recommended by committees on economy of the two houses, failed of passage. Also, the bill is so framed as to render abolition or consolidation of the most consequential commissions and bureaus impossible of consummation until some months after the next session of Congress.

Second, it imposes unnecessary hardships on Government employes in minor matters of little consequence economically. Some of these hardships should be remedied at the next session of Congress. I believe we can administratively alleviate some of these difficulties and hardships. Every effort will be made to do so.

Education Body to Rule Today on Furlough Plan

The Board of Education at its annual reorganization meeting this morning will probably decide whether officers of the public school system will be grouped with teachers in application of the furlough plan.

If this is done, it will mean that the officers, including the superintendent, and teachers will receive the 8.3 salary cut for the 1933 fiscal year. It would also mean that the officers could not take furlough time off during the school season when they are needed on the job.

200,000 May View July 4th Tableau

Girls From 13 Original Colonies Will Take Part at Sylvan Theater.

Thirteen young girls hailing from the thirteen original States of the Union will take part in a tableau to be presented on Fourth of July evening in the Sylvan Theater. All of the girls are members of State societies of the District.

Arrangements to handle 200,000 spectators at the tableau are being made by Thomas P. Littlepage, chairman of the committee in charge of the program. The Marine Band will furnish music, antiaircraft lights will play colorfully on a plane hovering above, Senator Watson, of Indiana, will make an address, and elaborate fireworks will be set off.

Others on the arrangements committee are E. F. Colladay, John B. Colpoys, Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, E. C. Graham, George C. Havenner, Harry King, Mark Lansburgh, G. H. Richardson, Ben T. Webster, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, and J. G. Yaden. George Sullivan is treasurer and Mrs. E. K. Peeples secretary.

3,717 VETERAN U. S. WORKERS JOIN IDLE

Compulsory Retirement Bill Affects Nearly 1,000 in District Posts.

The compulsory retirement bill, signed yesterday by President Hoover, will result in 3,717 veteran Government employes, nearly 1,000 of whom are in Washington, joining the ranks of the unemployed.

Telegrams, notifying the veteran employes of their immediate dismissal, were not sent yesterday, pending the signing of the bill, but they are expected to be received today before the workers close their desks for the last time.

Their only hope of being retained is through exemption by the President, which may be made on application from the department concerned. Departments were busy yesterday transmitting to the Civil Service Commission lists of employes subject to the retirement provision who are regarded as essential.

The employes affected are "extensions" of two or four years beyond the regular retirement ages of 62 in the postal service, 65 in certain hazardous occupations, and 70 in the general clerical and departmental service. Some of them are high-salaried executives or specialists. They will be retired on annuities of $1,200 a year and less.

In the Treasury Department 470 men and women are affected, 100 in Washington and 197 in the field service of the Customs Bureau. The retirement provision was described by a department executive yesterday as "the cruelest part of the economy bill." In the way matters have developed, it is practically a case of firing without warning, he said.

Woman's Advance Urged on Chief

Feminist Leader Urges Right to Engraving Unit Position.

Appointment of a woman to be superintendent of the numbering division of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing yesterday was urged on Alvin W. Hall, director of the bureau, by Miss Gertrude McNally, secretary of the Women's Union of the bureau.

A vacancy is expected in the post now held by a woman, because of the operation of the new economy law requiring immediate retirement of Government employes who have reached retirement age and have had fifteen years service.

"The vast majority of employes in the numbering division have always been women and it necessarily follows that women will, therefore, be the ones who qualify for promotion because of their knowledge, both general and specialized, of the work required in the division itself," Miss McNally wrote Director Hall. "Despite the preponderance of women workers in the bureau," she said, "the tendency has been marked of late years to reduce the number who hold supervisory positions, and although at one time heads of four divisions were women, the numbering division now remains as the only division in the entire bureau headed by a woman employe." Director Hall said it appeared retirement of the present head of the bureau would be required by the new law and certain changes in organization would be necessary and careful consideration would be given to the letter.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES

Cordova, Alaska, June 30 (A.P.).—Airplane pilots who flew over Goat Mountain, scene of a huge low-grade gold ore discovery, today reported the "mountain swarming with men" who are staking out claims. Scores of men unable to buy transportation are walking out the Copper River Railroad tracks in an attempt to reach the mountain and stake out claims. Many of them have nothing but a pick and shovel, hoping the mountain will provide food as well as gold.

Philadelphia, June 30 (A.P.).—Mayor J. Hampton Moore announced today that President Hoover will not come to Philadelphia to make a Fourth of July address at the exercises to be held at Independence Hall. Instead, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Jahncke will be the principal speaker, the mayor said.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 30 (A.P.).—Chicago was selected today as the convention city for the 1933 international gathering of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm at the closing session of the Grotto convention here.

Detroit, June 30 (A.P.).—Henry A. Leusch, Cleveland, was reelected supreme president of the Knights of St. John today at the closing session of the organization's thirty-ninth international convention. It was Leusch's third term in the office. All other offices of the organization were reelected.

Powhattan, Ohio, June 30 (A.P.).—"Naval warfare" in the Ohio bituminous coal strike field was renewed on the Ohio river today, and before the engagement ended air forces took part in the battle. Strike pickets were routed from rowboats in the river by an Ohio National Guard plane. There were no casualties.

Funeral services for Lieut. Col. John James Burleigh, who died suddenly at the Martinique Hotel Wednesday from a heart attack, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at the Fort Myer gate, Arlington National Cemetery, followed by interment in that cemetery with military honors.

Lieut. Col. Burleigh was in Washington on leave of absence from his station at Governors Island, N. Y., where he was the inspector general of the Second Army Corps Area. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Connor Burleigh, and a 14-year-old daughter, Marion, were with him at the time of his death.

MAJ. C. T. HENDLER DEAD.

Revenue Attorney to Be Buried In Arlington Tomorrow.

Maj. Charles T. Hendler, 71, special attorney in the civil division, office of the general counsel, Bureau of Internal Revenue, died Wednesday at his home in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Coming to Washington more than 50 years ago, Maj. Hendler worked at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, studied law at Georgetown University, practiced here for many years, and served during the World War in the office of Judge Advocate General, with the rank of major, later going to France. He entered the Bureau of Internal Revenue after the war.

Funeral services will be held at Hysong's funeral parlors at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, with interment at Arlington Cemetery at 11 o'clock.

PARALYSIS IS FATAL TO DR. C. MARSHALL

Dean Emeritus of Howard U. Medical School Will Be Buried at Carlisle.

Dr. Collins Marshall, 76 years old, dean emeritus of Howard University Medical School, died Wednesday at his residence, 2517 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, after a paralytic stroke. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Hysong funeral parlors. Burial will be at Carlisle, Pa., his birthplace.

Dr. Marshall at one time was superintendent of the Postoffice Building, and first chairman of the general supply committee, Treasury Department. He studied at Howard Medical and Dental Schools, receiving his M. D. in 1883. He practiced medicine in 1896, when he became an assistant in histology at Howard.

He performed early work in microphotography, and served as vice president of the Mierocscopical Society of Washington. He became professor of pathology at Howard in 1898. Later he was professor of microscopy. He later became dean of the medical school. He retired in 1926 as dean emeritus. He also served as consultant pathologist at Freedmen's Hospital.

Dr. Marshall received his early education in England. His father, James William Marshall, was consul at Leeds. He was appointed by President Lincoln. He later served as Postmaster General under President Grant. Dr. Marshall was a member of the Cosmos Club, District Camera Club, Medical Society and Medical Association of Washington. He is survived by his nephews, Henry Tyson Marshall and George Stevenson Marshall, of Washington.

TWO POLICE FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT

One of Accused Officers in Anne Arundel Also Is Demoted.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 30.—A jury in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court deliberated but a few minutes today before returning a verdict of guilty in the case of Police Sergt. Arthur Zang and Patrolman William Thompson, of the Annapolis Police Department, tried jointly on an indictment charging pandering and assault. Judge Robert Moss said he would pronounce sentence within a few days.

In the meantime, Acting Police Commissioner Thomas G. Basil announced the demotion of Sergt. Zang to patrolman, and appointed Patrolman William L. Owens as his successor, the appointment to become effective immediately. Both Zang and Thompson have been under suspension for some time, and Commissioner Basil said this would be continued until their trial before him on charges of violating police regulations and general inefficiency.

The criminal action against Zang and Thompson was taken by the county grand jury as the result of an escapade on the night of June 6, when the graduation ball was in progress in the gymnasium at St. John's College. The two officers visited the college campus and arrested Miss Helen Gott, 20 years old, of Annapolis, and Romaine Moss, 19, of Fort Bragg, N. C., her escort at the ball. The couple admitted they had a few drinks at the home of a friend before going to the ball. Miss Gott was taken ill while dancing and she and her escort left the building and strolled into the fresh air. When the couple was arrested they were placed in custody of a man in an automobile who, the officers said, was a special deputy. This "deputy" proved to be George Vano, a Navy bluejacket. Moss, in the meantime, went to search for some friends to get the girl and himself out of the predicament. When he returned he was unable to locate Miss Gott, who, it developed remained in the automobile, parked in a city street, until 4 a. m. when she was taken home by friends.

The officers claimed they arrested the couple and proceeded to round up others on disorder charges. They disclaimed seeing Vano about the campus, but turned Miss Gott and Mr. Moss over to Charles Worth, another special officer, who was directed to summon the patrol wagon from police headquarters.

Mrs. Laura Neary, of Odenton, indicted for attempting to wreck a locomotive on the Pennsylvania Railroad by placing an iron bar obstruction on the tracks near Patuxent Station on two occasions, May 12 and 26, was arraigned this afternoon and pleaded not guilty.

2 Men Reprieved After Fatal Hour

Pair in Sing Sing Get Stay Following Time Set for Electrocution.

Ossining, N. Y., June 30 (A.P.).—Twelve minutes after the time set for their electrocution, two condemned prisoners were granted 24-hour reprieves tonight by Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing. The men, Dominic Odierno, 20, and Frank Giordano, 32, were to have been put to death at 11 o'clock for the slaying of a rival gangster in a Bronx beer war.

Warden Lawes ordered the electrocution postponed while he talked by telephone with Gov. Roosevelt's personal counsel in Albany. At 11:12 he announced he was invoking his authority to grant 24-hours stay at the recommendation of the governor's counsel, M. Maldwin Fertig.

Lawes said the delay was decided upon to give New York City officials an opportunity to investigate a statement made tonight by Giordano. The statement was reported to deal with several unsolved crimes. It was the first time in Sing Sing's history that a death sentence was postponed after the time set for its execution had elapsed.

Bank of England Change Included in Money Plan

London, June 30 (A.P.).—A system of automatically regulating the supply of currency to the amount of commodities exchanged, thereby largely eliminating fluctuations in the price level, was approved tonight by the London Chamber of Commerce for submission as the basis of monetary discussions at the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference.

The scheme would require alteration of the Bank of England to make it perform the functions of a purely central bank. Currency would be issued against all commodities, as represented by eligible commercial bills, instead of against one commodity like gold, as at present.

Nicaraguan Guardsman Kills Another and Flees

Managua, Nicaragua, June 30 (A.P.).—Sergt. Edward Hall Schmierer, U. S. M. C., serving as a lieutenant with the Nicaraguan National Guard, was shot and killed early today by another lieutenant of the guard who then deserted with four enlisted men.

Reports from the town of San Isidro, where the incident occurred, said Lieut. Roberto Gonzalez shot Schmierer while the American was asleep. No motive for the killing was given. Schmierer's service record gives as his next of kin his mother, Mrs. Mary Schmierer, of Philadelphia.

Self-Defense Is Plea In Slaying of Veteran

Marion, N. C., June 30 (A.P.).—Taking the stand in his own defense today on a charge of murdering Louis Chiapetta, a Texas bonus marcher, in a freight car here, A. W. Banks, railroad policeman, testified that several "thugs" surrounded him and attempted to disarm him. He pulled his gun and fired accidentally in the ensuing tussle, he said.

Veterans who were with Chiapetta had testified he was killed as he slept in the freight car.

Stork Visits Bonus Forces And Baby Boy Joins Heroes

Above is the newest arrival among the bonus army ranks. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Pippenbrink and was born yesterday in Gallinger Hospital. He is shown with his mother.

Name for Son of Florida Veteran Now Leading Issue of Army.

The stork has visited the bonus expeditionary forces.

In Gallinger Hospital is a chubby boy who is causing more discord in the ranks than anything heretofore. Seething revolt reigns. All thoughts of the bonus are temporarily submerged. Old comrades have parted over the new issue which confronts the army. A maternal instinct has gripped the army.

The great issue is: "What is the bonus baby to be named?"

So great was the import of the momentous event that it remained a state secret for two days. The youngster who is causing all the ado is Master Pippenbrink, the new born son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Pippenbrink, of Jacksonville, Fla.

May Be Named Bonus.

His arrival at 2:15 o'clock Wednesday morning caused more of a furore than the election of a commander in chief. Excited groups of veterans are holding impromptu meetings to decide upon a name.

"Let's call him Bonus and have a parade in his honor," suggested one veteran at Camp Marks.

"Bonus nothing; he'll be named Wright Patman or Pelham Glassford if I have anything to say about it,' 'emphatically declared another, with a proprietary air.

Indignation ran high in the ranks when a runner from Gallinger Hospital breathlessly announced that the mother is thinking of naming the baby Reginald.

Hitch-Hiked From Florida.

His mother, a dark-haired, brown-eyed girl of 23 years, and his dad hitch-hiked here from Jacksonville, Fla., to join the bonus army. On their way they sold door stops to pay for food. The baby's father served overseas in the Twenty-sixth Infantry.

Upon arrival here he obtained a furnished room at 212 Arthur place northwest, and has been in the ranks of the army.

When Dr. James J. Whisman brought the baby into the world he weighed 7 pounds 2 ounces. He has the brown eyes of his mother.

"You can say that I want to name him Reggie," she said. From the look in her eyes one gets the impression that will be his name, too, regardless of the vehement protests of the whole army.

DISEASE FEAR AGAIN GRIPS RANKS OF BONUS VETERANS

order and supporting the Constitution. We would try to eliminate groups that might attack the United States Government," Waters said.

Glassford Donates Food.

Temporary relief for the food problem was afforded yesterday when Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, Superintendent of Police, personally gave $750 worth of food including 3,000 pounds of meat, 500 pounds of sugar, 200 pounds of salt, 1,000 pounds of potatoes, 1,000 pounds of onions, 1,000 pounds of coffee and 4,000 loaves of bread.

The food is sufficient to last through breakfast this morning, according to F. A. Ross, national supply officer. Other supplies are on the way. Whether they will arrive before the commissary is emptied is speculative. Three tons of food are en route from Standish, Mich., and five truck loads are on the way from New York. Washington bakers, who have donated undelivered bread each day, have asked to be relieved of this service.

Waters yesterday appointed Doak E Carter, of Cleveland, Ohio, as chief of staff of the bonus army. Doak was an ensign in the Navy during the war and later served in the Army. O. W. Lucas, of New York, was appointed national adjutant.

Permit for Meeting.

The Workers' Ex-Service Men's League and the national provisional bonus march committee, both Communist organizations, were issued permits yesterday to hold a meeting last night at Eighth street and Market Space northwest. The meetings will be allowed each night for a week. They will not be bothered by police unless they constitute an obstruction to traffic, or are the objects of public complaint. The permit was issued by Gen. Glassford for Samuel J. Stember, a New York Communist.

Veterans scored a minor victory on Capitol Hill yesterday when the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill reducing from 4½ to 3 per cent the rate of interest on loans to veterans on their adjusted service certificates.

Two Measures Combined.

The bill also provides that loans may be made immediately after issuance of the certificates instead of waiting two years as now provided. Senator Norris (Republican), of Nebraska, sponsored the interest reduction, and Senator Copeland (Democrat), of New York, the other feature. They agreed to combine the two measures and they were passed as one.

Opposing the interest reduction, Senator Smoot (Republican), of Utah, read a letter of Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines opposing the bill and saying it would cost the Government a total of $398,623,833. Hines reported the bill "would not be in accord with the financial program of the President."

Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer, is gravely concerned over the possible outbreak of contagious disease. "One case of epidemic dysentery has been reported at Walter Reed Hospital," he said. "It is likely also that the others are of the epidemic type, but I can not be certain of this until laboratory tests are made."

To guard against disease, a big cave will be dug in the side of the hill near Camp Marks to be used as a storage place for food. Ice will be used to keep the food cold. G. Yarman, of Akron, Ohio, will dig the cave. It will be 10 feet wide, 30 feet long and 7 feet high.

Army Policy of Waters Rapped by Communists

With a vigorous denunciation of the policy of Commander Walter W. Waters as "betrayal of the rank and file veterans," the Workers Ex-Service Men's League last night began an intensive program to wean the veterans from the leadership of the B. E. F.

Several hundred listened to three speakers who addressed a meeting sanctioned by police at Eighth and C streets northwest. They said Waters' election was farcial and charged that he is dominated by enemies of the bonus.

John Pace, of Detroit, harangued the crowd for more than an hour. He promised his listeners they would get the bonus in two weeks under the leadership of the Workers Ex-Service Men's League.

All were asked to go back to their billets and form committees to attend a meeting today at 11 o'clock at Thirteenth and B streets southwest.

Discouraged Men Quit California Bonus March

Dallas, Tex., June 30 (A.P.).—A discouraged element of the southern California bonus army turned homeward today, depleting the ranks of the 1,200 veterans who had been stranded here since Sunday, en route to Washington.

Gasoline and oil was furnished by the Veterans' Relief Association for the automobiles of those wishing to return to the Pacific Coast, but denied to those who wanted to continue on to Washington. The exact number of those deserting was not determined, but nearly a score of automobiles were reported to have headed westward. Other cars left for the East and about 350 veterans went to the Texas & Pacific Railroad yards to catch eastbound freight trains.

Bonus Marcher Killed By Train in Carolina

Charlotte, N. C., June 30 (A.P.).—His intention to hop a freight train to go to Washington to join the bonus army cost the life here today of Claude A. Atkins, about 38, World War veteran, of Dallas, Tex.

Atkins and several companions stood at a railway crossing and watched the approach of the northbound freight train, it was said at the coroner's investigation, and apparently did not notice the approach of a southbound passenger train. Atkins' companions were not injured.

BRITAIN ACTS TO CUT WAR LOAN INTEREST

Huge Conversion Operation Announced in Commons; Bank Rate Reduced.

London, June 30 (A.P.).—A huge war loan conversion operation, cutting interest from 5 per cent to 3½ and saving the government millions of pounds, was announced in the House of Commons tonight by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

It was the second financial sensation of the day. This morning the Bank of England lowered the bank rate from 2½ to 2 per cent, placing it at the lowest level since 1897. This was the sixth reduction in the bank rate in a little more than four months.

The conversion scheme is expected to bring about gross savings of £30,000,000 (currently, $108,000,000) during 1933, although this would be reduced by losses in the income tax surtax to about £23,000,000 (currently, $83,000,000).

Plans for the conversion had been kept most secret, but was forecast by the bank rate drop and by a fall in the price of war loan 5s to below that of consol 4½s.

The government intends to repay the war loan in cash next December 1, to those who make application within three months. The right is reserved to repay others in full after 1952.

A £1 bonus per £100 will be sent to those who signify their willingness to convert before July 31.

Approximately £2,000,000,000 (currently $7,225,000,000) of the war loan 5s are outstanding at present.

LAUSANNE IS LOCKED AGAIN ON WAR DEBTS

"Will U. S. Forget?" Issue Rises as Franco-German Impasse Continues.

Lausanne, Switzerland, June 30 (A.P.).—The question whether America will forgive and forget war debts became preeminent tonight as delegates to the Lausanne reparations conference again found themselves face to face with deadlock.

An official French spokesman said Premier Edouard Herriot had decided the interdependence of reparations and war debts must be maintained and he would accept no settlement unless it contained a clause safeguarding France against the possibility the United States might refuse to reconsider the war debts issue.

Germany contributed her part to the deadlock by turning down a French suggestion she deposit a 6,000,000,000 mark (about $1,500,000,000) bond with the World Bank in lieu of reparations annuities. This deposit would be made pending negotiations for revised debt agreements with the United States.

The conference was in confusion as both the French and the Germans refused to budge an inch on questions of principle, and experts admitted that a way out would be difficult to find.

YOU BUY A REFRIGERATOR for COLD

NOT COMPANIONSHIP

Noisy children, chatty neighbors in your kitchen are all right—they're human, and their noise is friendly.. But a noisy refrigerator has no such excuse—it has no excuse at all, and there's no reason why you should put up with it.

The GAS refrigerator has everything that any fine automatic refrigerator has, plus two vital advantages—silence and economy.

The gas refrigerator is quiet because there just isn't anything in it to make noise—no complicated machinery, no starting-and-stopping mechanism.

And it's economical—a little gas and a little water are all that it needs, and these cost but a few cents per day. The gas refrigerator is so economical that it pays for itself out of the savings it makes. Therefore, it actually is an economy to own, and every modern family can and should have it.

Convenience (you don't know what you're missing without it!), color at no extra cost, easy terms, $20 allowance for your old icebox! That's too good to miss!

REPUDIATING ITS OWN.

One may search the Democratic platform in vain for approval of the achievements of the House of Representatives which has been under domination of that party during the present session. It is obvious that the Democratic party does not intend to stand upon the record it has made in the House. In effect, the platform asks the public to forget the blunders of the Democrats in action and listen to the sweet music of future promises.

In several instances the platform indorses the action of President Hoover and by inference condemns the action taken by the Democratic House. For example, the opening paragraph denounces the "indefensible expansion and contraction of credit for private profit at the expense of the public". Over the opposition of Republican leaders, the House passed the Goldsborough bill, instructing the Federal Reserve Board to manipulate credit and currency with a view to raising prices to the 1926 level. The platform condemns what the Democratic House sought to accomplish.

The Democratic platform favors "expansion of the Federal program of necessary and useful construction affected with a public interest". It would be difficult indeed to construe this language as other than a slap at Speaker Garner's pork-barrel bill for the erection of hundreds of postoffices and other extravagant projects that are entirely unnecessary. No Democrat who stands upon the platform demanding a saving of not less than 25 per cent in the cost of the Federal Government can honestly defend the Garner pork-barrel grab.

Gov. Murray and several congressmen presented the soldiers' bonus issue squarely before the convention. They reminded the delegates that the Democrats of the House sponsored and passed the Patman bill for immediate payment of the bonus through a debasement of the currency. But the convention turned its back upon that plea, and adopted a plank containing no mention of the bonus. The war veterans' plank reads as follows:

> We advocate the fullest measure of justice and generosity for all war veterans who have suffered disability or disease caused by or resulting from actual service in time of war, and for their dependents.

This plank is a repudiation of the bonus bill, and the bill passed by the House to spend a few hundred millions on widows, orphans and parents of veterans who were not debilitated in the war and who died from causes that may afflict any citizen.

William G. McAdoo asked the convention to favor the guaranty of bank deposits by the Federal Government. That is strictly in line with the Steagall bill forced through the House by Democratic leaders. But the platform makers and the convention would have none of this nonsense. Instead, they borrowed an idea from President Hoover, indorsing "quicker methods of realizing on assets for the relief of depositors of suspended banks".

Perhaps the strongest rebuke administered to the House Democrats is contained in the plank that demands "a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards". Both the Patman bonus bill and the Goldsborough bill were openly advocated as means of inflation. The majority in the House would cure the depression by fixing prices and debasing the currency. Democrats will have only themselves to blame if their votes on these measures ring louder in the public ears than does the sound currency plank in the platform.

The Democratic party has launched its attack against the record of the administration rather than against the Republican platform. It may expect similar tactics. As Gov. Byrd told his fellow delegates, "The public will not give our party power on the strength merely of the faults of the other party". From long experience the public knows how hollow campaign pledges may be. It is the record of the Democratic party in action, and not its rosy predictions for the future on which the public will base its judgment in November. The fact that the national convention has seen fit to ignore or to repudiate almost every major policy that the Democratic majority in the House has adopted is a point of weakness that is destined to play an important part in the forthcoming campaigns.

THE ECONOMY BUNGLE.

The economy bill, which President Hoover signed yesterday, is one of the most bungled pieces of legislation that Congress has turned out at this session. Its defects and its discrimination against several groups in the Federal service will doubtless cut deep into the morale of Government workers. The political cowardice which glares out of every paragraph causes the public to despair of any real economy by congressional action.

Speaker Garner defeated the efforts of the Senate to correct the most egregious defects in the measure. By refusing to appoint new conferees who could reconsider the bill before July 1 he took upon himself responsibility for the rank injustice that will be inflicted upon Government workers. His arbitrary conduct in this respect adds another chapter to the unenviable record of the House for ineptitude. Inasmuch as the Senate, in returning the measure to conference, aimed only at correction of inconsistencies and obvious defects, the Speaker's championship of these blunders stands out in bold relief.

Throughout consideration of the economy measure the House floundered in a tangle of politics. First, the Democratic majority repudiated the work of its economy committee, reducing possible savings under the bill to about $40,000,000 as it passed the House. When the Senate had reinstated substantial economies, the House suddenly reversed its position. It had voted to exempt all salaries under $2,500 from pay reductions. But when the measure was in conference, the House representatives insisted on levying the full penalty of the furlough system upon all employes earning more than $1,000. By an overwhelming vote the House approved this drastic action, along with a jumble of provisions that may result in double furloughs for many and dismissal for some. The wide breach between the first and last action of the House on the economy issue is due to the lack of leadership in the Democratic majority.

When the entire field of economies effected by this bill is considered the actual savings are pitifully small. Members of Congress are demanding economies on every hand, but they are willing to vote only for meager savings that are almost wholly assessed against Government employes. The $1,000,000,000 which goes out to veterans, nearly half of it to men who suffered no injury through their war service, remains untouched. The House voted in favor of adding a few billions to that sum, in the form of bonuses and pensions, and then passed the Garner pork-barrel bill, proposing to squander $1,200,000,000. Thus the House has actually voted for extravagance, instead of economy.

The Garner pork-barrel bill alone would swallow more than half a dozen economy measures of the size of the one just approved. For the most part Congress has refused to face the issue of actual economy. Pretending to meet the urgent demands of the people for lower costs of government, Congress has passed a picayunish measure extorting pennies from underpaid workers, and then approved enormous appropriations which distribute pork for the relief of politicians. The people will be subjected to new and crushing taxation unless President Hoover vetoes the pork-barrel bill.

EXPLORATION RACKETS.

Exploration and big-game hunting are at last yielding to the modern penchant for realism. From the days of Francis Drake to the present, exploration has been synonymous with adventure and romance. The discovery of new places and the facing of unknown dangers has fascinated the romantically inclined of all ages. But now modern science comes along and takes the glamour out of exploring.

Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey has just returned from a trek of 4,500 miles through the South American jungles, including some of the wildest territory unclaimed by civilization. He was accompanied by three novices who paid $5,000 each for what they thought would be thrilling experiences. Alas! The party traversed some of the most "dense, dark and terrible" jungle without weapons—and nothing happened. "We haven't had any adventures," Dr. Dickey said. "I believe that adventures are an indication of inefficiency. Good explorers don't have them."

The party found no "white Indians," traced no "lost explorers" of former years, was attacked by no ferocious beasts, and encountered only hard work and the normal inconveniences of jungle travel. According to the ancient adage, every one finds what he looks for. The explorer who brings home tales of wild adventures in these modern days probably went out seeking thrills instead of useful information. For the most part exploration is now in the hands of scientists whose purpose is fact-finding and not harrowing exploits. The days of what Dr. Dickey calls exploration rackets are drawing to a close.

Big-game hunting is taking on a similar aspect. It is becoming more popular to hunt with a camera than with a high-power rifle. Carveth Wells, the English explorer and collector, expressed the growing public attitude when he said recently: "There is nothing heroic about big-game hunting. The big-game hunter who goes out to get trophies to hang on his wall is really exhibiting juvenile traits."

One reason for this attitude is because sportsmanship has gone out of hunting. Big game does not have a chance against modern firearms. What was once a struggle between man and beast is now slaughter. It is encourgaging to find the explorers and hunters as well as the public taking a more mature view of the jungle and its inhabitants.

$40,000 FOR NOTHING.

With a sudden stroke of generosity the Senate voted to appropriate $40,000 to finance an American delegation to an international monetary conference. It made no difference to the Senate that no such conference has been called, and no such conference is likely to be called. The Senate has slashed so many items in the last few days that it just had to break out with a bit of extravagance somewhere. A sop for some good political purpose makes a remarkable appeal to senators who have just completed the unpleasant business of cutting departmental appropriations.

Great Britain asked the United States to participate in an economic conference with a view to arresting world-wide deflationary forces. It was made plain that Uncle Sam would not participate in an international discussion of war debts, reparations or tariffs. With those subjects excluded the American Government agreed to take part in an international conference at London. It was understood that expansion of credit, stabilization of money and related subjects would be taken up. For the purpose of taking part in this type of conference, President Hoover asked for an appropriation.

Congress denied the request of the President, but appropriated $40,000 for a "monetary conference, including silver". Being the chief factor in the collapse of silver prices, Great Britain is not anxious to hold such a conference as the Senate proposes. Apparently this Government has no intention of calling such a gathering. It is extremely doubtful whether the projected "economic" conference will be held, since France and Germany have made no headway toward a solution of their deadlock on reparations, and no monetary conference would be feasible without an understanding on that problem.

The Senate took note of this situation, and then voted the $40,000 appropriation regardless of its futility. What's $40,000 when Congress has just finished slashing $100,000,000 off from Government salaries? The prodigality of the upper chamber in this respect only goes to prove that the Senate is still the Senate.

When the tumult and the shouting dies, it would be well for the Democrats to remember that the country is still waiting anxiously for that program which they propose as a substitute for the Hoover reconstruction policy.

After trying to follow the rapid changes of the Roosevelt forces on the two-thirds rule no one will be inclined to challenge the New York governor's mental agility.

It's a safe bet that the Democrats will come out for a policy of leniency toward debtors.

If the worst comes to worst, the Democrats can always compromise on Alfalfa Bill Murray and Huey Long.

MILITARY TRAINING

By WILLIAM JOHN COOPER,
United States Commissioner of Education.

If the great war established any one thing clearly it was that a whole nation goes to war with another nation or that groups of nations engage in battle with other groups of nations. Accordingly, while men and women of all social classes are required to support it, the leadership in conflict falls upon the educated classes. These men are required in the chemical warfare, in aircraft battles, and in the correlation of the various aspects of service. It is inconceivable, therefore, that our educated men should be entirely ignorant of the principles of war.

In 1862 President Lincoln signed the first Morrill act, which brought into existence a new set of colleges. Each of these has been required to offer military education. At the present time good people are trying to have military training dropped from these colleges. It is more conceivable to think of the Army as using an entire college. It will use such a college not exactly as the Army has used them in the past, but, to take a land grant college for example, one may think of the chemical laboratories which have been modified in such a way that their work leads to the chemical warfare division at the same time that students learn the arts of peace. They give attention to the manufacture of various kinds of gases or the preparation of the defense against these gases.

It is true that there will be much less emphasis put upon drill as such, for in general in trench warfare there is little opportunity to drill and very little emphasis needs to be given to marching. In a similar way the physics department will emphasize artillery and explosives. These are as essential in peace time as they are in war. Science instruction in our colleges is not yet a hundred years old. Nevertheless, it now has a splendid position in practically every college.

Just as the older form of college gives way to a newer type which gives a place to science, so must these new divisions emphasize the preparation required for a changed form of warfare. For it is only by having our educated men prepared for war that it can be avoided.

POST HASTE.

Of course, if you don't want to hear a wet and dry campaign you can spend the next four months in Patagonia.

With only three States—Georgia, Mississippi and Oklahoma—casting solid votes against the repeal plank, the peal of the Democratic appeal is ringing wet.

Senator Hull was the Dr. Garfield of the Democratic convention, attracting the boos of the booze boys.

Republicans mixed a wettish draught, so the Democrats had to concoct a saturated solution.

In only advocating repeal and early statutory modification the Democratic platform overlooks urging immediate nullification.

However other prizes are distributed at Chicago, the leather-lung medal must go to Bill Hard for the clearest, most impartial and accurate radio word-pictures of the complicated convention scene.

That scandalous souse of the Idaho delegation that came out all wet was one crack at prohibition and two at Senator Borah.

How a Democratic Congress would quail before their platform demand that Federal expenditures be reduced 25 per cent! The demand would be imperative that they begin by abolishing Congress.

The Democratic "competitive tariff for revenue" will admit of as much explanationing as the Republican prohibition lumber yard.

The minority reports of the two conventions on prohibition were almost identical, the difference being that unconditional submission was too wet for the Republicans and too dry for the Democrats.

Gov. Murray's bonus, free silver and a bunch of even more radical planks might have been shot into the platform if he had brought his militia instead of the kiltie band.

Nothing is so futile as the attempt to force weighty arguments on a political convention. With minds already made up, all the delegates and galleries want are short, dogmatic and vociferous assertions, so they can howl.

Just another demonstration that you can't beat somebody with everybody.

If Jim Farley is big enough to refrain from any "I told youse so," we'll nominate him for the Court of St. James. PAUL HUDSON.

CLODS OF DIRT.

The London Times for May 14, 1832, said: "It being known that the king (William IV, uncle and predecessor of Victoria) would come to town today, the greatest popular feeling was excited, and the line of road from Windsor to St. James' Palace was thronged with people ready to receive him. * * * The escort kept behind and close to the carriage windows, or in all probability mischief would have ensued, as we were told a number of clods of dirt were hurled at the carriage. Along the road to London the people expressed their feelings in a similar manner, and when the carriage entered the park the mob saluted their majesties with yells and execrations. * * * Shortly after the arrival of the king, the Duke of Wellington arrived at the palace, and, if possible, the people treated him worse than they did the king."

The Man Who Loads the Gun Must Share the Guilt of One Who Fires It.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

A RECENT number of a popular magazine contains the story of a manly hero who gambles away the last of an inherited fortune and becomes a thief in order to continue life as a "gentleman."

The story is so well told, the hero is so chivalrous, and the resolve to prey on the sordid rich is so cleverly justified that any reader in his teens would be tempted to share such a delightful and blameless adventure.

It is excellent fiction, but it is also a sinister kind of propaganda.

Many thousands of boys will read the story. Is it unreasonable to suppose that a few of them, resentful of poverty and unschooled in ethics, will follow the hero's example?

If they do, the author of the story and the editor of the magazine must bear the responsibility for all that follows—for every theft, every prison sentence, every wound and death.

To what extent is a man his brother's keeper? To the whole extent of his influence.

The conscience-free egoist will answer: "That is bosh. I ask nobody to follow my example or learn of me. I live my own life to please myself, and it is no fault of mine if weaklings use me as an excuse to wreck their lives."

That is shallow or dishonest thinking.

Law and logic agree that innocent intentions can not excuse guilt.

The reckless driver may be free of evil intent, but the law holds him guilty of manslaughter when he kills.

If one man deliberately persuades another to commit a crime, he must share the guilt of his tool. And his moral responsibility is only one degree less if he unwittingly prompts the crime by reckless and inflammatory speech.

If authors and magazines and motion pictures could not live without proselyting for evil, they might plead the law of necessity; but they are without excuse in a land where the greatest rewards are won by publications and productions that are clean.

The thought of censorship is hateful to a free people, but freedom is deserved only by those who can be trusted not to abuse it.

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

Bad Philippine Bill.
New York Herald Tribune.

With a persistence worthy of an honest cause Senator Hawes, of Missouri, is trying to bring his thoroughly iniquitous Philippine independence bill to a vote before this Congress adjourns. His latest argument against further delay is that he has found, by actual canvass, that only five members of the Senate are definitely opposed to the measure and thirteen doubtful. If this is an accurate survey of opinion in the upper house on one of the heaviest responsibilities abroad that has ever devolved upon this country, it can reflect nothing but indifference, traceable to a lack of appreciation of what is at stake. The senator's own figures, therefore, constitute the best possible reason why this bill should not be shunted through the fag end of a particularly exacting session, with the convention in Chicago as one powerful diversion from serious contemplation of it and its consequences and the progress of the relief and economy bills in conference as another.

Emergency Relief Deadlock.
Christian Science Monitor.

"Sorry, but you'll have to wait; he's in conference," used to be the extent of a private secretary's vocabulary. Now it is the Wagner $2,300,000,000 relief bill that is "in conference" between the United State Senate and the House of Representatives, and the country will have to await the outcome for an answer to the compelling needs that exist for aid in the unemployment situation.

In the conference the Wagner bill from the Senate will meet the rival Garner bill from the House. Between the two some wide divergences arise to be ironed out. And beyond this conference there arises the serious prospect of delay as the result of a possible presidential veto and subsequent jousting between the Capitol and the White House.

Bad Management.
New York Times.

One objective of the delegates opposed to Gov. Roosevelt at Chicago is overlooked by many. It was not to "stop Roosevelt," or any other candidate, so much as to stop an apparent effort to override and intimidate the convention from the first hour of its meeting. Whether purposely or not, the outgivings of Chairman Farley for some weeks in advance had steadily given the impression, or sought to do so, that the entire result was settled beforehand; that there was nothing for the delegates to do except to go to Chicago to register and approve a decision already made.

Gov. Roosevelt should not be held responsible for these tactics, except in so far as he chose and tolerated political managers who practiced them.

Oversight.
Ohio State Journal.

Apparently Congress overlooked slapping a tax on fresh laid eggs, but offhand that seems to be about all.

Kidnaping a Federal Offense.
Kansas City Times.

With the signature of the President to the kidnaping bill, the laws against kidnaping have been appreciably strengthened. The new law as a Federal act applies only to the interstate transportation of kidnaped persons, but it will subject kidnapers to criminal prosecution in the Federal courts in some instances, with possibilities of heavier penalties than might be incurred in some of the States.

The Federal law may not have any great effect, but it is another contribution to the restraints put around the crime of kidnaping, which has increased menacingly in recent years. It registers the Federal Government's recognition of the evil and its obligation to lend its aid so far as its jurisdiction will permit.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Wastes of a City, Including Waste Land, Can Be Turned Into Assets to Support the Unemployed Population, Says H. C. Gauss.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Means to secure self-support for some portion of the present unemployed by giving them the opportunity to use idle land must necessarily include the use of land in the vicinity of cities where unemployment is most acute. Such land is generally not now fit for raising crops and must be put into condition under stress of emergency. There is no time to "build it up."

The object of demonstrations now being carried on is to show that the wastes of a city, including waste land, can be made to support a considerable proportion of its population. The location chosen for the demonstration is a recently completed dump of about twelve acres, which had been a brick field, and which is now brought to grade with earth from excavations, chiefly clay, which has compacted to an almost pavement-like hardness. During the past three weeks garbage and other wastes have been collected and so treated that there is now available more fertilizer than would normally be used on the whole twelve acres. In making beds for the vegetables, the surface of the ground was scratched just enough to get the seed in, the purpose being to feed the plants from the top.

By labor, not exceeding two days a week for the three weeks, there are now planted and up (except potatoes) corn, beans, potatoes, okra, lettuce, carrots, beets, parsnips, turnips, cucumbers, radish and eggplant and one solitary volunteer tomato, which was rescued from the dump and is now doing well where one of the fertilizer piles had rested.

If this demonstration, which has started well, succeeds, it will show that any one, anywhere, provided ample fertilizer is furnished, can wrest from the ground with the aid of the sun enough and sufficiently varied food for a family, provided the preliminary period can be won through.

H. C. GAUSS.

Now Is the Time to Prepare for a Safe and Sane Fourth of July in the District of Columbia.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The Fourth of July is still some days away, yet the shooting of firecrackers has made its debut in Washington. It is against the law to set off firecrackers in this city, but grown-ups and youngsters get away with it and seldom are punished. Parents should restrain the youngsters and the law should deal with the grown-ups. Besides being against the law, it is very annoying to hear the sharp reports of some of the large firecrackers.

If people want to set off firecrackers let them do so outside of the District, where it is not against the law to set them off.

The law against setting off detonating fireworks in the District was passed because they are dangerous and harmful and often result in serious injury to the person.

Gasoline Applied Properly Will Afford Relief to Poison Ivy Sufferers.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Summer is "go to the country" time and likewise poison ivy time. Some years ago the Department of Agriculture issued a booklet dealing with this pest, and one suggestion, as I recall it, may be worth repeating. It is this: That if you have come into contact with poison ivy, bathing the irritated portions of the body in gasoline will bring immediate and permanent relief. The gasoline dissolves the oil. Of course, great care must be used. Gasoline is a dangerous commodity. But used out of doors and dabbed on—emphatically not rubbed—it is fairly safe. It has solved the poison ivy problem for thousands of people. WINSLOW KENNEDY.

JUST FOLKS

LITTLE LADY RICHES.

came riding by,
All dressed up in jodhpurs and a scarf pin in her tie;
She cantered and she galloped up and down the bridle way,
And passed a group of children in the city park at play.
She saw them at a sand pile, and she saw them on a swing, Without a groom to guard them as they jumped from ring to ring.

Little Lady Riches had a horse to ride about.
But grooms are sullen company, they seldom laugh or shout.
And every time she passed them in the city park at play
She gazed upon the children till she'd ridden far away.
And men, like me, who watched her from the benches where we sat,
Were certain that she wanted just one day as blithe as that.

The groom was under orders, so he galloped her along,
Pretending that her fancy for such pleasures must be wrong.
Of course, the man knew better, but a groom to earn his pay Must always do precisely as his wealthy patrons say.
And Little Lady Riches had to canter mile on mile,
When it was plain she wanted to make mud pies for awhile.

She thought it must be lovely to be free to romp and play
And to have no groom to guard her every minute of the day.
She was wearing pretty jodhpurs, but beneath her riding dress
Was the self-same urge to frolic which all little ones possess.
As she gazed upon those children we could almost hear her sigh—
But the groom was under orders and he made her gallop by.

WOMAN MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD

Mrs. Ruby Simpson Chosen in Arlington; Two Others Named on Group.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Cla. 500. Clarendon, Va.

Mrs. Ruby G. Simpson, of Cherrydale, a resident of Arlington County for the last nine years, is the first woman to become a member of the Arlington County School Board. For three years she has held the office of president of the Organized Woman Voters of the county. She is an active worker in school affairs and in all branches of civic activity. For a number of years she has been a delegate to the Arlington County Civic Federation.

The two other members of the school selected last night are Arthur Wilson, of Clarendon, and John M. Stewart, of Lyon Village. Mr. Wilson has been a resident of the county for more than 20 years, during which time he has taken an active part in its affairs. Mr. Stewart is a lifelong resident of the county and has taken active interest in both school and civic affairs.

The election last night by the school electoral board was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Donaldson, of Cherrydale, a member of the board. Other members are Dr. Walter G. Monroe and A. B. Honts.

Names of 36 candidates were presented for consideration. Many on the list were women.

The term of office of the new board is for four years, effective today.

2 Women Are Hurt In Auto Accident

Car Forced From Defense Highway Near Ardmore; One Driver Held.

Two women were seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were passengers ran from the road on the Defense highway near Ardmore, Md.

They were riding in the machine of Howell Hall, of Seabrook, Md. Hall was uninjured. The women, Arlene M. Fielding, 39, 829 Quincy street northwest, and Mrs. Mary B. Heddings, 52, of the same address, were taken to Casualty Hospital. Miss Fielding suffered multiple lacerations to her head and body, while Mrs. Heddings received a possible fracture of the skull and a fractured right arm.

Hall said another machine forced him from the road. According to Maryland State police the other car was operated by Pansy Thompson, 24 years old, of 2476 Ontario road northwest. She was charged with reckless driving and failing to stop after an accident and was held under $1,000 bond.

Rail Receivership Averted by I. C. C.

St. Louis-San Francisco Line to Get Loan of $3,390,000.

(Associated Press.)

The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway was saved from receivership by eleventh-hour action yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Today a new plan for operation of the property with the hope of reducing capitalization and fixed charges will tentatively take effect, although not yet approved by the commission.

The commission approved loan of $3,390,000 to the railroad to meet fixed charges and taxes due today. Officers of the company had informed the commission that unless this loan was made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation a receivership for the company was inevitable.

The commission opinion revealed that banks holding more than $5,000,000 worth of notes had agreed to extend them ten years. At the same time it was indicated most of the Frisco bond holders have agreed to forego interest on their bonds for periods ranging from five to ten years.

Cut in Dry Forces To Be Fixed Today

Decision on Reductions Under $1,119,000 Fund Slash Expected.

Prohibition Bureau officials are expected to decide today how many agents and other employes they will have to lay off as a result of reductions made in the bureau's appropriation by Congress. The cut amounts to $1,119,000 and will leave the bureau but $10,250,000 for the year starting today.

The bureau now has 1,900 agents in the field and a total force of 3,200, including attorneys and administrators. The bureau has sent letters to administrators, asking them to report which of their agents, attorneys and other officials are least efficient. From these reports it is expected that the ablest of the agents will be retained for duty.

Besides this appropriation cut, the bureau may suffer further through the economy bill in that some agents may have to be laid off without pay, although the bill provides merely for substituting the payless layoff for the present vacation with pay.

Brothers Are Convicted of Assault.

Two brothers, Warren and Howard Pritchard, yesterday were convicted in Police Court of beating Policeman William D. Cousins, 55 years old, who was attacked by the brothers when he interfered with a fight that was in progress at Fourth street and Kentucky avenue southeast. The brothers will be sentenced later.

2 Nearby Counties to Vote On Byrd Road Plan Aug. 9

Court Authorizes Special Election in Arlington and Fairfax to Determine Adherence to New Secondary Highway System.

Orders authorizing special elections to determine whether Arlington and Fairfax Counties shall withdraw from new Virginia State secondary roads system established under the Byrd road act were signed yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Walter T. McCarthy.

In each case petition signed by more than 25 per cent of the qualified voters of the counties were presented to the court as required by the law, under which the entire road construction and maintenance of the counties would come under State control.

The elections will be held on August 9. All voters qualified by the latest county election and any person since qualified 30 days before will be able to cast ballots on the road question.

The Arlington County petition was presented to the court by William C. Hull, chairman of a special committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation.

3 Fairfax County Police Renamed

Reappointments Are Made Necessary Under New State Law.

Three Fairfax County special policemen have been reappointed by Judge Walter T. McCarthy of the county circuit court, according to the provisions of the new State law.

Those reappointed were Capt. Heywood J. Durrer, of Lincolnia; Louis L. Finks, of Belle Haven, and Carl R. McIntosh, of Chesterbrook. The primary duty of this force is to patrol county highways.

The appointments become effective today and are for one year. Each man gave a penalty bond of $1,000. The court order appointing the men gave the county board of supervisors exclusive right to fix the salaries and allowances of the police force, which will work under the supervision of Sheriff Eppa P. Kirby.

Arlington Court Bailiff Is Notified of Dropping

The Arlington County, Va., board yesterday authorized County Manager Roy S. Braden to notify A. D. Eaton, bailiff of the county court, that his services are no longer needed.

Mr. Eaton' eservices were terminated because of an act by the Maryland General Assembly abolishing the office of court bailiff. Sheriff Howard B. Fields will take over the duties of the court. Mr. Eaton's dismissal becomes effective today.

Time Limit Is Set To Pay Water Bills

Board Gives Arlington Citizens Till August 1 to Settle Accounts.

The Arlington County board last night adopted a motion of Lyman M. Kelley, member of the board, that all delinquent water bills including frontage and tapping charges must be paid by August 1.

The board approved recommendations of State Auditor R. B. Jordan calling for the stagger system of sending out the bills. Mr. Jordan said the system will at least save the salary of one clerk in the water department. It was reported that there is approximately $20,000 in delinquent bills.

Failing to furnish the required $20,000 bond, G. Frank Allwine, of the Virginia Highlands Construction Co., who had been awarded the contract for collection of trash in the county, was relieved from the contract at his request. The contract was awarded to C. E. Stoneburner.

Fireworks Concessions Bring No Complaints

Temporary fireworks stands, which have raised the ire of Prince Georges County residents in past years, seem to be lacking this summer as July 4 approaches. C. Irving Root, engineer of the Park and Planning Commission, said last night that no complaints about temporary stands had reached his office. A few new structures are being erected for the sale of fireworks, but they are being built of fireproof material and are being kept back of the building line.

ALEXANDRIA LEGION WILL ELECT TONIGHT

Mrs. Susie Augusta Shuster to Be Buried Tomorrow in Baltimore.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The annual election of officers of Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion, will be held in Gadsby's Tavern at 8 o'clock tonight. The present commander is Capt. John S. Arnold. The new officers will assume their duties immediately after the annual State convention which will be held in Alexandria for four days, beginning July 31.

A card party for the benefit of the convention fund was held last night in Gadsby's Tavern, and a meeting of the convention committee to devise means of raising additional funds will be held Tuesday night.

It is expected that approximately 2,500 visitors, including delegates to the Legion State convention, the Forty and Eight, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the Eight and Forty, will attend.

Jesse Thomas, of Alexandria, has offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension of the hit-and-run driver, whose automobile was in collision with that of Mr. Thomas Wednesday night at the South end of the Highway Bridge. Judge William S. Snow, who was a passenger in Mr. Thomas' car, was cut about the face by flying glass, but Mr. Thomas escaped injury.

Another car, driven by Thomas Lewis, of Aurora Hills, Va., was also struck, but the occupants escaped injury.

Elliott F. Hoffman, clerk of the corporation court of Alexandria, reports that prohibition fines collected in June amounted to $1,157.50, as against $1,346.50 for May, a decrease of $189.

The Alexandria City street force has completed the bituminous macadam base on Franklin street between Lee and Royal streets, a distance of two squares, and the work is now progressing westward toward Washington street. The newly paved street will afford a hard-surfaced outlet to the assembly plant of the Ford Motor Co., now being constructed at the foot of Franklin street.

Attorney J. Randall Caton, of Alexandria, will be the principal speaker at the Maryland State Bar Association meeting in Atlantic City, in connection with that organization's celebration of Washington's Bicentennial. Mr. Caton's topic will be "Washington and the Law."

John W. Brookfield, jr., Emil Levy and E. Byrle Harrington, all of Alexandria, have been appointed notaries public by Gov. John Garland Pollard.

Mrs. Susie Augusta Shuster, widow of John N. Shuster, died Wednesday night at the home of her son, John A. C. Shuster, 401 LaVerne avenue, Potomac, Alexandria, after a long illness. She is survived by these children: Mrs. E. I. McQuinn, Baltimore; William C. Shuster, Philadelphia; John A. C. Shuster, of Alexandria.

Funeral services will be conducted at Cunningham's funeral home at 11 a. m. tomorrow by the Rev. E. V. Regester, D. D., pastor of the Del Ray Methodist Episcopal Church, and interment will be in Loudoun Park Cemetery, Baltimore.

Clifton Station Bible School Ends Tonight

The daily vacation Bible school, which has been conducted under auspices of the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches of Clifton Station, Va., during the last three weeks, will close tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Clifton High School. Each of the three departments of the school will present its work and give exhibitions of handwork made during the school.

Thirty-six diplomas will be awarded to pupils who have attended at least 11 out of 15 days.

VENUE CHANGE AIM FOR TRIAL OF CLARK

Petition Asking Move Says Fair Trial Impossible in Montgomery.

For the first time in the history of Montgomery County, Md., the State's attorney has asked for a change of venue in a case not involving capital punishment. In only one other instance, that time in a capital case, has the State ever requested such a move.

State's Attorney Stedman Prescott yesterday presented a petition for removal of the trial of Berry E. Clark, former clerk to the Montgomery County Commissioners, who was indicted on 97 charges of embezzlement of county funds, alleging that the State could not obtain a fair trial in the county.

Clark was tried several weeks ago on one of the indictments and the jury disagreed, reporting that eleven had voted for acquittal and one for conviction.

State's Attorney Prescott apparently was deeply chagrined by his failure to win the case.

The petition contained the affidavits of 35 prominent citizens who declared that "the State can not obtain a fair and impartial trial in this county and that practically every time said case is discussed matters of political opinion and politics are discussed therewith, together with other conditions existing in the county."

Those who signed affidavits were William R. McCeney, foreman of the grand jury which returned the indictments; Frank D. Leizear, Allan Farquhar, Milton Bancroft, Frank J. Downey, Francis A. Thomas, Charles W. Ray, R. C. D. Hunt, George C. Fry, Jesse H. Magruder, Charles B. Sellman, Clinton C. Boyer, Charles A. Boyer, David S. Tuohey, R. E. Hamilton, Howard L. Derrick, George R. Bean, Robert Miller, Charles E. Bond, Florence M. Bond, S. W. Magruder, John R. Harris, Russell S. Magruder, H. G. Ward, M. Spencer Ward, Charles A. Roberts, Chester R. Clagett, Dr. P. J. Broschart, R. Wootton, Clyde E. Thomas, Marshall M. Walker, R. W. Farmer, J. G. Ward and John Imirie.

The petition is to be passed upon by a full bench of judges, Chief Judge Hammond Urner and Associate Judges Robert B. Peter and Arthur D. Willard. Time for the hearing is expected to be fixed shortly.

Woman Jail Visitor Arrested.

Mrs. Margaret Rutter, of Baltimore County, came to Marlboro yesterday to see her husband, George Rutter, in jail there, but joined him when Sheriff W. Curtis Hopkins served a larceny warrant on her. Both persons are charged with stealing chickens from farmers living near Bowie.

BANK AT MARLBORO CHOOSES NEW HEAD

Clarence Roberts, Attorney, Named as Successor to Seton E. Belt.

Clarence Roberts, Marlboro attorney, has been elected president of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Marlboro in place of Seton E. Belt, who becomes chairman of the board of directors. Charles S. Early, formerly second vice president, becomes first vice president as a result of the change, and John E. Donald was chosen second vice president.

Mr. Belt was chosen as president a few weeks ago when the Marlboro bank, which was formerly a branch of the Southern Maryland Trust Co., of Seat Pleasant, split off from the parent bank. He found, however, that he did not have time to devote to his duties as president and asked to be relieved. Other officers decided on at the time of the bank's separation remain unchanged.

Noble F. Rushe, chief of the Hyattsville Fire Department, expects to run again for the presidency of the Maryland Volunteer Firemen's Association when it meets at Frostburg next week, he said yesterday. The 105 delegates from Prince Georges County are expected to be unanimously for him, and it is understood that there was an informal agreement last year that a man from the Western Shore would succeed the Eastern Shore man elected last summer. The only opposition to Rushe so far is Jesse Fisher, chief of the Annapolis department.

Bladensburg Firemen Prepare Aid for Fourth

At least five members of the Bladensburg rescue squad will be kept at the Bladensburg firehouse on July 4 to treat persons burned by fireworks, it was announced yesterday. This will include the two men always on duty. Other departments are expected to keep members of their rescue squads at firehouses in the county for first aid treatment for burns.

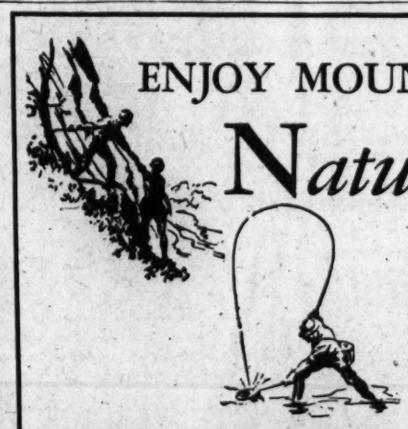
Natural Bridge
VA.



DO YOU want a joyous, unforgettable vacation? Then come to Natural Bridge—utterly unlike other resorts—more places to go—more things to see.

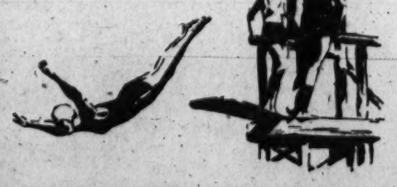
First, there's the Bridge—higher than Niagara—old as the dawn. You'll thrill over the sheer beauty of Lace Water Falls and the rushing torrent of Cedar Creek that for centuries has been busily beavering its way thru solid stone. Ride or hike over alpine paths winding thru the Government-maintained Natural Bridge Forest.

Fish the many mountain streams. Play golf over velvety fairways and greens. Plunge into the clear mountain waters of the pool. Play tennis and bridge.

Motor thru the awe-inspiring James River Gorge to the Peaks of Otter, 4,300 feet high—one of the most famous peaks in the East. Visit the enchanting caverns and grottoes and beautiful Goshen Pass. Ride over the Virginia Tyrol, a broad ribbon of road over the crest of the Blue Ridge, hundreds of feet above the madly rushing rapids of the James. Sleep under blankets. Enjoy old Virginia cooking.

When attending Bi-Centennial Celebrations, stop at the Bridge which George Washington surveyed.

Write for a little folder that tells what everyone should know about the famous Bridge and delightful hotel.



See the Bridge painted with the light of dawn-dusk-stars. Hear flooding forth from walls long mute—"The Symphony of the Centuries"—thrill at the "Drama of Creation."

NOTES OF INTEREST TO CAPITAL SOCIETY

Ambassador Claudel to Spend Holiday In Newport

THE AMBASSADOR OF FRANCE, M. Paul Claudel, accompanied by the Counselor of Embassy, M. Jules Henry, will go to Newport tomorrow to spend the holiday. Sunday evening the ambassador will be the guest of honor at the dinner which Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt will give at Beaulieu, their Newport estate.

On Monday the ambassador will address the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Society of the Cincinnati in the old State House, where the meetings of the society have been held since its organization. Members are going from several States. The Right Rev. James DeWolf Perry, president of the society, will preside. The ambassador will be the principal speaker of the public exercises. The annual luncheon and dinner of the society will be held at the LaForge.

The Ambassador of Peru, Senor Don Manuel de Freyre y Santander, will leave Washington today with his two children to spend the summer in Eagles Mere, Pa., where he has taken a cottage.

The Ambassador of Spain, Senor Don Juan Francisco de Cardenas, who is spending some time with the former United States Ambassador to Japan, Mr. W. Cameron Forbes, at his summer home near Boston, will not return to Washington until the middle of next week.

The Minister of Hungary, Count Laszlo Szechenyi, and his eldest daughter, Countess Cornelia Szechenyi, sailed last night on the Europo to spend several weeks abroad. They will visit the minister's son-in-law and daughter, Count and Countess Bela Hadik, at their home near Budapest before returning to this country to join Countess Szechenyi in Newport.

Secretary of State Stimson To Leave for Long Island.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Henry L. Stimson, will leave today for Highhold, his Long Island estate, where he will join Mrs. Stimson, who left earlier in the week. The secretary will return to Washington on Monday evening and Mrs. Stimson will remain there for a week or ten days.

The Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Charles Francis Adams, will leave Washington today for Concord, Mass., where he will remain over the Fourth of July with Mrs. Adams, who has been there for ten days.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur left Washington last evening en route to their home in California.

The Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Wilbur, at Rochester, Minn.; Glacier Park and, among other brief stops, will be at Spokane, Wash., and Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur will divide their time during their stay in the West between their home on the campus of Leland Stanford University and their mountain home in the Sierra Nevadas.

The Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur will arrive on the West Coast July 19. Their first stop will be in Buffalo today, where the Secretary will represent the President at the ceremonies celebrating the founding of Buffalo.

The Charge d'Affaires of China, Dr. Hawkling Yen, entertained informally at luncheon yesterday for Dr. Chia Chen Wang, former vice minister of foreign affairs of China, who is spending a few days in Washington. Dr. Wang was a delegate last year to the Assembly of the League of Nations.

The luncheon guests included the Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Francis White; the Assistant Secretary of Labor, Mr. W. W. Husband; Maj. Hayes Kroner, Mr. Maxwell Hamilton, the First Secretary of the Legation, Mr. Anching Kung, and the Second Secretary, Mr. Ken-Shen Weigh.

Senator and Mrs. Daniel O. Hastings have given up their apartment at the Shoreham and have returned to their farm near Dover, Del., for the summer. They will return to the Shoreham in the fall.

Mrs. Hardy and Miss Marion Hardy, wife and daughter of Representative Guy U. Hardy, of Colorado, have returned to their home at Canon City, Colo., after spending the winter in Washington. Representative Hardy will remain here for about a week after adjournment. He is at the Willard Hotel.

Miss Virginia Harris To Study Music in France.

Miss Virginia Harris, niece of Representative and Mrs. William E. Hull, who sailed last week for Europe, is now in Paris. Miss Harris will go to Fontainbleau early in July to attend the school of music which is held every summer in the chateau of Fontainbleau. She will remain there three months to resume her piano study, and will make frequent trips to Paris and nearby places. In October Miss Harris will leave Fontainbleau and will spend a month traveling on the continent before returning to this country.

Mrs. Hull will leave Washington shortly for her home in Peoria, Ill., where she will spend the summer. Representative Hull has made no plans for the summer.

Miss Margaret T. Benham Wed to Ramos C. Feehan.

The Special Assistant to the Attorney General and Mrs. William Robert Benham have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Tench Benham, to Mr. Ramos Chapman Feehan, son of Mrs. Ramos Feehan, of Thomaston, Me.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the two families only, on Monday, June 27, in Washington, and the bride and bridegroom left immediately for a motor trip through New England and in Canada. They will be at home in the fall at Whitefield, N. H., where the bridegroom is the principal of the Junior High School. The bridegroom graduated from the University of Maine and has a degree from Notre Dame.

Maj. Gen. Fox Conner, wartime member of the operations section of the general staff at general headquarters, A. E. F., and assistant chief of staff of operations, arrived in New York yesterday from France, after passing some time in Europe.

Gen. Conner is now stationed in Boston since his return to this country last fall from Hawaii.

Miss Frances B. Wilson Wed To Capt. Montague, U. S. M. C.

The marriage of Miss Frances Breckenridge Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., to Capt. Robert L. Montague, U. S. M. C., son of Representative and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague, of Richmond, Va., took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Andrew Mutch, assisted by Dr. Joseph F. Newton, officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace, which was worn by her mother, with a train of satin. The veil of tulle was held in place by a lace cap. She carried Madonna lilies.

Miss Susanne Preston Wilson was maid of honor. She wore a frock of ecru organdie, with a green sash and sandals and a beige straw hat trimmed with green ribbons. She carried a bouquet of mixed garden flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Josephine Newton, Miss Lily Dulles, Miss Elizabeth Coles, Miss Elizabeth Converse, all of Philadelphia; Miss Carol May Ward, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Sarah Carter, of Lexington, Ky., wore frocks of ecru organdie with tangerine color sashes, beige straw hats trimmed with tangerine color ribbons, and carried tangerine gladioli.

Representative Montague, father of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. David Karrick, Mr. Frederick Roy and Mr. Robert Breckenridge, all of Washington; Mr. Beuford Scott, Mr. William Anderson, Mr. Thomas Preston and Mr. Thomas Parrish, of Richomnd.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. Capt. Montague and his bride will sail for Port au Prince, Haiti, next Wednesday, where the former is stationed. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Col. and Mrs. Beatty Moore, of Alexandria, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Nunnelly, of New York, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman, who entertained at a garden party and tea yesterday afternoon at her residence in Edgemoor for Mrs. Edward E. Gann, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. John A. Holmes, Mrs. E. W. Koch and Mrs. Joseph Grosevenor, all prominent in Republican activities in the District of Columbia and Montgomery County, Md. The fete was given for members of both leagues of Republican women.

Commander and Mrs. Edward D. Washburn, who have been spending some time in Newport, will arrive in Washington today and will be at the Wardman Park Hotel while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snow and their son, Lee Overman Snow, left yesterday for Salisbury, N. C., where they will spend some time with Mrs. Snow's mother, Mrs. Lee S. Overman, widow of Senator Overman. Mr. Snow will return to Washington the middle of next week and Mrs. Snow and their son will remain for several weeks.

Commander Ralph T. Hanson, U. S. N., is stopping at Wardman Park Hotel for the duration of his visit.

Miss Narcissa Reeder Departs for Carolina.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles P. Summerall, jr., have had as their guest at their quarters in Fort Myer for some time, Miss Narcissa Reeder, daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. P. Reeder, of Fort Leavenworth, Kans., who left yesterday for Lake Junaluska, near Asheville, N. C., to spend the summer. Miss Reeder will return to Washington the end of August and will spend the month of September with Lieut. and Mrs. Summerall before joining her family, who will leave in the early fall for station in Panama.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Ash Claytor, Mrs. Robert Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cuthbert Hall and Mr. and Mrs. J. Whitla Stinson were among those dining at the Rossdhue Castle Club last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Wilson and their daughter, Miss Katharine Wilson, will leave Washington today for New York, from whence Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wilson will sail this evening to spend the summer in the British Isles, France and Belgium. Miss Wilson was graduated in June from the University of West Virginia, and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Sherby Married To M. M. Weinberg.

The marriage of Miss Sylvia Sherby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherby, and Mr. Manuel Morton Weinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Weinberg, of Lexington, Va., took place yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at the Washington Hebrew Congregation.

Dr. Abram Simon performed the ceremony in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. Palms, ferns and calla lillies and white summer flowers decorated the temple and small clusters of flowers marked each pew.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace, fashioned with a long train and long puffed sleeves. Her vail was of rose point lace and she carried white calla lilies.

Mrs. David Simon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and she wore a frock of pinky-beige lace. She carried pink roses and delphinium.

The bride's younger sister, Miss Gertrude Sherby, was maid of honor and she wore a frock of pink lace and carried yellow roses and delphinium.

The bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Epstean, of Detroit; Mrs. Ralph Daves, of Lexington, Va.; Mrs. Dan Weinberg, of New York; Miss May Cohn, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Harold Singer, of Washington. They all wore gowns of lime green crepe made with square neckline and small shoulder capes. They carried bouquets of butterfly roses.

Mr. Ralph Daves was best man and the ushers were the bride's brother, Mr. Dan Sherby, of Cleveland; Mr. Edgar Baum, Mr. Dan Weinberg, Mr. Maurice Maschke, of Cleveland; Mr. David Simon, Mr. Phillip Rosenfeld and Mr. Harvey Singer.

Following the ceremony there was a dinner at the Mayflower for the immediate families and the wedding party. Later Mr. and Mrs. Weinberg left for a motor trip to Canada, the bride wearing a traveling costume of chartreuse crepe trimmed with silver fox. On their return they will be at home in Frederick, Md.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Weinberg, of Lexington, Va., parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Sherby, mother of the bride, wore a green and white lace gown with shoulder spray of gardenias. Mrs. Weinberg, the bridegroom's mother, wore white lace and her flowers were orchids and lillies of the valley. The bride was a member of the June graduating class of Goucher College, in Baltimore, and Mr. Weinberg finished at Washington and Lee University in 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Conrad have taken an apartment at the Shoreham. Mrs. Conrad was formerly Mrs. Frank W. Bacon, of New York and Washington.

Miss Margaret Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morville Barker, has returned to Washington from Evanston, Ill., where she was graduated from Northwestern University last month.

The Woman's National Democratic Club entertained last evening at its weekly Thursday evening supper in the garden. Among those who had guests dining with them last evening were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Herrick, Mrs. Mary Hancock Tighe, Mrs. George M. Eckels, Mrs. Donald MacDonald, Miss Caroline Reilly, Mrs. Raymond Anderson and Miss Laura Barkley, who is spending a week or more at the club.

Oil Conference Opened in Paris

American, British and Roumanian Interests Seek Remedy.

Paris, June 30 (A.P.).—American, British and Roumanian oil interests met today in a conference designed in the words of a conferee "to pull the oil industry out of the depression."

The means to this end were intended to be limitation of production and stabilization of prices, although the Roumanians were inclined to oppose lowered production because oil is that country's chief export. If the conference solves the delicate problem of getting the Anglo-American and Roumanian interests together Russian representatives may join in the final phases of the discussion but, for the present, are not expected to participate.

A communique issued after the first session today said it was devoted to establishing contact, which proved friendly and sympathetic, and "examination of methods to be followed in order to give the labors a maximum efficacy."

ARCHITECT ACCUSES NURSE SUING HUTTON

Declares He Was With Girl Several Nights; Others Add to Charges.

Los Angeles, June 30 (A.P.).—Arthur A. Graves, architect, testified today he was with Myrtle St. Pierre at her home the night preceding the opening of her $200,000 breach of promise suit against David Hutton.

"I met Miss St. Pierre last February in a girl's apartment," he said, adding that on several occasions he had stayed at her home all night.

Identified as the husband of a veiled woman who conferred with Hutton, the husband of Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, at the opening of the trial, Graves testified with bowed head.

His wife, Mrs. Opal Graves, was not in the courtroom.

With obvious reluctance, John Curry, a telegraph operator, described as one of the suitors of the pretty brunette nurse, told the jury how he hugged and kissed Miss St. Pierre.

Another in the parade of defense witnesses, Joseph Levi, related an alleged visit of the nurse one night to a bungalow with George D. Ayube, former partner of Levi in a rug business.

Levi testified Ayube came to the bedroom where Levi was sleeping and closed the door. "I made as if I was asleep," he testified. "Later I heard whispers in the dark. Still later I saw Ayube in his bathrobe. In the morning Miss St. Pierre was gone."

Foreign News in Brief

Berlin, June 30 (A.P.).—The series of political brawls which have kept Germany in turmoil for weeks continued today with a free-for-all fight between National Socialist undergraduates and their opponents at the University of Berlin. Several of the battlers were injured and the university was closed for the day. Unless the tension lessens it will remain closed the rest of the week.

London, June 30 (A.P.).—The Prince of Wales was confined to his rooms with a chill today, but an official statement from York House said he was "going on well," the British equivalent of "doing nicely." The prince canceled an engagement to attend the Canadian Dominion Day dinner tonight.

Budapest, Hungary, June 30 (A.P.). Count Julius Karolyi, who accepted the premiership of Hungary last August, submitted his resignation and that of his cabinet today, announcing the government had completed the task it undertook when it assumed office. Regent Horthy declined to accept the resignation, however, and asked Count Karolyi to remain at the helm. The count consented to do so.

Vienna, June 30 (A.P.).—Karl Seitz, Vienna's Socialist burgomaster, saved the life of Orhenio Abel, rector of Vienna University, today by frustrating an attempt to assassinate him. While the rector was speaking at the unveiling of a monument Prof. Camillo Schneider, a member of the university faculty, apparently demented, whipped out a pistol and fired once at the rector. The burgomaster grappled with him and disarmed him.

Paris, June 3 (A.P.).—Hallie Stiles, American soprano, tonight sang the role of Manon in Massenet's opera of that name as the guest artist in the last performance to be given in the historical Opera Comique before October. She was most enthusiastically received. The Opera Comique will close its doors tomorrow for the first time since the World War for three months' repair.

Berlin, June 30 (A.P.).—President von Hindenburg today signed an emergency decree putting into effect the 1932 budget approved by the Reichsrat on Tuesday. He did so in view of the necessity for enacting a budget which, in the normal course of procedure, would require months. The budget balances at $8,173,000,000 marks (approximately $1,937,000,000). That is 1,200,000,000 marks less than in 1931 and 3,700,000,000 marks less than in 1930.

Shanghai, China, June 30 (A.P.).—The officer in charge of the Chinese customs at Manchuli, on the Siberian border, reported to his headquarters here today that his office had been surrounded and seized by Japanese police. Immediate evacuation of the customs staff was necessary, he said, and as a result of the blockade he was unable to get in touch with his head office at Harbin.

Edinburgh, Scotland, June 30 (A.P.).—United States Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon today received in person an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Edinburgh.

Naples, Italy, June 30 (A.P.).—Jay Walker, the American vice consul at Tunis, was married here today to Miss Genevieve Ruth Washburn, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis. After a reception they went to Tunis by airplane.

IDLENESS INSURANCE BY U. S. DISAPPROVED

Senate Committee Favors State Laws to Establish Reserve Funds.

(Associated Press.)

State legislation to compel establishment by industries of unemployment insurance reserves was advocated yesterday by a Senate committee.

After months of study, it recommended that the Federal Government "contribute to such systems of private unemployment reserves to the extent of permitting employers who maintain them to deduct some portion, if not all, of the contributions thereto out of their income for tax purposes."

The conclusion that Federal Unemployment Insurance is impractical, if not undesirable, was stated in the report, which said:

"We must have recourse either to the establishment of reserves compulsorily maintained by industries, to which employes may contribute; in pursuance of State legislation, or voluntary reserves maintained by the industries themselves with the cooperation of their employes.

"Upon neither of these alternatives can Congress legislate effectively, in our opinion. It can only recommend. * * *

"The experience of the past demonstrates to our satisfaction, at least, that industry will not, at least for a long time, if ever, take upon itself without compulsion, the establishment of such reserves. Therefore, we conclude that ultimately, at least, the States should formulate some program."

The report bore the approval of Senator Hebert (Republican), of Rhode Island, and Senator Glenn (Republican), of Illinois. Senator Wagner (Democrat), of New York, in a supplemental statement, said he agreed with most of the findings, but recommended that instead of deducting sums set aside for unemployment reserves from income as a basis for Federal tax, 30 per cent of such sums be deducted from the tax itself.

MAN HELD FOR JURY IN MURDER OF WIFE

Spouse of Star Tannery, Va., Laborer Missing; Body Never Found.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., June 30.—Kermit Orndorff, 26-year-old Star Tannery laborer, late today was held for the grand jury of Frederick County Circuit Court on a warrant alleging the murder of his 20-year-old wife, Mrs. Frances Nicholson Orndorff, who mysteriously disappeared from her home December 29. Orndorff's friend, Wayne (Pete) McIlwee, held also for the murder of Mrs. Orndorff, was freed.

A full county magistrate's court consisting of Justices A. J. Tavenner, A. R. Rinker and W. D. Parker heard the case today, a preliminary hearing ordered by Circuit Court Judge Williams after the latter refused the release of the two men on writs of habeas corpus.

Commonwealth Attorney Burr P. Harrison built up a chain of circumstantial evidence at the trial today tending to prove that the domestic life of the Orndorffs was rough, that the wife was afraid of her husband and that he had tried to impede the progress of the State's investigation looking for Mrs. Orndorff in every way possible.

Attorney Frank H. Brunback, of Woodstock, and Attorney Floyd M. Brill, of Winchester, representing Orndorff and McIlwee, asked that both men be released, as the State could not prove the crime nor produce the corpus delicti.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

THE Democratic national convention may have been one of the most interesting ever held by that party, but to many persons residing in apartments and row houses it was a general nuisance when they chose to sleep and neighboring radios were blaring forth accounts of the proceedings.

Washingtonians are supposed to be protected by an ordinance which makes loud operation of a radio receiver after 11 o'clock at night a misdemeanor. There were many complaints to the police about loud receivers, but none of the complainants seem to be willing to go to the trouble of appearing against the violator in court, as is necessary in order to have the set silenced.

Baltimore does not have such an ordinance. More than 40 complaints were received by the police during one evening. The police tried tact, requesting the offenders to tune down their loud speakers, being unable, under the law, to do anything else about it.

David Lawrence has a very skillful way of breaking in at critical times during the convention without irritating the listener. He is brief, lowering his voice, much as Deems Taylor does in the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts, and gets away with it in great shape.

Likewise Fred Wile and Bill Hard have been doing a splendid job. They are veterans in convention radio service and their work shows it. In addition to their ability in gathering the news, Wile and Hard are in a class by themselves as radio speakers.

And here let a pat on the back be given to Kaltenborn, who also measures up to the standard of the highly critical Washington audience. Kaltenborn has his own opinions, but apparently leans over backward to be fair.

A great many of the long-awaited thrills of the Democratic national convention were packed into yesterday's long sessions. The demonstrations accompanying the nominating speeches—the thundering peals of the great organ, the Texas cowhands' band, playing the "Old Gray Mare" with the most novel trombone effects, the New Yorkers' vociferous "East Side, West Side," and the "My Maryland" show—were all the color the audience could have desired.

Both networks started the broadcasts promptly at noon and continued until 6 o'clock without interruption, when a three-hour recess was taken. At 9 o'clock the networks were ready and the nominations continued. Among the scheduled features which went by the board yesterday were a rebroadcast of an address by the Prince of Wales from the Old Dominion Day celebration in London, a special Dominion Day celebration in this country, the Lucky Strike Dance Hour, the Boswell Sisters and many others.

VIRGINIA REA is returning to radio. The girl who rose to fame as Olive Palmer and became known throughout the country, has signed a new contract with N. B. C. and will appear in a new series of programs in the immediate future. The exact date will be announced shortly.

Countess Olga Albani, Spanish soprano, will make her first appearance with the Cavaliers Quartet and the Cities Service Concert Orchestra during the broadcast (WRC, 8 o'clock) tonight. A revised program will be offered, with dramatic sketches and special musical features helping make up a less formal hour than that previously offered. Rosario Bourdon will continue as director of the orchestra.

Viennese music will be featured by a concert orchestra and a chorus during the broadcast of Erno Rapee in Vienna (WRC, 9 p. m.). This series, which shows a great deal of care on the part of Mr. Rapee in the choice of selections and the musical arrangements, is one of the highlights of the ether at present.

The Tune Blenders, with Lanny Ross, tenor, and Don Voorhees' orchestra, will return to N. B. C. network and Station WRC at 6:30 o'clock tonight. The fifteen-minute periods will be heard on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same hour.

Three songs of good-by are on Singin' Sam's program tonight as he takes leave of the other members of his cast on the eve of his month-long vacation. The farewell is only to New York City, for Sam will be on the air on Monday as usual. He will broadcast from Indianapolis, to which city he will commute thrice weekly from his home town of Richmond, Ind. His accompanists will remain in New York and Sam will have instead Miss Rosemary Kissler, who accompanied him when he first went on the air over Station WLW.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

EXPERT ADVISES MORE DISCRETION IN MAKE-UP FOR YOUNG AND OLD.

ALL students of make-up seem to have made the observation that the majority of mature women use too little rouge and powder, while the majority of sweet young things use too much. And more discretion for young and old alike would strike a much happier medium and lend the illusion of beauty to many.

Make-up Problems of the Very Young.

The chief make-up problem of young girls in their teens is their inability to achieve a natural effect. Too much rouge or too much powder or a rouge and powder that do not match the skin give an artificial effect that make-up connoisseurs condone. "Cheap" is the adjective by which such make-up is described. There's an art in blending rouge so that it looks as though one's natural healthy color were intensified. There's an art, too, in coloring the lips so that they look a wee bit richer, lovelier, healthier. They don't have to be shaped to a perfect cupid's bow, after the pattern that thousands seem to follow. There's more interest and individuality if you follow nature's lines, improving teh least bit if the mouth is much too thin or too generous.

I am ready to go down on record as saying that no father or brother or uncle (and heaven knows they are a critical lot) would object to a young girl's use of make-up, would even notice the touch of rouge or powder, if the effect achieved was a perfectly natural one. If they raise very vociferous objections, look in your mirror. They may be justified and their verdict of "thumbs down" probably is a slur on the amateurish way you are wearing your lipstick or powder, not on make-up in general.

Make-up Problems of the Mature.

As mentioned above, the mature woman often goes to the opposite extreme and in her conservative attitude toward make-up fails to add that illusion of sparkling loveliness, health and youth. She often looks faded, "washed-out." Some women feel that a touch of rouge and powder is not natural. Properly applied it lends a look of glowing, natural color, that "bloom on a woman" than which nothing is more natural.

Please do not misunderstand. I am not urging mature women to use too much make-up, for that often gives one a ridiculous effect, a hard, cheap look and far from taking away the mark of years it often proves more aging. What I am urging is a discreet use of rouge and powder. Try adding a faint blush to the cheeks, a little more color to the lips, a better groomed look of powder, smoothly applied, not caked or streaked, not too obvious. Pat it on carefully and smooth away the surplus, don't rub harshly. The result should be the faintest hint of powder, with not a bit of perspiration or shine showing. I have known a deft touch of rouge to add a sparkle to a woman's eyes and a more alive look to her face—that look of buoyant spirit and interest that youth is usually heir to.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Odd color combination and stark simplicity make this evening ensemble. Midnight blue fan pleated chiffon insets and gathered top, old gold swathing girdle and sash ends, and the jacket of the gold with midnight blue velvet incrustations at the shoulders.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Hot 1st of July! Take it any way you wish—but let us take it fashionably, shall we?

I have in mind today white sports skirts. Somehow I have never been able to forget white sports skirts—remembering the one I had when it and some blouses constituted the entire wardrobe of a very struggling artist—that was me. The skirt was flannel, and every night or, at least, every other night it was washed and ironed, regardless of what hour that I might finish my studies and labors.

A white sports skirt is somehow always chic, year in and year out. Oh, of course, styles and lengths change, materials sometimes, too—but the white sports skirt seems to go on forever—always chic, always practical, always correct.

This year your white sports skirt has to be a bit longer—to mid calf, say, in length. And if you would have it, oh, so very, very chic, make it a wrap-around that buttons down the side back! And have it be of one of the delightful light-weight new woolens—soft, porous, but lovely to wear and to see. Then have a blouse of the same material so you can have a one-piece sports dress of it—and some other separate blouses and many brightly colored jackets. These and linen shoes, as brightly colored as the jackets, or hats to match, and you are well outfitted for the entire summer, if you so wish.

* * * *

Silk coats! That's another summer wardrobe item that I do like. For a silken coat, perhaps self-lined, which means lined with the same material in the same color and texture, has so many, many uses. One carries it over one's arm on the hottest town day—who knows, really, when a storm will come up? One wears it or carries it at night, for the warmest summer days have a way of turning suddenly cool in the late—or early hours. Ah, the silk coat!

* * * *

Just so designish this week. You can't help it—it's so very designish, anyhow, on this California ranch! Did I ever tell you I had a hundred and sixty something acres—always cool in the shade, but only one Joshua tree on the whole durn ranch? No—I'll take that back—there is only one full-grown one—the rest are babies. Still, when you see one of your most' intr'esting guests calmly digging up one of the other six trees to take home for a souvenir—what, I ask you, would a really lovely lady do? I'll tell you if you ask me!

Well, as I started to say—there's another Dah-ray designed gown for you today. This one is also black and gold and midnight blue—you'll have to forgive me these Dawn Mirage nights have "got" me as we so elegantly say in slanguage. This time I thought of a frock of black—flat, dull crepe, long and tight as to skirt, with an inset of fan pleats down one front side, of midnight blue georgette—which appears again in the oddly draped bodice. Then the gathered girdle is old gold, again, and the sash ends that hang from the girdle and from the shoulders are of the same lah-may. The jacket must be of the lah-may, and the upper part of the jacket be of midnight blue velvet, inset right into the body of the jacket. But the gathered throat closing of this jacket hangs open as a lapel, or closes as it is sketched, with sapphire buttons. Are you the-ah?

* * * *

Wouldst make fine lawn or ninon or voile nightgowns and be all Rue de la Paix elegant? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, then, to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet. For this leaflet tells you how to make these lovely cotton nightgowns, so cool and delightful for summer nights. And it doesn't even insist that they be of cotton—if you would prefer to have them of crepe or georgette. See the leaflet and decide.

Au revoir!

OFFERS FOLDER OF COOLING DRINKS.

I THINK cooling beverages are going to be much in demand, not only over the approaching week-end, but for some little time to come, for it is fairly safe to assume that some humid and sultry days are in store for us. And how good a refreshing drink will taste when we come in from the street, or the tennis court, et cetera.

With these days in mind, we have prepared a folder containing at least twelve quickly made drinks that will quench our thirst and renew our energy. Even now I can see a cooling sprig of mint tucked on the edge and a cherry supported by the cracked ice tinkling about in a glass! Wouldn't you like to have this folder that tells you how to make a sugar sirup, to be bottled and kept on hand as needed; a raspberry lime rickey, a gingerale freeze and numerous other recipes? We shall be glad to forward it to you, if you will but send us your request, together with a self-addressed, stamped envelope. You'll be glad to have the recipes, for their simplicity and tastiness make them a valued treasure in your files. And now we must plan a typical midsummer Sunday dinner with an air of festiveness about it, for the week-end marks the memorable occasion of the birth of our independence.

SUNDAY'S DINNER.

Chilled Cherries
Radishes Pearl Onions
Fried Chicken
Mashed Potatoes Corn on the Cob
Creamed Lima Beans
Dinner Rolls
Dressed Watercress
Vanilla Ice Cream with Hot Chocolate Sauce
Coffee

SATURDAY'S SUPPER.

Budget Beans
Beet Greens

Nearly Everybody Likes

Chow chow and pickles, relishes and such! And our new folder contains so many suggestions for so many delicious appetizers that you will want to stock your shelves to the limit. Send your request and a self-addressed, stamped envelope today. The recipes will delight you!

NANCY CAREY,
THE WASHINGTON POST.

Grapefruit Salad
Blackberry Sponge Pie
Coffee

Budget Beans.

1 can baked beans
½ pound American cheese—grated
1 onion—chopped fine
1 tablespoonful butter
1 cupful bran (soft breadcrumbs may be used)
2 eggs—well beaten
Salt, pepper and paprika to taste

Grate cheese coarsely, add to beans and bran and blend well. Cook onion in butter until soft. Add beaten eggs and onion to first mixture and mix well. Add seasoning. Put into buttered baking dish, sprinkle top with breadcrumbs and dot with butter. Bake in oven at 400 degrees until brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce.

2 tablespoonfuls flour
2 tablespoonfuls butter
1 can tomato soup
2 teaspoonfuls Worcestershire sauce
1 cupful milk
¼ teaspoonful ground cloves
Salt and pepper

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and blend well. Add tomato soup and milk, then seasonings. Cook until creamy. Beat with rotary beater before serving.

Blackberry Sponge Pie.

1 quart blackberries
½ cupful sugar
2 tablespoonfuls water
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin

Wash berries in cold water. Place in saucepan with sugar and water. Cover closely and steam over low heat until soft. Mash through strainer and measure two cupfuls of pulp. Pour over the gelatin while hot. Stir until thoroughly dissolved. Chill, and when cool and slightly thickened beat with rotary beater until light and spongy. Pile in a baked and cooled pastry shell. Spread with the following meringue:

2 egg whites
3 tablespoonfuls confectioner's sugar

Beat egg whites until stiff, fold in the sugar carefully and continue beating.

Advice on Gardening

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

JULY IN THE GARDEN.

THIS is the time when all spring flowering shrubs have finished and should be pruned. By doing this so early, the shrubs have many weeks to develop blooming wood for next season's display. All spring flowering shrubs bloom on wood made the previous season.

From now until September our lawns should not be cut as closely as they were in the spring, and the clippings should be left as a protection from the scorching sunshine.

Roses must now be given definite care. Old, hard canes of all ramblers must be removed as soon as the bushes are through flowering. Hybrid perpetuals must also be pruned and our teas must be fed and mulched so they will have the energy to produce some splendid blooms in the autumn.

Early July is the time to divide trollius clumps. Of course, we must wait until after they have finished flowering before we lift them. Set the divided clumps in a shaded position, where the soil is light and well drained. These young plants will not be likely to bloom for two or perhaps three years.

This is the time to remove the lateral stems from our dahlias in order to enable them to direct their energy to producing top growth which will mean flowers on the upper part of the bushes, where the opening buds will have plenty of sunshine.

To prevent rust on phlox and hollyhocks be sure to spray the plants with Bordeaux mixture. Remember, one application will have little effect, so spray them once every two weeks.

This is a good time to repot your house ferns, if they really need such attention. Ferns do not take kindly to having their roots disturbed, so, unless they are pot bound, do not disturb them.

If you are growing tomatoes be sure to stake them and keep the side shoots pinched out for the early ripening of good fruit. If the plants are not staked many of the tomatoes will decay.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

AWAY WITH FISHY WATER.

THE disagreeable taste and, sometimes, odor of municipally treated water supplies is due far more to other ingredients than it is to chlorine. The most objectionable of these other ingredients are the tars and phenols thrown into lakes and rivers as waste from coking ovens and related industrial plants. When these tars and phenols are pretty well diluted in a body of water neither taste, odor, nor appearance causes suspicion that they are present. But let a faint trace of chlorine be added to the water and at once the coke oven taste develops and the consumer kicks to the authorities. Occasionally he complains that some hospital is dumping its surgical dressings into the water supply. As a rule, he is better informed, or thinks he is, and he complains of the chlorine treatment. If he knows just what he is talking about he complains of some coke oven or other industrial plant that discharges tar waste into the lake or river.

In recent years the complaints of the chlorinated water supplies are becoming less frequent. This is partly because many coking plants are putting in apparatus to recover the tars and phenols from the sewage water. However, a more important improvement has consisted in the use of ammonia in some form or other in addition to chlorine. This process is called the ammonia-chlorine treatment. In most instances the chemicals used are combinations of chlorine and ammonia, known as chloramines.

About the time of the World War we heard much of the use of several chloramines for the purpose of sterilizing water. Several preparations are on the market under trade names. The man who was going on a camping tour, or the soldier on detached field duty, could take along a bottle of these tablets and use them to sterilize water from unproved sources. About two years ago cities began using these chemicals to purify municipal water supplies.

Experience on a large scale has justified this use. Water so treated has very considerable advantages over water treated with chlorine alone. It prevents the development of that carbolic taste in waters that contain some gashouse wastes. If those tastes are already there it does not remove them. But it does prevent the catastrophic bringing out of the carbolic taste which is so apt to follow when ordinary chlorination is done. It prevents the growth of algae, the green scum growth on water and on the shore line. It destroys bacteria in water even better than does chlorination, provided certain other requirements are met.

Since it slows up the bactericidal action water must be held for more than two hours after being treated to get satisfactory results. The water must be clear, free from turbidity, and not too alkaline. Treatment with one of the chloramines is especially satisfactory if the water is first filtered, then treated, then stored for a brief period.

PROBABLY DUE TO PRESSURE.

Miss C. L. writes:

I am troubled with a numb feeling that starts in my toes and gradually works itself up the entire legs. Is this serious? Can it be cured?

The probability is that this is due to pressure. It may result from your bed, or chair; your position in sleeping, or sitting, or your clothing. X-rays may show some bony pressure somewhere. It is not likely, but you may have some spinal cord disease.

Fifth Avenue Fashions

ISN'T this a pretty and girlish model? It's so easy to make, so darling to wear.

It can be carried out in a great many materials. For instance, a voile is a very charming medium, and either in flowered, dots, stripes or checks can be used. In place of the lace trim, it is also nice to use plain voile to tone with the print.

Washing silk, pastel linen, batiste prints, dotted swiss and printed lawns make up attractively.

Style No. 2891 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 10 requires 2¼ yards of 39-inch material, 1⅝ yards of lace.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"Cancer."

IF July 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a. m. to 10:15 a. m., from 1:30 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. The least favorable periods are from 11:45 a. m. to 1:10 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Some rather startling happenings are scheduled to occur on July 1. Planetary configurations denote unexpected developments that will inure to the benefit of those whose occupations are identified with manufacturing interests. Social contacts, too, will be made of a promising nature. Be on the alert for opportunities from unknown directions!

The child born on this July 1 will be winsome and attractive. The indulgence which it will receive as a result of these characteristics will not spoil its sterling qualities. It will be truthful, sincere and candid. Its intelligence will be average; its common sense exceptional. It is threatened with serious illness just before attaining the age of puberty.

If your birthday is July 1, the Fates have not been stingy with you. Endowed with a good mental equipment, with an uncanny ability to recognize opportunity, and with a disposition that is adventurous and courageous, you can—if you so will it—climb the Mountain of Achievement and reach the top. The one element that is liable to interfere with your upward progress is lack of application and meagerness of concentration.

Destiny singled you out for a controlling position in life. You have all the essential qualities of leadership. You possess all the attributes of a charming companionship. If you can so control your susceptibilities as to refuse to allow them to shape your actions, nothing will hold you back. One of the chief dangers is your attractiveness to the opposite sex. This would not be a cause for worry if it were not for the fact that you are particularly sensitive and always respond to this adulatory condition.

You are sparkling and magnetic, and in married life your partner must learn to expect the unexpected. Whilst versatile, you are erratic, and no one who lives with you will have any great feeling of security. You will be a brilliant companion, but an undependable one. Original in your ideas, you may often be tempted to defy conventionality. A humdrum existence will never appeal to you; violent changes are meat and drink to one of your temperament.

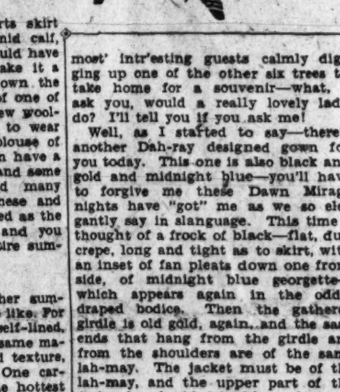
ACHIEVING THE IMPOSSIBLE.

THERE is a tremendous satisfaction at the Contract table in outbidding and outplaying your opponents, and Mr. Charles Lockridge, playing for an unusual result in a Duplicate game in New York City recently, must have much of that glow following the result he achieved on the hand pictured below:

North—Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.



The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
		1♣	Pass
1♠	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♡	Pass	3NT	Pass
Pass	Dbl.	Pass	Pass
Redbl.	Pass	Pass	Pass

I shall not comment in detail on the bidding, except to take Mr. Lockridge's explanation that he and his partner, sitting North and South, respectively, had had unsatisfactory results on two other boards against the partnership against which they were contending. He decided to play for a big swing, and never, at any time during the bidding, indicated that his club suit was rebiddable. South was angling for a Slam, after North opened the bidding, and waited only for a club Rebid to make a Slam try, but when Mr. Lockridge adopted his tactics of concealing strength, he decided that West's Double was based on strength in hearts and spades and so decided to put all in the balance by a Redouble, instead of playing for the normal by raising the club bid.

East opened a diamond, and West, for some reason which he could never satisfactorily explain to himself or to his fellow Bridge players, played the Ten, and Mr. Lockridge thus won the first trick with the Knave and now could see his contract laid down. He proceeded to run down 6 club tricks, which gave West considerable difficulty in discarding.

The final result was that Mr. Lockridge made 12 tricks, and could have made 13 had he cared to risk the finesse in hearts. The total score, 2,320 points, far exceeded the value of the Slam, which should have been bid and made.

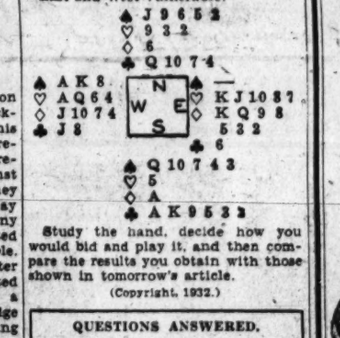
TODAY'S POINTER.

However great the stress placed upon accurate play may be, there is always a tremendous element of luck in the play of the cards. The factor of luck, however, has much more to do with the personal equation than with the cards held.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

East—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

FIGHT ON ARLINGTON INDICTMENTS FAILS

Ball, Duncan and Hallock to Be Arraigned as Court Denies Motions.

An attempt to quash indictments of grand larceny against E. Wade Ball, former county treasurer; William H. Duncan, former county clerk, and F. J. Hallock, former clerk of Arlington County School Board, failed yesterday when their cases were brought before Circuit Court Judge Walter T. McCarthy.

Immediately following the attack on the indictments, attorneys for the three men asked for bills of particulars. The court set July 8 for the return of the bills in the case of Hallock and July 12 for Ball and Duncan. They will be arraigned on these dates also.

The fight against the indictments was on the grounds that they did not clearly specify where the alleged larcenies were committed and that they were not sufficient in law demurrers. Capt. Crandal Mackey, counsel for Ball, told the court that his client had never taken a cent belonging to the county, and that he had been at all times ready to explain anything to the State auditors, but had never been consulted.

Jobless Aid Plan Voted As Kiwanians Adjourn

Detroit, June 30 (A.P.).—The seventeenth annual convention of Kiwanis International stood adjoured today after election of members of the board of trustees and other odds and ends of business had been transacted in the closing session.

A resolution approving a program to aid unemployment in the urban areas by removing families to small rural tracts, where they might become self-supporting, was approved. Kiwanians also were urged to study commercial and industrial conditions and the cost of government with a view to making recommendations to local bodies. The 1933 convention will be held in Los Angeles, Calif.

Fatal Ford Plant Riot Laid to Communists

Detroit, June 30 (A.P.).—The rioting last March 7 at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., in which four men were killed and 20 persons injured, was attributed by the Wayne County grand jury today to Communist agitators.

No indictments were returned, but Prosecutor Harry S. Toy was urged to continue the investigation of Communist leaders "to the end that their criminal purposes may be curtailed and forestalled."

Lancaster Murder Trial Postponed.

Miami, Fla., June 30 (A.P.).—The trial of Capt. W. N. Lancaster, former British army flier, for the murder of Haden Clarke, young author and fiance of Lancaster's flying partner, was postponed today from July 5 to July 26.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

MISS VAUGHN DE LEATH, known to a wide radio public as the "First Lady of the Air," who drove to Washington from New York yesterday for a week of personal appearances at Loew's Fox Theater, beginning today, and held open house at the Willard last night, is a charming and versatile artiste.

In addition to her known achievement as a broadcast favorite—a position she has held, incidentally, since she sang the first song ever put on the air, as a doubtful experiment which proved a happy success—she is a composer and interior decorator of wide repute.

"My Heaven on Earth," Miss De Leath's new signature number, just introduced over the air, is one of her own compositions, written in collaboration with the authors of "Ramona." "Don't You Care"—not to be confused with the explosive Eva Tanguay's "I Don't Care"—written when she was 13, and "In a Little Canoe for Two" are still popular. In fact, Miss De Leath is a member in good standing of the American Society of Composers, to be eligible for which one must have written not less than five popular song hits.

As an interior decorator, Miss De Leath has some reputation in Manhattan, where, years ago before her outstanding success in radio work, she decorated the homes of many prominent New Yorkers. Her own apartment in the swanky Beaux Arts Building has attracted widespread notice as an artistic example of the modernistic tendency in interior decoration. It was designed and executed from her own plans.

But, after all, singing is by no means De Leatht of her accomplishments!

"Scarface," the Howard Hughes production, starring Paul Muni, which opened its local engagement at the Palace with a special midnight performance last night, does not go in, in any large way, for comedy. There is, however, one character who occasions plenty of laughs up to the time he happens upon the receiving end of some submachine-gun fire, when he becomes a figure of infinite pathos.

This serio-comic little fellow is Vincent Barnett, cast in the role of the illiterate private secretary to Signor Tony Camonte, "Scarface," big shot among gangland's most venomous rats.

Vincent Barnett—the man who put the Vince in invincible, when applied to practical jokers—was for 20 years a "professional insulter." He received high fees—as high as $1,000 for a single banquet, according to report—just to attend important lodge meetings, house parties, banquets and other gatherings and insult the prominent guests! After the heckled guest's rancor had subsided it was always explained by the host that it was all a joke and carefully planned as a part of the evening's entertainment.

On one or two occasions this explanation intervened in Vince's behalf the merest split-second ahead of a punch in the nose! So he sought a less precarious profession.

"Scarface" is Mr. Barnett's first adventure in celluloid and bids fair to establish him as an amusing and resourceful light comedian.

At Glen Echo and Seaside Park, down at Chesapeake Beach, elaborate plans have been perfected for the observance of a three-day Fourth of July celebration—tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

Each resort boasts a capacious and refreshing swimming pool, with competent guards in attendance, and a diversity of open air and indoor amusements. Fireworks are an important inclusion in the preparations for the Independence Day holiday.

When they finally decide on its name, the feature following "Scarface" at the Palace will probably be accorded its world premiere here on July 8. It was first called "Washington Whirlpool," then was known as "Washington on Parade" and now has become "Washington Masquerade." By the time it really opens, it no doubt will be dubbed "Cincinnati Charades" or something! Lionel Barrymore is the star, so you can tell it by that.

Yesterday's session of the Democratic convention would have been pretty swell if someone had only remembered to have the band play "Sidewalks of New York" and somebody sing "My Hero"—preferably a little flat on that high note!

Justice Building Contract Awarded

Bid of $7,667,000 From George A. Fuller Firm Is Accepted.

A $7,667,000 contract for construction of the new Department of Justice Building has been awarded to George A. Fuller & Co., the Treasury Department announced.

The building will be located between Ninth and Tenth streets and Constitution and Pennsylvania avenues northwest. Work will begin within two or three months. The foundation has been completed.

The Otis Elevator Co. was low bidder on the elevator contract with a bid of $566,000. The Department of Commerce Building is the only building in the Government program which will be larger than the new Justice structure.

FILM TIME TABLES

Feature pictures are presented on the following schedules at the theaters named:

Palace—"Scarface," at 11:15, a. m., 1:30, 3:25, 5:30, 7:35 and 9:40 p. m.

Ambassador—"Man About Town," at 6:15, 8 and 9:50 p. m.

HAM TELLS AD CLUB OF NEW POWER UNIT

Says Buzzards Point Plant to Compare With Charge of 40,000 Horses.

If 40,000 horses charged down Pennsylvania avenue as fast as they could go, it would be comparable to the power to be harnessed in the new plant of the Potomac Electric Power Co. to be built on Buzzards Point, the Washington Advertising Club was told at a "build for prosperity" luncheon yesterday at the Raleigh.

William F. Ham, president of the company, and of the Washington Railway & Electric Co., the guest of honor, was introduced by John Poole, president of the Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., and told of the history of the development of the companies. The company has grown from a power of 35,000 kilowatts to 350,000, and the new plant will start with 35,000 kilowatts, with a possible capacity of 200,000, Mr. Ham told the club. The power company has realized 12 per cent better business so far this year than last year, he revealed.

In pointing to the power of the new plant as comparable to 40,000 horses going at full tilt down Pennsylvania avenue, Maurice Carty, of New York, chief engineer of the Stone & Webster Corporation, observed that the advantage in the plant having this power is that it can be stopped in a second, if necessary.

More than 100 attended the luncheon. A brief congratulatory talk to Mr. Ham was made by Marcey L. Sperry, new president of the Washington Gas Light Co. J. G. Nettleton, Washington representative of the Pennsylvania railroad, told of the tracks to be laid to the plant.

Mexican Pullman Strike Third Big One in Week

Mexico City, June 30 (A.P.).—Mexico's third strike in a week affecting foreign interests went into effect today when about 100 Pullman employes walked out, depriving the country of sleeping car service.

Pullman offices and cars in the railroad terminals were closed and draped by the red and black strike banner. The strike would not affect employes en route with cars, the announcement said, these cars and employes completing their trips, then joining the strike at the destinations. No progress was reported in the Southern Pacific Railroad strike or the Mexico City street car strike.

Mattern and Griffen Await Flying Weather

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—James Mattern and Bennett Griffen, Army Air Corps Reserve fliers, studied weather maps tonight with the possibility that tomorrow might find them on the first leg of a record-seeking round-the-world flight.

The fliers were prepared to take to the air in their big red, white and blue monoplane as soon as further clearing was noted in the somewhat spotty weather over Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, their first refueling point.

FRIDAY JULY 1, 1932 SPORTS

VINES AND AUSTIN ADVANCE TO WIMBLEDON FINALS

Army Netmen Meet Today For Title

Robinson, Defending Champ, to Play Van Vliet.

Doubles Semifinals to Get Under Way This Morning.

THE singles championship of the United States Army, and a year's possession of the H. C. Sheridan Trophy, will be decided this afternoon at the Army-Navy Country Club, the issue lying between Lieut. Stanley K. Robinson, Army Air Corps, the defending champion, and Maj. Robert C. Van Vliet, Artillery, former champion. The match will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Lieut. Robinson reached the final round yesterday by downing Maj. James A. Dorst, fourth seeded player, in straight sets, 6—3, 6—4, without particularly exerting himself. Maj. Van Vliet was even less merciless, putting out the ranking No. 1 dark horse of the meet, Lieut. Tom Sherburne, 6—4, 6—1.

Challenger Steadier Than Champ.

Today's match brings together an all-court player in Robinson, against a confirmed volleyer and chopstroker, Van Vliet. The challenger is the steadier of the two and a bit the more wily, but Robinson can well hold up his end of competition with drives that he hits right on the nose with long, beautifully swung strokes. Robinson himself is something of a volleyer and he may attempt to take the net away from Van Vliet today in an effort to force the volleying major to play his least-preferred style of game—in the back court.

They both have strong services. The match is scheduled to go three out of five sets, which generates a slight favorite in the younger of the two men, Lieut. Robinson.

Semifinal Doubles Due Today.

Semifinal doubles matches today bring together Maj. Van Vliet and Lieut. Robinson against Lieuts. Lynch and Thatcher, and Maj. Dorst and Lieut. Helms against Capt. Bassett and Lieut. Dave Hedekin. Yesterday Lynch and Thatcher beat Capt. Drake and Lieut. Sherburne, 3—6, 7—5, 9—7, after the losers held a match point at 6—5 and 40—30 in the third set. Hedekin and Bassett won from Lieuts. Morrill and Lewis, 6—3, 6—2. The doubles finals will be played tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Today's doubles start at 9 o'clock.

D. C. Boy, Jr. Netmen In Mid-Atlantic Play

The four finalists in the District junior and boys tennis championship, which was held two weeks ago at Wardman Park, will open net hostilities in the Middle Atlantic junior and boys' meet today on the grass court at the Maryland Country Club.

Tom Moorhead, the local junior champion, is the only one of the four who has played on grass. Kent Boyle, runner-up in the junior tournament; Bob Doyle, boy champion, and Stan Dennison, runner-up to Doyle, complete the local representation.

The winners in the Middle Atlantic will represent this section in the National Boys' and Junior Tournament at Culver City, Ind., later in the year.

MacFayden in First Victory as Yankee

Holds Red Sox, Former Teammates to Ten Hits; Wins 15 to 4.

Boston, June 30 (A.P.).—Danny MacFayden, former Boston hurler, made his first appearance here in a New York Yankee uniform today and pitched his first complete game for the Yanks as New York defeated Boston, 15 to 4.

The bespectacled flinger allowed ten hits, most of them harmless.

Dusek Victim In Rough Bout

Garibaldi Winner as Rivals, Referee, Police Pass Blows.

5,000 See Gory Bout; Stecher Defeats White Feather.

By BOB CONSIDINE.

RELENTLESS Rudy Dusek, who is so tough there was a move afoot to break him up into D street steaks, was ground into a fine hamburger last night, lying prone on the infield at Griffith Stadium, his gnarled features becoming more and more gnarled while Gino Garibaldi battered them with horny fists and 5,000 otherwise sane citizens raised a gigantic and slightly hysterical huzzah.

Dusek was counted out as he crawled out of the mud his perspiration and Mr. Griffith's infield dust had formed, by Referee Cyclone Burns, who intoned the long-delayed "ten" as the bruiser reached one finger on the mat and began hoisting himself aboard.

It was the fourth time the two had gone out of the ring together, in a match which was the most venomously fought here in the last half a decade. The fall that proved fatal to Dusek occurred as he was crawling back through the ropes from another bit of infield playing. Garibaldi raced across the ring, leaped and sank both heels deep into Rudy and Dusek fairly shot from the side of the ring into the dirt. Garibaldi was on him like some electrifying and berserk gorilla.

He pummeled Dusek until Burns reached the count of four and then bounded back into the ring. When Dusek reached the ring again the fireworks began to pop. He protested loudly and shrilly to Referee Burns and summed up his entreaty by pasting the good umpire on that worthy's chin. Then Garibaldi came over to shake hands with Dusek and Dusek turned on him with a beautiful kick to the stomach and a flurry of light right and left hooks, whereupon Garibaldi threw a barrel of bare knuckles, which landed all about Dusek's anatomy and sent a thousand fans storming through police lines to witness the extracarricula cranium crushing.

Best Since Shikat and Steele Met.

Promoter Joe Turner beat his way through the crowd to the ringside and started to crawl into the ring, only to have a cop fail to recognize him and drag him backward by the coattails. Joe turned and whispered something, but the cop kept pulling, so Joe shoved him a good two yards back into the crowd and leaped nimbly into the ring, separating the burly boys. Police escorted the wrestlers to the dressing room, and the crowd gave a monumental cheer for Garibaldi and tremendous boo, mixed with a few drowning cheers, for Dusek.

It was a superb match of wrestling, the best here since Dick Shikat beat Ray Steele. They began slugging at the start. Rudy missed two cradle rocks after ten minutes, and Garibaldi turned his fumbles into good arm strangles. Dusek's arm and hand went as white as Ghandi's sheet was before the depression. Dusek retaliated with an extended scissors and helped this along by slapping Garibaldi's face until blood spurted. When they finally got up both resembled a couple of abattoir employes.

In other matches, pitched proportionately below this in interest, Joe Stecher scissored Chief White Feather in nineteen minutes; Jim McMillan beat Jack Zarnas when they collided in the air on simultaneous tackles, Frank Brunowicz upset Marshall Blackstock in fifteen minutes, and Berto Assirati, who is as supple as an empty hot-water bottle, rendered Jerry Monohan horizontal in five, and lest we forget, one-half minutes.

Nats Tackle Mackmen Today

Brown and Walberg Expected to Stage Mound Duel.

Special to The Washington Post.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—Manager Walter Johnson and his Nationals rested in New York today and arrived here late tonight for a three-games-in-two-days series with the Athletics. A single contest will be played here tomorrow, with Lloyd Brown and George (Rube) Walberg probably being the mound opponents, while the teams will meet in a double-header on Saturday. The Nat leader intimated tonight that he will call on his new comers, Dick Coffman and Al Thomas, for slab duty Saturday, while Tony Freitas and George Earnshaw are expected to toil on the hill for the locals.

Although beaten in two games in New York, Manager Johnson tried not to show any signs of discouragement when he arrived here. He still claims that his team is better than it has shown and predicts that it will not "play dead" in the games here.

Grove Unlikely to Face Nats.

With Lefty Bob Grove, ace of the Mackian mound staff, still out because of injuries, Washington's job will be a little easier than otherwise, but the team will have to show more than it has in recent games to gain the edge in the three games here. In New York, the Nats received fair pitching but failed to hit consistently and on other occasions, they have hit well but have had poor pitching. Add to this inconsistency the fact that reports from the "Big Town" are to the effect that the team has lost some of its zip and fight and it can be seen that Skipper Johnson has a job on his hands tinkering with his machine so that it again will hit on all cylinders.

Following Saturday's double-header here, the Nats and Mackmen go to Washington for a Sabbath encounter and then the Yankees show up there for an Independence Day twin-bill on Monday. When the Nats left town last Monday, they set six victories in these eight games as their goal. They may make it, but it means that they must win six in a row—and that's a job for any team against the Yankees and Philadelphians.

Invasion by West Facing Team.

After Monday's holiday doubleheader in Washington comes a day of rest and then an invasion of the Western teams, which show up in the following order: Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis and Detroit. Four games are scheduled with each, with the Indians and Tigers playing an extra game due to a postponement on their last visit.

7th Straight Victory for Pirates

League Leaders Beat Cardinals in 9-6 Slugfest.

Cubs Shut Out Reds; Giants and Phils Also Triumph.

PITTSBURGH'S Pirates maintained their half-game advantage over the Chicago Cubs by downing the St. Louis Cardinals, 9 to 6, dropping the Cards to fifth place. The Pirates scored three runs in the eighth inning to break a deadlock and win. Pie Traynor led the Pirates at bat with four singles. It was the Bucs' seventh straight.

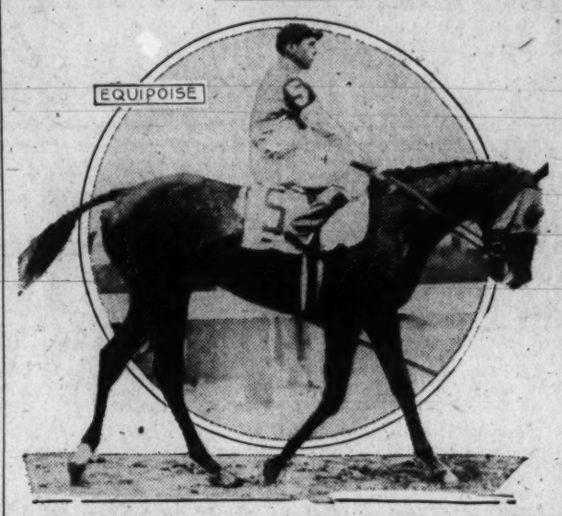
Equipoise, Workman Up, Sets World Mark for Mile

Whitney Four-Year-Old Runs Distance in 1:34 2-5 at Arlington to Lower Record Made by Jack High.



ARLINGTON PARK, Ill., June 30 (A.P.).—Shattering the world's record for 1 mile by two-fifths of a second, C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, the mighty train of the turf, today ran the distance in 1:34 2-5 under 128 pounds at Arlington Park.

The time bettered Jack High's competitive record of 1:35, made under the light weight of 110 pounds at Belmont Park two years ago and lowered the mark of 1:34 4-5, made against time and with the same weight by the famous Kentucky Derby winner Behave Yourself at Saratoga in 1918.

Renewing his rivalry with George D. Widener's Jamestown, champion juvenile of 1930, Equipoise, with Sonny Workman in the saddle, led the son of St. James to the wire two lengths with Spanish Play third and last in the $1,500 event, a trial race for $20,0000 Stars and Stripes Handicap, July 4.

Jamestown and Equipoise ruled the juveniles two years ago, Jamestown winning the championship title and Equipoise earning the most money. They both went wrong early in last year's campaign. Today's victory was Equipoise's fifth successful triumph as a 4-year-old and Jamestown's second, unsuccessful start in four days. The Whitney speedster paid the surprisingly good price of $3.80 fo $2.

Equipoise followed Jamestown for three-quarters, then Workman moved him into the lead under a burst of speed and easily kept control the rest of the way. He won eased up.

LANDERS AND SCHWARTZ MATCHED

Rivals Battle Again Wednesday in Twin City Feature.

A FISTIC Natural with a capital N will be sprung at Twin City Arena next Wednesday night when Benny Schwartz, Goldie Ahearn's two-fisted young bantamweight, mixes the fur with Billy Landers, Norfolk buzz-saw, whose slashing ring tactics made him a perennial favorite last summer at Fort Washington.

It will be the second time the two have met in four months. Landers hacked out a decision in their last go, at Portner's Arena in Alexandria, and the decision was roundly disputed. Schwartz won by a mile in the early rounds and only Landers' game comeback in the last three rounds saved him and the fight.

Schwartz recently was victorious over Antol Kocsis and insisted that Matchmaker Charlie Cornell schedule him with Landers with a view to erasing the Portner win of the Norfolk gob.

Bobby Burns, Baltimore lightweight who throws as many fists as any fighter usually seen in this neighborhood, meets Tootsie Bashara in the semifinal match, at eight rounds.

Efforts are being made to line up a strong list of supplementary brawls.

Browns Are Victors, 7-6, Over White Sox

St. Louis, June 30 (A.P.).—A six-run rally in the fourth, opened with a homer by Elias Funk, tied the Chicago White Sox with the St. Louis Browns, who had amassed an early lead, but the Browns added a run in their half of the frame to give them a 7-to-6 victory today. Kimsey, allowing only five safeties in the last six innings, guarded this narrow lead for the Browns. St. Louis pounded Frazier, who failed to last one inning.

HUMPHREYS POLOISTS BEATEN

Bow to Third Cavalry Greens, 7-6, in Thriller.

By RICHARD S. TENNYSON.

THE Third Cavalry Greens yesterday downed the Fort Humphreys polo four in as thrilling a match as has yet been played in this year's Argentine Cup elimination tournament, 7 to 6. The Engineers led for most of the way, but lost out in a hectic final period.

Starting with a one-goal handicap conceded by Cavalry, the Humphreys squad added one more in the first period when Buckley scored from a scramble in front of the Fort Myer goal. Cavalry broke in the scoring column in the second when Capt. Ligon tallied from 40 yards out.

Greens Take Lead In Third.

The victors went into the lead in the third on goals by Ligon and Grener. The former scored after taking the sphere away from a Humphreys rider and the latter dribbled three-fourths the length of the field before reaching a possible scoring point.

In the fourth, the Fort Humphreys four equalized the score on a sensational shot by Lieut. Reinhardt, and Cox put the Engineers in the lead in the fifth with a loft from 20 yards out.

The sixth and final period gave the fans thrills aplenty. The score was tied twice, one of the ponies kicked a goal, and six goals in all were scored before the period ended. Cavalry tallied four times in this mad scramble and Humphreys twice. Capt. Ligon and Capt. Palmer were the outstanding Cavalry players while Maj. McCallum and Capt. Buckley were outstanding in the Engineers' lineup.

Today the Sixteenth Field Artillery will play the Third Cavalry Yellows from Fort Myer. The Fort Myer contingent will have to concede a four-goal handicap to the Artillerymen. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

American Ace Plays Briton For Title

Routs Crawford, of Australia, Easily, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs Meet Today for Crown.

By FRANK N. KING
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

WIMBLEDON, England, June 30 (A.P.).—Ellsworth Vines, jr., American champion, and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, England's first ranking player today won their way to the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships and on Saturday will play the first Anglo-American final in the 55 years of the tournament.

Vines ran over Jack Crawford, Australia's Davis Cup star, 6—2, 6—1, 6—3, to win his finals berth and Austin had an almost equally easy match with Jiro Satoh,

NOTED FIELD OPENS PLAY FOR D. C. NET TITLE TOMORROW

Eddie Jacobs Seeks Local Crown

Dolf Muehleisen Also Seen as Threat for Yeoman's Title.

Mangan and Mitchell in Tourney; Entries Close Tonight.

ENTRIES for the forty-fifth annual and by far the most promising District of Columbia tennis championship, will close tonight at the office of William O. Shreve, secretary-treasurer of the Washington Tennis Association, 1019 Fifteenth street northwest.

Play commences tomorrow afternoon at Wardman Park Hotel with netmen of all sizes, shapes and nationalities stroking their ways toward the goal which is now held by Eddie Yeomans, who will not defend his title.

Leading the pack of players entered are Dolf Muehleisen, formerly a nationally ranked college player and holder of many Pacific Coast titles, and Eddie Jacobs, District champion in 1926, present Wardman champion and sixteenth ranking player in the country. Jacobs has been rated No. 1 in the middle Atlantic section for several years.

Service Players Challenge.

Dooly Mitchell, city of Washington champion; Tom Mangan, Bud Markey and a host of other noted players will be in the running. Among the out-of-town stars are Lieut. Bill McCue and Ensign Jimmy Farrin, Navy Leech Cup players, and far from being overlooked, will be the entry of Lieut. Stanley K. Robinson, Army tennis champion, who is defending his title today against Maj. Robert C. Van Vliet.

Muehleisen and Jacobs met in the quarter-final round of the 1929 intercollegiate championships, and Muehleisen won in straight sets.

Joe Olhausen, Frank Shores, Gilbert Hunt, Tony Latona, Bob Considine, Gene Hermann, Dick Mason, Pat Deck and numberless lesser-known players will make up the bulk of the tournament.

Doubles will start either Sunday afternoon or on the holiday.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

We told you Asbestos knew a sleeper that was shipped from New York to Chicago for a killing yesterday and gave it to you in code and it won. He sure knew something. A c a jou also won, and the bank roll went up $3. It is now $50.26.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, JUNE 30.

All the cheering you heard today was not from me, but the Democratic convention. True, there was more than a ripple of applause when Equipoise hung up a world's record. Then Volette had to lower a track record to beat our Wise Ann, and even Tred Avon smashed a track record, but I could only pick two winners, so could not enthuse.

Bill phoned over tonight that he would be back on the job tomorrow and Bill is a bear when he gets going. Here's hoping that nothing detains him and that he gets off running and never stops. Yours, MIKE.

FIRST RACE—A poor bunch of 2-year-olds are carded for the opening scramble. SIR CHRISTOPHER, SERENABIT and DANDELION seem the best.

SECOND RACE—Another grab-bag affair, with RENEWED, SAD KNIGHT and SUBTLETY selected in the order named.

THIRD RACE—I am selecting MR. JOE with Bobby Jones up to defeat RAPSCALLION and Sonny Workman with OLD HILLSIDE to show.

FOURTH RACE—I am going right back to MISS MARR to win this heat with VOLTA MAID and SUNMELUS to follow.

FIFTH RACE—It has been many a day since LADY BROADCAST "got in" with only 99 pounds up. Should she get away well it should be all over but the shouting. PRINCE ATHELING and KNIGHT'S CALL for what's left.

SIXTH RACE — FINNIC, heavily backed his last outing, failed to make good. I am giving him one more chance. TONY JOE and BUB McFARLAND should chase him home.

SEVENTH RACE—The boy did everything but fall off LADRONE the other day and I am selecting him to win the nightcap with ROLLING SEA and SANTON for the other two positions.

STOCKS AGAIN YIELD TO LIQUIDATING RUSH

Industrials Set New Lows, With Steel and Rails Joining Decline.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—The stock market's old complaint—liquidation in special issues—returned today and early gains impelled by a lower Bank of England discount rate and the Democrats' repeal plank were more than canceled.

A few shares which appealed to speculative imaginations as a result of the antiprohibition decision at Chicago rallied from a fraction to about 2 points in the first half hour, tugging the general list after them.

But there was little enthusiasm behind this move and when selling developed in Dupont, National Biscuit, Union Pacific, Procter & Gamble and Air Reduction resistance proved rather slender all around.

Losses in Stocks.

Losses by stocks just enumerated ran from 1 to more than 3 points. General Motors was soggy and in new low ground, although its decline was small. U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Case, North American Santa Fe, New York Central and General Electric averaged scarcely half a point.

Thinly traded Homestake Mining dropped nearly 6. American Tobacco B, Drug, International Shoe and Borden were off a point or more. National Distillers, Owens Glass and Crown Cork faded quickly as soon as interest in that specialized group began to wane.

The market rounded out the first half year quietly, for transactions totaled only 644,995 shares. Doubtless dividend uncertainties had something to do with the weakness of stocks which showed the largest declines, but whether selling representedd liquidation or professional offerings was not clear. The industrial average went into new low ground for the second time this week.

Bank Rate Cut.

The cut in the British Central Bank rate indicated that England is to carry on her easy money program, partly as a means of helping with loan conversions. There was no change in the local reserve rate, which is now half of 1 per cent above that of London.

Reserve System purchases of Government securities increased $71,000,000 in the past week, considerably larger than in recent weeks, but buying was doubtless stimulated by the rise of $144,000,000 in currency circulation. This gain, although partly seasonal, seemed to reflect bank troubles in the Chicago district.

New York City member banks expanded loans and investments by $72,000,000, increasing the former $8,000,000 net through larger "all other" loans, the security account was reduced $24,000,000. There was a rise of $24,000,000 in holdings of other than Government securities.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London.—The reduction in the bank rate, together with the more cheerful Paris bourse and hopes of a favorable outcome at Lausanne caused a smart rise in gilt-edged securities and German bonds. Other sections also hardened. Conversion bonds were strong. Profit-taking later caused slight reactions, but good net gains were recorded and the closing was firm.

Paris.—Belief that a better turn could take place at the Lausanne conference spurred the bourse to new activity. Month-end liquidation also stimulated trading. Rentes were in good demand, while electric shares and bank issues registered gains. The close was firm.

Berlin—The buying movement continued on the boerse today and the closing was firm.

Bank of England Cuts Rate to Two Per Cent

London, June 30 (A.F.).—The Bank of England today reduced its discount rate from 2½ to 2 per cent. The bank rate was reduced on May 12 from 3 to 2½ per cent. On April 21 the rate was lowered from 3½ to 3 per cent.

The reduction on May 12 was greeted with cheers in the stock exchange and gains were immediately reported on securities of good yield.

The bank rate stood at 6 per cent from the time Great Britain went off the gold standard last fall until February 18, when a series of cuts was started which in little more than four months has brought the rate down 4 per cent. Today's reduction brings the rate to the lowest point since 1897, when it once before reached 2 per cent.

Number of advances	110	153
Number of declines	223	163
Stocks unchanged	148	148

Stocks.

Liquidation again sends stocks down 1 to 3 points, with some new lows in industrials. Dividend uncertainties blamed for market weakness.

Bonds.

Irregular trading, verging on dullness, resulted in moderate declines on general list. The average loss was one-tenth of a point. Federals come back substantially after previous slump. Germans also rally.

Curb.

Scattered selling gave curb market a ragged appearance. The turnover of 90,000 shares was accomplished in quiet trading. Oils maintained recent improvement. Industrials were neglected.

Wheat.

Large domestic crop outlook discouraged bulls and some losses resulted. Sales recorded three-eighths off to three-eighths up. Crop conditions in France and Germany reported favorable.

Cotton.

Crop menaces and other factors sent prices up 24 points on July contracts. Continental and Bombay buying are features at Liverpool.

MONEY FOUND READY FOR BUILDING NEEDS

Bankers and Business Men Hold Second Meeting in Survey of Trade.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Plenty of money is available for sound local building projects, discussion at the second meeting of the District of Columbia unit of the banking and industrial committee of the Fifth Federal Reserve District, yesterday, revealed.

At the group's conference at Riggs National Bank, attended by 23 of the city's foremost bankers, business men and industrialists, it was announced that there had been practically no constriction with regard to availability of credit for substantial constructional operations.

Report on a survey relative to new residential building on hand indicated a normal supply, there being 532 new unsold houses at present, as compared with 887 at this time last year and 903 in 1930. To determine the adequacy of credit for building operations, the committee's survey included 25 representative firms. The house survey was conducted by a subcommittee headed by Ben. T. Webster.

Because of rumors of unreasonable demands for curtailments, appointment of a committee to investigate methods now used in the handling of real estate loans was authorized. While the committee did not agree that this condition existed generally, nevertheless, because of rumors regarding a few specific instances, its members thought it best to investigate the entire situation. Robert V. Fleming was elected chairman of the local committee and will name a vice chairman later.

Continuing more sharply the downward trend of recent months, net telephone operating revenues of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. for May again fell below those for the corresponding month of 1931. Net revenues for May this year were $80,601 less than for the same month last year, according to the report of operations just filed with the Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia.

For the third consecutive month, net telephone revenues of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., of Baltimore City, fell below those for the corresponding month of 1931, net revenues for May being $58,636 less than for May of last year, according to the report of operations just filed with the Maryland Public Service Commission.

RESERVE BANK ADDS $59,000,000 CREDIT

Money Circulation Boosted by $144,000,000; Gold Up $3,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

The daily average volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding during the week ended June 29 was reported by the Federal Reserve Board as $2,354,000,000, an increase of $59,000,000 compared with the preceding week and $1,400,000,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

On June 29 total Reserve Bank credit amounted to $2,346,000,000, an increase of $58,000,000 for week. This gain corresponds with one of $144,000,000 in money in circulation. It was offset in part by decrease of $32,000,000 in member bank reserve balances, and $9,000,000 in unexpended capital funds and member deposits, &c., and increases of $41,000,000 in Treasury currency adjusted, and $3,000,000 in monetary gold stock.

Holdings of discounted bills increased $6,000,000 at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and decreased $13,000,000 at San Francisco, $5,000,000 at Atlanta and $18,000,000 at all Federal Reserve banks combined. The system's holdings of bills bought in open market increased $10,000,000, of United States Treasury notes, $43,000,000, of Treasury certificates and bills, $22,000,000, and of United States bonds, $6,000,000.

BANKS PLAN DRIVES TO REVIVE BUSINESS

Nation-Wide Aid to Credits Is on Program; Young Will Head Group.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—The industrial and bankers committee of the New York Federal Reserve district is expected to announce shortly the members of a group which it has selected to captain the committee's new Nation-wide drive to stimulate credit, trade and employment.

The committee, which is headed by Owen D. Young, announced early this week its latest effort to bring together the banker with surplus money and the business man with surplus goods in a joint undertaking to help industry. In effect, the new plan merely provides a more efficient way, than usually employed, in financing the buyer of goods.

The program calls for wider use of acceptances—a form of commercial credit obligation which is now little known to the layman, but is believed by some outstanding industrialists to contain a patent stimulus toward reviving industry.

The trade acceptance is a draft drawn by a seller of goods on the buyer. The buyer indorses or "accepts" this draft and returns it to the seller. When the seller indorses it, both parties to the transaction are legally bound to a contract to pay the amount stipulated in the acceptance when it comes due.

The acceptance can then be taken to a bank which will buy it from the drawer of the instrument. As soon as the drawer gets his money from the banker, he is then able without tying up his own money to finance similar sales of his goods to other buyers.

Because they are indorsed by two parties of good credit rating, trade acceptances are recognized as a prime security. Bankers who are hesitant about opening new lines of credit to individuals are usually willing buyers of acceptances.

Group May Curb Rail Competition

Western Lines Consider Naming Committee to Regulate Traffic.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Appointment of a commission with broad powers to eliminate destructive competition and effect new measures for economies in operation is planned by leading Western railroads, it was disclosed today.

At the head of the group would be an official with the title of commissioner, whose decisions would govern the resolutions of the body. Each railroad represented in the plan would elect a director to the commission, according to the program.

Rail executives who have been asked to serve on the commission are Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific, and John J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

The plan of the Western lines is entirely apart from the recently inaugurated move by all the carriers to devise means for the improvement of their condition by changes to be made both within and outside their own industry.

Insull's Company Ordered to Quit

Utilities Investments Told to Liquidate to Pay Off Creditors.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley said today his order of yesterday instructing receivers of the Insull Utilities Investments, Inc., to liquidate the firm did not require hasty action.

"There will be no undue sacrifice of the assets of the company," he said.

The court said his main purpose was to relieve the company of franchise and other taxes by making it a matter of record that it was no longer a "going" concern. He indicated a similar order would be issued today for the Corporation Securities Co. of Chicago, another Insull stockholding concern, for which the same rule would apply.

Cleveland Bank to Lend For Building of Homes

Cleveland, June 30 (A.P.).—J. R. Kraus, chairman of the board of the Union Trust Co., today announced the bank is prepared to make construction loans to home builders who are its customers. This is in line with the Government's efforts to put bank credit to work to stimulate business and employment.

General improvement in credit conditions since the first of the year, and the belief that the time is favorable for at least a moderate recovery in residential construction led to the bank's decision, a statement said.

Bank Closing Average 28.35 Per Cent Lower

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—The weekly average of bank closings for June, 1932, stands 28.35 per cent under June, 1931, Rand-McNally Co. reported tonight. This is in spite of 59 closings during the week ended today.

A decrease of 51.44 per cent in closings for the first six months of 1932 is shown as compared with the previous six months.

In the matter of George Makrianis and Eva Kokinos, co-partners, trading as the "Washington Luncheonette," and as individuals, No. 2677. In Bankruptcy. To the creditors of George Makrianis and Eva Kokinos, copartners trading as the "Washington Luncheonette" and as individuals, of the District of Columbia: Notice is hereby given that on the 24th day of June, A. D. 1932, the said George Makrianis and Eva Kokinos, co-partners trading as the "Washington Luncheonette" and as individuals, were adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of their creditors will be held at my office in the Investment Building, Fifteenth and K streets northwest, Washington, D. C., on the 11TH DAY OF JULY, 1932, at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. FRED J. EDEN, Referee in Bankruptcy. jy1

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, holding a Bankruptcy Court. In the matter of Peter G. Panopoulos, bankrupt. In Bankruptcy, No. 2658. Notice is hereby given that the above-named bankrupt has filed his petition praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that his creditors and other persons in interest are required to enter their appearance in opposition, if any so desire, in the clerk's office of said court, on or before the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1932. FRED J. EDEN, Referee in Bankruptcy. jy1

PROPOSALS

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., until 10 o'clock a. m., JULY 5, 1932, for furnishing thread milling machines, motor-generator sets, to the Navy Yard, Washington, D. C. Apply for proposals to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. J. J. CHEATHAM, Paymaster General of the Navy. jn24 jy1

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF the Supervising Architect, Washington, D. C., June 28, 1932.—Sealed bids, in duplicate, subject to the conditions contained herein, will be publicly opened in this office at 3 o'clock p. m., July 13, 1932, for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for the field inspection of structural steel work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture Extensible Building at Washington, D. C. Each bid must be accompanied by a statement of qualifications in detail of the bidder. The right is reserved to reject any bid where an investigation or the evidence submitted by such bidder does not satisfy the contracting officer that such bidder is qualified to carry out properly the terms of the contract. In awarding a contract, consideration will not be given to bidders who have not completed within the last five years at least one building comparable with the project for which bid is submitted. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond in the amount of two thousand ($2,000) dollars. Specifications may be obtained from this office in the discretion of the supervising architect. JAS. A. WETMORE, Acting Supervising Architect. jy1

AUCTION SALES

TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1932—
THOS. J. OWEN & SON, Auctioneers.
1451 Eye Street Northwest.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE, BEING A TWO-STORY BRICK DWELLING, CONTAINING SIX ROOMS AND BATH, KNOWN AS 641 GIRARD STREET NORTHEAST.

By virtue of a certain deed of trust recorded in Liber No. 6041, folio 121, of the land records of the District of Columbia, and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned will sell at public auction, in front of the premises on TUESDAY, JULY FIFTH, 1932, AT THREE O'CLOCK P. M., the following described land and premises situate in the District of Columbia, and being lot numbered Sixty-five (65) in Ethel M. Rutty's subdivision of lots in block numbered Eleven (11) "Metropolis View," as per plat recorded in Liber No. 78, folio 127, of the records of the office of the Surveyor for the District of Columbia; said block numbered Eleven (11) being now known for purposes of assessment and taxation as square numbered Thirty-six Hundred and Forty-one (3641), upon the following terms:

TERMS OF SALE: Said property is subject to a deed of trust securing an indebtedness of $4,000 and will be sold subject to said deed of trust indebtedness, all cash over and above said deed of trust, interest and taxes to be paid or adjusted to date of sale. A deposit of $250 will be required at the time of sale. All conveyancing, recording, &c., at the cost of purchaser. Good title or no sale. Terms of sale to be complied with within thirty (30) days from day of sale, otherwise deposit will be forfeited and property resold at risk and cost of defaulting purchaser after five (5) days advertisement of such resale in some newspaper published in Washington, D. C.

AUCTION SALES

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1932—
ADAM A. WESCHLER & SON, Auctioneers.

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE, CONSISTING OF THREE-STORY BRICK DWELLING WITH STORE ON FIRST FLOOR, LOCATED AT 461 H STREET NORTHWEST.

By virtue of a certain deed of trust duly recorded, in liber No. 6483, folio 161, et seq., of the land records of the District of Columbia, and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale by public auction, in front of the premises, on TUESDAY, JULY TWENTY-EIGHTH, 1932, AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M., the following described land and premises, situate in the District of Columbia, to-wit: Part of original lot numbered fifteen (15) in square numbered five hundred seventeen (517), described as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of said lot, running thence west on H street 18 feet, thence north 22 feet, thence west 1 foot, thence north 66 feet to an alley, thence east 16 feet to the east line of said lot, thence south 100 feet to the beginning, with the perpetual right of ingress and egress through an alley 3 feet wide opening on H street immediately west of and adjoining west line of said property with right to build over said alley as granted in deed from Thomas L. Noyes et al. to Augustus Davis, dated February 7th, 1868, and recorded in liber F. M. H., at folio 200.

TERMS OF SALE: The above property will be sold subject to a prior deed of trust for $5,000, at 6% due June 6, 1933; balance all cash over trust. A deposit of $200 required at purchaser at time of sale. All conveyancing, recording, revenue stamps and notarial fees at cost of purchaser. Terms of sale to be complied with within thirty days from day of sale, otherwise the trustees reserve the right to resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, after five days advertisement of such resale in some newspaper published in the City of Washington, D. C.

Group May Curb Rail Competition

Western Lines Consider Naming Committee to Regulate Traffic.

New York, June 30 (A.P.).—Appointment of a commission with broad powers to eliminate destructive competition and effect new measures for economies in operation is planned by leading Western railroads, it was disclosed today.

At the head of the group would be an official with the title of commissioner, whose decisions would govern the resolutions of the body. Each railroad represented in the plan would elect a director to the commission, according to the program.

Rail executives who have been asked to serve on the commission are Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific, and John J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

The plan of the Western lines is entirely apart from the recently inaugurated move by all the carriers to devise means for the improvement of their condition by changes to be made both within and outside their own industry.

Insull's Company Ordered to Quit

Utilities Investments Told to Liquidate to Pay Off Creditors.

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley said today his order of yesterday instructing receivers of the Insull Utilities Investments, Inc., to liquidate the firm did not require hasty action.

"There will be no undue sacrifice of the assets of the company," he said.

The court said his main purpose was to relieve the company of franchise and other taxes by making it a matter of record that it was no longer a "going" concern. He indicated a similar order would be issued today for the Corporation Securities Co. of Chicago, another Insull stockholding concern, for which the same rule would apply.

Cleveland Bank to Lend For Building of Homes

Cleveland, June 30 (A.P.).—J. R. Kraus, chairman of the board of the Union Trust Co., today announced the bank is prepared to make construction loans to home builders who are its customers. This is in line with the Government's efforts to put bank credit to work to stimulate business and employment.

General improvement in credit conditions since the first of the year, and the belief that the time is favorable for at least a moderate recovery in residential construction led to the bank's decision, a statement said.

Bank Closing Average 28.35 Per Cent Lower

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.).—The weekly average of bank closings for June, 1932, stands 28.35 per cent under June, 1931, Rand-McNally Co. reported tonight. This is in spite of 59 closings during the week ended today.

A decrease of 51.44 per cent in closings for the first six months of 1932 is shown as compared with the previous six months.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF the Supervising Architect, Washington, D. C., June 28, 1932.—Sealed bids, in duplicate, subject to the conditions contained herein, will be publicly opened in this office at 3 p. m., JULY 13, 1932, for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for the field inspection of structural steel work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture Extensible Building at Washington, D. C. Each bid must be accompanied by a statement of qualifications in detail of the bidder. The right is reserved to reject any bid where an investigation or the evidence submitted by such bidder does not satisfy the contracting officer that such bidder is qualified to carry out properly the terms of the contract. In awarding a contract, consideration will not be given to bidders who have not inspected within the last five years at least one building comparable with the project for which the bid is submitted. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond in the amount of two thousand ($2,000) dollars. Specifications may be obtained from this office in the discretion of the supervising architect. JAS. A. WETMORE, Acting Supervising Architect. jy1

BARNARD EXEMPTED FROM SAVING EDICT

Head of Penal Institutions Excused From Retirement by Hoover Order.

Capt. Morris M. Barnard, general superintendent of District penal institutions, last night was exempted from the retirement provision of the general economy act by an executive order signed by President Hoover after the District Commissioners had asked that an exception be made in his case. Francis A. Sebring, clerk of Police Court, was given an extension until August 1.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, wrote to the Civil Service Commission in behalf of an extension for Capt. Barnard, whose services, he declared, are almost indispensable at this time.

Capt. Barnard has been in charge of the District penal institutions for the past nine years. These are the reformatory at Lorton, Va.; the workhouse at Occoquan, Va., and the District Jail. He has achieved a distinctive reputation for his handling of prisoners without cells or walls at the reformatory farm.

36 to Be Retired.

The 36 District employes whose services will terminate today under the provision that all who have reached the age of 70 and have had at least 15 years of service must be retired are:

James C. Simpson, superintendent of the fire alarm system; Monroe W. Richmond, laborer, trees and parkings; Gustav W. Larson, mechanic, department of vehicles and traffic; Alexander F. Hicks, watchma. playgrounds; George McC. Myers, watchman, militia; Lemuel O. Fletcher, watchman and laborer, militia; Charles T. Dawes, servant, Home for Aged and Infirm; William E. Jones, cabinetmaker, District Building; Julia H. Laskey, chief of cafalogue department, public library; Elton H. Jackson, janitor, public library.

Repair shop: Charles J. Ortlip, grader foreman; William F. Brooks, carpenter; William B. Linkins, plasterer.

Others Affected by Order.

Sewer department: Archibald Robinson, foreman; Alfred Smallwood, skilled laborer; John H. Thompson, skilled laborer.

John H. Madara, overseer, reformatory; Louis Lombard, orchardist, workhouse.

Refuse division: William N. Martin, mechanic, and Philip Minor, Noah J. Shields, James E. Bates, Turner B. Williams, Charles R. Ricketts, all laborers.

Highway department: Edward G. Emack, assistant engineer; Lee R. Grabill, assistant engineer; Darius Gaskins, overseer; Anderson Smith, laborer; John Sayles, skilled laborer; James A. Somervell, watchman; Frank Gant, laborer.

Water department: Aldridge T. Lewis, inspector; Thomas T. Houston, clerk; Thomas P. Quinn, laborer; Thomas B. Washington, skilled laborer; Henry Galles, submechanic; John W. Dyson, laborer.

Three Marines Retired In Colorful Ceremonies

After 30 years' service, three marines, a colonel and two sergeants, were retired yesterday at colorful ceremonies at the navy yard and in the Navy Building.

Staff Sergt. Burton L. Garlock was honored at a ceremony on the parade ground at the navy yard, while Col. Julius S. Turrill and Staff Sergt. John McDonald were retired with ceremonies in the Navy Building.

Maj. Gen. Ben H. Fuller, commandant of the Marine Corps, commended Sergt. Garlock on his long and honorable service. At the navy yard, a detail of marines passed in review before Admiral Henry V. Butler, commandant of the yard; Col. John C. Beaumont, in charge of the Marine Barracks, and Capt. Lemuel Haslup, commander of the marine detail.

Lieut. W. M. MacDonald Retired From Police Duty

Lieut. W. M. MacDonald, of the Second Precinct, was retired from the police force yesterday after completing slightly more than 32 years of service. He was well remembered by the men of his command.

The retiring officer is a native of Virginia. He was appointed to the force on December 4, 1900, at the age of 28. For more than 21 years he patrolled a beat in the First Precinct. During the remaining years he has been stationed at various precincts throughout the city, having spent the last six months at the Second Precinct.

After spending several weeks at his home at 510 Varnum street northwest, he plans to travel for a year through the West and in Canada.

Cab Driver Sought After Injuring Boy

Disappears When Told by Police to Wait at Hospital.

A cab driver, who yesterday struck and knocked a 15-year-old boy from his bicycle at Lincoln road and Seaton place northeast, was the object of a police search last night. The driver, Charles Evans, 27, 613 H street northwest, disappeared after the boy was taken to Casualty Hospital.

According to police a taxi driven by Evans struck William Fearson as he was riding his bicycle in the street near his home, 1919 Lincoln road northeast. William was taken to the hospital in an undetermined condition.

Police said they told Evans to wait outside the hospital, but when they returned he was gone. The cab company, for which he said he worked, declared they had no one by that name in their employ. The taxi he was driving, they said, was listed to a man by the name of Smith.

Apartment Robbery Is Reported.

Mrs. Edna Thurber, of 1436 Spring place northwest, reported to police that her apartment was entered yesterday morning and jewelry valued at $31 stolen.

Theft of Auto Parts Is Reported.

Isadore Glasser, proprietor of a second-hand automobile shop at 155 Florida avenue northeast yesterday reported to police that his establishment was entered and various machine parts valued at $127 were stolen.

TWO ARE HONORED UPON RETIREMENT

Above are scenes at two retirement exercises yesterday. Left—Police Lieut. W. M. McDonald, of the Second Precinct, is shown with fellow officers, who presented him with a traveling bag and camera. Left to right, front row—Capt. Hugh Groves, Lieut. McDonald, Mrs. McDonald and Lieut. F. A Varney. Rear row—Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police; Inspector I. L. H. Edwards and Inspector T. H. Bean. The picture on the right shows Col. J. S. Terrill, U. S. M. C., being presented with a silver service by Maj. Gen. Ben Fuller.

WASHINGTON YOUTH DROWNED ON VISIT

Floyd Lamb Dies in Watertown, N. Y., Pool; Companion Endangered.

Floyd O. Lamb, 19, of 169 R street northeast, was drowned yesterday in the swimming pool of the Watertown (N. Y.) Y. M. C. A. while a companion who tried to save him nearly met the same fate.

Unable to swim, Roy T. Algates, 50-year-old Treasury Department clerk, who lives at the same address, tried vainly to get Lamb from the pool. A Y. M. C. A. secretary; O. F. Bugbee, rescued him, and others succeeded in pulling Algates out.

Bugbee gave Lamb artificial respiration until a doctor with oxygen apparatus arrived, but he did not revive. Algates responded to treatment quickly, however.

The two, with 15-year-old Francis Stark, of 919 Fourth street northeast, left Washington Saturday to visit Algates' sister, who lives in Copenhagen, N. Y. They came to the Y. M. C. A. to take a shower.

Stark and Lamb went to the pool. Neither of them could swim. They waded in the shallow end of the pool. Lamb suddenly dived. Stark saw him lying on the bottom and called Algates, who tried to pull him to the surface.

The drowned youth was a plumber. His mother, Mrs. Alice Lamb, lives at Burnley, Md. He lived with his aunt, Mrs. Daisy Coffman, where Algates also boarded. He is survived by two brothers, James and Muriah Lamb.

Stark, a student at Stuart Junior High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Stark.

Personal Property Tax Returns Fall

District Receipts Slump $294,647 During Fiscal Year.

The returns on personal property in the District during the fiscal year which ended last night amounted to $6,131,341.90, or $294,647 less than for the previous year, Tax Assessor William P. Richards revealed yesterday in announcing that the period for filing the new returns begins today and expires at midnight July 31.

A total of 37,000 personal tax returns were made last year. The reduction in revenue, according to Mr. Richards, "was caused by the decrease in the valuation of both tangible and intangible personal property."

The tax assessor explained that the law requires that any resident of the District for three months or more must file a personal tax return or else face the penalty.

Commission Approves Labor Picketing Signs

Adopting the recommendation of Corporation Counsel William W. Bride and overriding the report of the sign committee in one particular, the District Commissioners yesterday adopted an amendment to the sign regulations to permit labor picketing.

Numerous other changes in the regulations, chiefly of a technical nature, were also approved in accordance with the committee's recommendations following a public hearing.

Bogus Collector Is Sought.

The Bagby Co., of Baltimore, manufacturers of furniture, have asked local police to look for and arrest an impostor who has been posing as an agent of the company and collecting deposits from local persons.

Truck Driver Sleeps and Is Robbed.

While asleep in his truck at the Farmers' Market, Eleventh and F streets southwest, Ralph Mead, of Elizabeth City, N. C., had his billfold containing $140 stolen from his pocket early yesterday.

'Friends' Get Man's $2,500 In Bond Ruse

It doesn't pay to get mixed up in foreign entanglements, as John More, 65 years old, of 802 L street, will testify today.

Some weeks ago More, who is of French descent, met two men in Lafayette Park. The trio quickly became friends, as a mutual understanding of the French language was discovered. On numerous occasions the three gathered in the park to carry on long conversations in French. One of his friends was Swiss, More said, while the other was a Belgian.

His new-found companions appeared to be wealthy, More related, and the conversation finally developed into a financial discussion. The Belgian told of an amount of money—$25,000—that he wanted to give to charity. The money, he said, was left him by his deceased wife, who asked that it be given to the poor.

More was offered the position of distributing this cash to worthy causes. He was to receive $10 a day for his work. However, it was thought More ought to post a bond as a gesture of good faith. He agreed to this and yesterday was set as the date for More to take over the charity donation.

The trio again met in Lafayette Park. More had his entire life savings, $2,500, to post as bond. The Belgian appeared, carrying a small strong box. The box, which was said to contain the donation, was handed to More. He in turn gave his savings as security.

Last night More told police the box was empty and his "friends" had disappeared.

District $1.70 Tax Rate Retained for Next Year

Formal action keeping the District tax rate on real and personal property at $1.70 per $100 for the fiscal year 1933, was taken by the commissioners yesterday upon recommendation of Maj. D. J. Donovan, auditor and budget officer. The 1933 appropriations bill forbids the city heads from lowering the rate.

Maj. Donovan told the commissioners he will submit a report early next week giving revised estimates as to the revenues of the District government during 1933 and 1934.

Cook, Deputy Marshal, Retired After 40 Years

Thomas F. Cook, for 40 years a deputy United States marshal, was retired yesterday from his post at the Juvenile Court because of the operation of the new economy bill. He was 70 years old, and his leaving was accompanied by presentation of a traveling bag to him by United States Marshal Edgar Snyder.

Another retirement was recorded in the marshal's office when Maj. Merrill C. Leonard resigned because his active pay and his Army pension would have exceeded $3,000 a year, the limit under the new law.

Four Are Indicted On Gaming Counts

True Bills Returned After Raids; Charges Against 4 Others Ignored.

As a result of two gambling raids last week, four men were indicted by the grand jury yesterday on charges of violations of the gaming laws. Those indicted were Edmund D. Cohen, Leonard F. Hill, Carroll P. Knuckles and George W. Settle.

Cohen and Hill were arrested following a raid at 1229 Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Knuckles and Settle were seized by raiders on the second floor of a building on Thirteenth street northwest.

The grand jury ignored gaming charges against four others, Lawrence R. Barry, George W. Neely, Peter A. Hughes and Clark Wright, colored.

Traffic on Bridge Blocked Hours When Autos Collide

When two automobiles collided in the center of Calvert Street Bridge yesterday afternoon, traffic for several blocks on either side was jammed for several hours. Police termed the tie-up one of the worst in years.

The bridge became blocked with street cars and machines which were unable to move in either direction. Cars lined up on both sides of the bridge and a special detail of police was at a loss to aid the situation.

It started when the machine of Leonard D. Abrahams, 4321 Fessenden street northwest, was in collision with a car operated by James J. King, 3217 Connecticut avenue northwest. Traffic continued to go on the span, and soon the entire bridge was blocked. The accident occurred at 5 o'clock, and it was not until two hours later that the tangle was straightened out.

Cab Driver Is Holdup Victim.

William H. Turner, a cab driver, of 237 K street northeast, yesterday reported to police that he was held up by two armed Negroes and robbed of $4. The men escaped on foot, he said.

'THE FOX' INDICTED QUICKLY BY JURORS

Is Charged With Conspiring With Means to Rob Mrs. McLean.

An indictment charging Norman T. Whitaker, disbarred lawyer, described as "The Fox," with conspiring with Gaston B. Means to steal $104,000 from Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, was quickly returned by the District grand jury yesterday after three witnesses were heard.

Whitaker was described in the indictment by three aliases. They were "Neil Williams," "Neil Williamson," and "No. 19," the latter the designation allegedly placed upon him by Means while the two, according to the indictment, conspired to rob Mrs. McLean.

The indictment sets forth that the conspiracy began March 4 and continued until April 20. Thirteen overt acts were scheduled, among them being meetings with Mrs. McLean in Aiken, S. C., and El Paso, Tex., when he told her, she said, that he was a member of the gang that had kidnaped the Lindbergh baby.

Mrs. McLean met Whitaker through Means, to whom she had gone in an effort to effect the return to its parents of the Lindbergh child. Besides Mrs. McLean, John M. Keith, of the Department of Justice, and Gordon H. Ferris, of the Western Union Co., appeared before the jury.

Whitaker is under arrest in New York. It was said he would be returned to Washington shortly.

9 Men in Capital Complain of Cold

Refrigerated Rooms at Commerce Bureau Held Uncomfortable.

Found—Nine men in Washington who work in a cool room and don't like it.

They are employed in the press-room of the Commerce Department's Coast and Geodetic Survey. Their quarters are refrigerated, and air moisture is sucked out to prevent dampness settling on the high-grade paper used in printing coastal and airway maps. The temperature is kept steadily at 70 degrees.

Prior to January, when they moved to the new quarters, these men worked in rooms with windows closed all the time, where temperature rose to 110 degrees. Edward W. Rwab, foreman of the department, said that the men suffer for hours after leaving the cool rooms in the evening. He is considering a request to officials to increase the temperature at least 10 degrees.

GLENDALE HOSPITAL PROJECT IS STARTED

Mrs. Ernest R. Grant Breaks Ground for Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

On a hilltop near Glendale, Md., Mrs. Ernest R. Grant, president of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, yesterday cut through the sod and lifted the first shovel of earth at the ground-breaking ceremony for the Children's Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Before a group of officials and social workers of Washington, Representative Ernest Gibson, of Vermont, termed the project the "realization of a beautiful dream." He spoke as the first member of Congress who introduced a bill to make the sanatorium possible.

Before she broke the ground, Mrs. Grant, whose efforts on behalf of the project did much to secure its Congressional approval, told of her joy in the event and thanked all those who had been associated with her in the work.

Liefur Magnusson, president of the Monday Evening Club, praised Mrs. Grant's work and read a letter from Senator Capper regretting his inability to be present. Luther A. Reichelderfer, president of the Board of Commissioners, also congratulated the workers on their successful consummation of the endeavor.

Workers who will build the sanatorium were in readiness to begin excavation work with a steam shovel. The sanatorium will be completed in ten months.

Included in those who came to take part or witness the ceremony were Health Officer William C. Fowler, Dr. J. Winthrop Peabody, head of the Tuberculosis Hospital; Dr. Percy Hickling, the Rev. D. E. Wiseman, Walter S. Ufford, Dr. Viola Russell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Street, Mrs. Joseph Saunders and many others.

Man Indicted in Safe Theft of $1,870 Here

William E. Bedell, already under indictment in the District courts, received another setback yesterday when the grand jury indicted him for allegedly participating in the robbery of $1,870 from the safe of the Western Union office on Connecticut avenue June 8.

A safe was taken from the company's office. It was found rifled in Maryland shortly after discovery of the robbery. The technical charge against Bedell is housebreaking and grand larceny.

Paving Is Ordered On Dozen Streets

Added Usage Necessitates Work on Center Strips of Thoroughfares.

The center strips of a dozen streets were ordered paved in order to take care of added traffic yesterday by the District Commissioners upon recommendation of Capt. H. C. Whitehurst, director of highways. They are:

Isherwood street northeast, Fifteenth to Sixteenth streets; Linnean avenue, Ellicott street to end of roadway; Marietta place, Fourth to Fifth street; Oneida place, Fourth to Fifth street; Rockwood parkway, Glenbrook road to end of roadway; Fourth street, Madison to Oglethorpe street; Sixteenth street northeast, Isherwood to D street; Fourteenth street northeast, Michigan avenue to Webster street; Thirteenth street, Linnean avenue southward 325 feet; Thirty-sixth street, Everett to Ellicott street; Thirty-seventh street, Veazy to Warren street; Thirty-eighth street, T street to end of roadway.

The Commissioners also ordered the resurfacing of Eleventh street northeast, East Capitol to D street, by the replacement method at an estimated cost of $37,800.

$45 Watch Stolen From Office.

A wrist watch valued at $45 was stolen from an office on the first floor of the Department of Commerce Building yesterday, according to Mae Leimbach, of 4514 New Hampshire avenue northwest, its owner.

BREAK GROUND FOR SANATORIUM

LOCAL LICENSE BILL IS VOTED BY SENATE

$100,000 More in Levies for District Expected of Gibson Measure.

The Gibson license bill, removing alleged inequalities in existing fees covering the whole field of local business enterprise, and yielding $100,000 more annually in District revenues, was passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the White House.

The measure, which already had passed the House, broadly expands the powers of the Commissioners, giving them authority to change levies so as to remedy injustices, and to impose new license fees on new businesses.

"The purpose of this bill," stated the Senate report, "is to remove existing inequalities and inequities. In a few instances the license is required for regulatory purposes. In other cases, the tax is fixed for use of public space. But for the most part the license taxes imposed are based solely on the cost of the required inspectors."

Meanwhile the House passed the bill authorizing the Washington Gas Light Co. to construct a new gas holder in the vicinity of Thirteenth and Virginia avenue southeast. The measure, protested by Southeast citizens, has been favorably reported by the Senate district committee and is awaiting action in that body.

The Senate passed one additional measure yesterday, authorizing the use of 2½-gallon ice cream containers in the District. The bill already had passed the House.

Representative Vincent L. Palmisano, acting chairman of the House District committee, today will attempt to get action on five additional District bills, including the new firearms regulatory measure and a bill giving the District Commissioners general authority to close useless streets.

Two Autos Strike Man at Crossing

Victim Gets Up From First Accident Only to Receive Second Blow.

Trouble came in doubles to George Webster, colored, yesterday afternoon. He was struck and knocked down by two automobiles as he attempted to cross the street near Seventh and O streets northwest.

As Webster stepped from the curb he was hit by the taxi of Delbert L. Reynolds, 27 years old, of 1460 Clifton street northwest. Reynolds immediately stopped his cab, and as he went to the aid of the injured man, Webster regained his feet and again started across the street.

He had taken only a few steps, however, when he was once more knocked down. According to police, he walked into the path of an oncoming truck driven by M. B. Bocockeen. Webster was taken to Providence Hospital, where his condition was said to be undetermined. He is suffering from a possible fractured skull and a fractured left jaw.

Man Indicted in Chastleton Holdup.

Alleged to be the man who held up and robbed the cashier of the Chastelton Hotel June 7, Albert K. Johnson yesterday was indicted by the grand jury for robbery. He is said to have obtained $422 from the safe while the cashier was held at bay with a gun.

AUSTIN WILL PRESS CAR LINES MERGER

Plans Last Effort to Pass Bill in Senate; Attempts to Agree Fruitless.

One last effort to get action on the traction merger bill will be made before adjournment of Congress, Senator Warren R. Austin (Republican), Vermont, sponsoring the favorable District committee report, announced yesterday.

He said an attempt to reach an agreement off the floor with the minority opposition to the bill, headed by Senator John J. Blaine (Republican), Wisconsin, "had gotten nowhere."

Senator Austin said he had abandoned efforts to get action on the bill under the unanimous consent calendar, where all Senator Blaine has to do is object, and the bill will go over.

"At the propitious time I shall move for consideration of the bill after the calendar hour," he said.

Senator Charles L. McNary, Oregon, assistant Republican leader, said he hoped to find time for Senator Austin to call up the measure, but "could not promise."

Senators Austin and Blaine broke openly in a verbal exchange at a meeting of the Senate District committee Wednesday. Although the merger issue was not up, the clash generally was attributed to tension growing out of their opposing stands on the traction question.

Alleged Auto Thief Captured by Police

Accused of Driving Machine Away and Crashing Into Parked Car.

Arrested last night, as he was allegedly in the act of stealing an automobile on N street near Twelfth street northwest, Frederick Linnwood De Brent, 28 years old, of 707 East Capitol street, is being held at the Second Police Precinct under a charge of investigation.

According to police, De Brent attempted to drive away with a machine owned by Harvey Marmaduke, 1200 N street northwest. The car was parked in front of the Marmaduke home. Mr. Marmaduke heard the engine start and ran from the house in time to see De Brent drive away, he declared.

A short distance away De Brent crashed into a parked car belonging to Carl E. Dowell, 1239 Twelfth street northwest. Two policemen, Privates R. W. Creel and A. L. Embrey, who happed to be passing, arrested De Brent.

Plans Made for Air Show Here in August

Washington will have its first large air show and meet in August, when leading pilots from throughout the country will gather here for four days preceding the start of the Cord Trophy race on August 21.

The Washington Air Derby committee is making arrangements for the events and is cooperating with the National Aeronautic Association, the Aero Club of Washington, the Greater National Capital committee and the George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

Bagpipes to Play as Scot Takes Bride at Castle Club

'Twill be a braw bricht nicht tomorrow night for John MacDonald, a young man of Scotland, even though the rain comes in from the heather and the wind whistles round the eaves of Rossdhu Castle, Club at Braemar Forest.

For John, whose ancestors ranged over crag and cranny, will be wed at the resort tomorrow night to Miss Myrtle Stoltz, who captured his heart as she whirled about the club in her kilts and who consented to his proposal while boating on Wee Loch Lomond.

Bagpipes will give forth their sibilant strains, and they will be piped during the wedding by the Royal Bagpipers. Hearty Scottish songs and dances will be trilled after the wedding ceremony, during which the bride and groom will be garbed in ancient Scottish costume.

Mr. MacDonald was a lieutenant during the war and saw service in the Argonne, where he was badly wounded. He was a patient at Walter Reed Hospital here for three years. He has taken courses in pharmacy at Johns Hopkins University.

SLAYING OF CHILDREN AND SUICIDE BALKED

Screams Attract Neighbors After Mother Ties Rope Around Necks of 3.

Three small children—one a cripple—last night were recovering here along with their mother, who was prevented by the screams of the tots from strangling them to death at the Fredericksburg home of the family.

Overwrought by illness, the children's parent had knotted a rope noose about the neck of each, apparently intending to kill them.

Mrs. James M. Carrigan, the mother, was reported to be resting comfortably last night. She gave no reason for her act and her husband, James Carrigan, a barber, could say only that she has been ill recently.

The children are Stella, 6, a cripple; Nicholas, 5, and Julian, 3. All bore welts on their necks yesterday when a reporter visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Constance Carrigan, brother and sister-in-law of James Carrigan, at 742 Thirteenth street southeast.

When neighbors burst into the Fredericksburg home of the James Carrigans, the children were sinking into unconsciousness with the ropes knotted around their necks. Mrs. Carrigan was lying across the prostrate bodies of her children. She was brought back with the children by Mr. Carrigan, who is employed here.

Two Men Are Indicted In Goodacre Robbery

Robbery charges were placed against Thomas F. White and John McKeen Kirk yesterday in indictments returned by the District grand jury following an investigation into theft of $3,382 from George L. Goodacre, lunch room proprietor, at his home, 7617 Morning Side drive, June 13.

White jumped into Goodacre's car, it was alleged, and snatched a leather case containing the money. He was pursued by Mrs. Goodacre and seized. Kirk was arrested later.

Cab Driver Apparently Is Overcome by Heat

Apparently overcome by the heat, Ernest R. Lent, a taxi driver, of 1626 G street northwest, was found unconscious in his cab yesterday afternoon, at Thirteenth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

He was taken to Emergency Hospital by the Fire Rescue Squad. At at early hour this morning his condition was described as undetermined.

Anglers' Club Names Postmaster Mooney

Postmaster William M. Mooney was reelected president of the Anglers Club of Washington at their annual meeting yesterday at Copley, Md.

Other officers elected were J. H. Cranford, vice president; Lee H. Harris, secretary-treasurer, and John R. Wright and Adam F. Arnold, directors. The club is devoted to the interests of fishing and hunting.
